[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

BRITAIN is worried about the government's "trade disputes—trade unions" bill. It is intended to cripple the power of trade unions, limiting the extent of strike, and so forth. Britain fears the rise of a dangerous class war. Organized labor's ability to establish its own government with Ramsay McDonald as prime minister, shows the power of British labor organization, a power that in this country is scorned by both political parties.

However, Baldwin and others responsible for the British empire, know the empire cannot rule all around the world if power is divided at home. The general strike and long coal strike showed that the empire might be destroyed at home. Those responsible must fight that, even if it does mean "class war."

It is trouble at home, not rebellion abroad, that threatens Great Britain. In China the North now has the advantage over the hitherto-victorious south.

Russia is mobilizing an army to make China respect bolshevism, which it refuses to adopt. "If you won't love me, fear me," says Russia.

When British statesmen read five lines cabled from Lucknow, telling of Mohammedans praying at the tomb of one of their saints, bombed by Hindus, they know that Asia will long be busy with class war. The problem is to control class war at home, in the happy land of aristocratic and capitalistic glory.

OUR forefathers were wise, keeping national government and public schools separate from religion, forbidding government to interfere with religion and forbidding religion to interfere with government or schools.

Those that would force religious control on schools or government, risk the welfare of the religion that interests them.

In Germany there is religious agitation, a clash between Protestant and Catholic churches and the republic based on a religious effort to control the schools.

To let the citizen believe what he likes and teach it to his children, at home and in his own schools, if he chooses to pay for them, to keep religion absolutely apart from government, is the safest way, especially for religion.

TWENTY-FOUR trust companies in New York City earned more than $59,000,000 in one year.

"Great heavens!" exclaims the worried radical, "what chance has the individual, competing with gigantic aggregations of money?"

Well, Henry Ford is an individual, and in that same year his net profit was $90,000,000—$30,000,000 more than all of New York city's trust companies combined.

Then, just as the good radical begins to worry about the individual capitalist, he hears that one great automobile corporation, General Mo-

'BATHTUB' WINE HOST SMILES AS HE LEAVES FOR ATLANTA

New York Theatrical Producer Says He's "Good Loser."

ONE-YEAR TERM

Convicted of Perjury in Connection With Stage Party.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Resigned to the inevitable, Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, surrendered to United States Marshal William Hecht at the federal building today to serve a term of a year and a day in Atlanta penitentiary for perjury.

Ready To "Do Stretch."

Carroll smiled when he came to the marshall's office and told reporters he was "a good loser." He will depart from the Pennsylvania station at 3:40 o'clock this afternoon with 20 other prisoners who are to "do a stretch."

Carroll was accompanied by his two brothers, James and Normal Carroll, and Thomas Rooney, confidential adviser, as he surrendered.

He shook hands cordially with Marshal Hecht. Then they chatted in low tones.

Sought Executive Clemency.

All Carroll would say to newspaperman was:

"Goodbye, boys. I'm a good loser."

Ever since he was convicted, on May 27, 1926, of his perjury in connection with the wine "bathtub" party at his theatre, Carroll has recoiled at the prospect of "doing time." He tried to obtain executive clemency at Washington recently but failed.

Findings of the physicians will not be made public until the grand jury makes its report, probably Wednesday afternoon. Prosecuting Attorney Roy N. Marryman is asking that a first degree murder indictment be returned against Boley.

CHINESE NATIONALISTS' HOLD ON NANKING AND SHANGHAI MENACED

Cantonese Make Frantic Efforts to Strengthen Their Position as Guerillas Launch Attack.

SHARP FIGHTING IS REPORTED

Nanking-Shanghai Train Turned Back at Soochow as Chiang Kai-Sek's Fears Attack.

WASHINGTON, April 12. — The Cantonese retreat apparently has stopped at Nanking, Rear Admiral C. S. Williams, commander of the Asiatic fleet, advised the navy department today.

SHANGHAI, April 12.—Nationalist-controlled China is in a state of ferment today, according to reports reaching here.

With serious fighting in Shanghai during the night between the Nationalist troops and guerilla gunmen of the extremist factions resulting in a number of casualties, word came today that there is internal dissension between the Nationalist left and right wings elsewhere.

Martial law is reported to have been declared in Amoy with Nationalist troops under right wing leaders making many arrests among the extremists.

Looting in Nanking.

Nanking reports state that Nationalists there are engaging in looting and the city is in a high state of excitement, due to the possibility of a northern attack. Northern planes continue to bomb Nanking and Pukow intermittently.

Raids made by the Nationalist troops against extremists in Shanghai last night resulted in the arrest of 200 prominent Communists and the capture of 3,000 rifles and two machine guns.

SHANGHAI, April 12.—Chinese Nationalists today were making frantic efforts to strengthen their position, with every indication that they are fearful of losing Nanking and with the loss of Shanghai to the northerns even within the real of possibilities.

While the northern troops are pounding the Nationalists on the northern banks of the Yangtze, the Nationalists have had difficulties within the Shanghai and have engaged in sharp fighting with guerillas in their attempts to disarm them. Thirteen Chinese are reported dead and probably 100 wounded as the result of the fight between the Nationalists and the guerillas, who have had the support of the general labor union, which the Nationalists now appear to be opposing.

The Nationalists announce that hereafter mass meetings can be held only by permission and military punishment is threatened for offenders.

Reinforcements Stream Northward.

Nationalist reinforcements are still streaming northward and there is a general concentration at Quinsan.

The Nanking-Shanghai train was turned back at Soochow today, passengers reporting the Nationalists there being in a state of nerves, fearful of an impending attack from Sun Chuan Fang in the Pan Yang sector.

Chiang Kai Shek remains at Nanking where troops and warships are concentrated, apparently with the idea of making a desperate stand to prevent the recapture of this city by the northerners.

Wellsville Man's Skull Fractured in Fall Down Stairway

Louis Scapino, 1774 Buckeye avenue, Wellsville, is believed to have suffered a fractured skull when he fell down a flight of stairs at his rooming house at 9 o'clock last evening. Scapino's head is said to have struck the cement floor at the bottom of the stairway. He was brought to the city hospital in the Haugh ambulance. His condition was reported serious.

MAYOR NAMES TWO FIREMEN, ONE PATROLMAN

Jesse C. Terrence and A. T. O'Rourke on Fire Jobs.

CURRAN ON BEAT

Milton Pelley Gets Woods' Place; Extras to be Appointed.

Two new members of the fire department who will assume their duties on April 16, and an additional patrolman who will report on May 16, in keeping with legislation enacted by the city solons, were announced today by Mayor Ralph Benedum.

The firemen are Jesse C. Terrence, Ohio avenue, son of W. J. Terrence, a captain on the department for many years, and Albert T. O'Rourke, Minerva street. O'Rourke has been a substitute for about two years, while Terrence is a former member of the department. The latter was the highest man on the eligibility list.

Milton Pelley was appointed fireman on April 1, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Patrick Woods. He, too, has been substituting for several years.

Propose Motor Equipment.

Clem Dawson and another, to be named, who follow Terrence on the eligibility list, will serve as extra firemen.

Legislation increasing the personnel of the police department, did not contain the emergency clause and does not become effective until May 7. The new member of the police force is Leslie Curran, McKee street, special patrolman for more than a year. His appointment as a regular will not become effective until May 16. Elwyn G. Shenkle will succeed Curran as a special officer.

With these additions the fire department will be increased from 11 to 13 men, while the police force will be made up of a chief, a captain and eight regular patrolmen. Motor equipment will be provided later for the use of one of the regular police officers who will patrol Maplewood, Park Boulevard, Northside and Lincoln Highway sections which were recently annexed.

NAVY DIRIGIBLE ON TEST FLIGHT

NAVAL AIR STATION, LAKEHURST, N. J., April 12.—The navy dirigible Los Angeles left its mooring mast today on its first flight since its winter lay-up.

DESK SERGEANT AUFDERHEIDE 27 YEARS ON "FINEST" JOB

"Aufdy," Dean of Police Force, is Still Smiling.

WORKED "WAGON"

Appointment Was Made by Late Mayor Davidson.

Henry Aufderheide, 67, dean of the East Liverpool police force, yesterday celebrated his 27th anniversary as a member of the city's "finest."

"Aufdy," as he is familiarly known to his hosts of friends, was appointed a patrolman on April 11, 1900, by the late Mayor William C. Davidson, who later became sheriff, "Tim" Thompson was chief of police. Other members of the force were the late Michael Mahoney, and Willis Davidson, now engaged in the porcelain manufacturing business in Chester.

Aufderheide was one of four patrolmen who were added to the force in 1900. The others were the late Charles Gill, justice of the peace for many years; Homer Morris, now of Pittsburgh, and Cliff Dawson who still resides in East Liverpool.

Patrolled Beat 14 Years.

When Aufderheide was assigned to a "beat," patrolmen were paid $2 per day, or $60 per month. They worked 12 hours a day and seven days per week. Now the salary of patrolmen is $150 per month and they work but nine hours a day and six days a week although they are subject to call at any time.

From April 11, 1900, to May 24, 1914, Aufderheide patrolled his "beat." When the motor patrol was installed, he was named desk sergeant. Mahoney, who was the oldest man in point of service at that time, acted as the "rear-end" man for the patrol up until a short time prior to his death in 1918.

Aufderheide and George Toland manned the motor-patrol on 12-hour shifts until the nine-hour day became effective. Now a man is available at the city hall for the patrol from 7 a. m. to midnight.

Served Under Three Chiefs.

Aufderheide has seen service under three police chiefs—"Tim" Thompson, John W. Wyman and the present department head, Hugh J. McDermott, who has been chief since 1916. McDermott joined the force on April 23, 1902 and on May 1, 1912 was appointed captain, the first man to hold this post.

Throughout his 27 years of service, "Aufdy" has been forced to use his club but once, when he "floored" an unruly prisoner who was about to attack Mahoney. He has often used his revolver in his work but never fired to hit the man he sought to capture.

When the police pension fund is made operative here, Aufderheide will be the first man to share under its provisions. The police will bring the United States Marine band to East Liverpool on October 9 for the benefit of a firemen's and police pension fund. A movement is now on foot to obtain councilmanic approval of a tax levy to finance the pension fund for members of the two departments.

PINK LINGERIE DIVORCE CAUSE

CHICAGO, April 12.—The pink lingerie found in Campbell Carrington's New York apartment was either a flannel nightie bought for his mother, or baby clothes for his grandson, he declared on the witness stand at the Carrington divorce trial today.

Campbell is accused by Col. Edward C. Carrington, millionaire book publisher, his brother, of being unduly intimate with Mrs. Carrington. The lingerie in question, it was charged, belonged to her.

COAST GUARD VESSEL OPENS FIRE, WOUNDING ONE MAN ABOARD CRAFT

Surrender of Liquor-laden Boat Off Toledo Occurs When Edward Becker, Claiming to be From Toledo, is Shot Down After Failing to Answer Challenge Signal.

LEO VERMOTT, ALSO FOUND ON SMUGGLER, HELD BY FEDERAL AGENTS

Twenty-seven Cases of Whisky and 100 Cases of Beer are Confiscated From Runner En-route From Emsburg, Canada, to Point Near Sandusky After Chase.

CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—Prospects of successful rum running between Canada and the United States this summer, if such ventures are planned, appeared at low ebb today, following receipt of details here this morning which told of the capture of a rum-runner by the government coast guard boat CG-120, on Lake Erie, about 15 miles off Toledo, last night.

The CG-120 sighted a 35-foot cruiser, federal authorities said, and when no answer was forthcoming to a challenge signal, the coast guard vessel opened fire, wounding Edward Becker, alleged whiskey-runner and bringing immediate surrender of the liquor-laden craft.

Leo Vermott and Becker, the only persons found aboard the smuggler, were brought to Cleveland, where Becker was removed to City hospital. Vermott is held by federal authorities for investigation. Both of the men claim to be from Toledo.

Bullets Speedier Than Craft.

Twenty-seven cases of whiskey and 100 cases of beer were found on board the rum runner, which Vermott declared had "shoved off" from Emsburg, Canada, for a point near Sandusky, Ohio, where they were scheduled to meet a truck.

Captain G. H. Ware, in command of the coast guard ship, asked if the cruiser, carrying the contraband liquor was very speedy, replied: "Yes it was, but our bullets were speedier."

Former Marietta Bank Teller Given Prison Sentence

MARRIETTA, O., April 12.—Arthur W. Fish, 33, former teller of the Central National bank of Marietta, today was sentenced from one to ten years in the Ohio penitentiary when he pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement. The state fixed the shortage at $10,310 but Fish declared his speculations total $7,900.

Fish voluntarily surrendered and confessed his shortage about six weeks ago on the day that the bank directors closed the doors of the institution. Auditors at work in the bank, have not yet completed their investigations at the bank.

The former teller told the court he had used the money in caring for his and his wife's sick relatives.

His wife and two small children were not in court when sentence was passed.

Nick Bon, Empire, Shot in Hold-up; Taken to Hospital

Nick Bon, 20, kiln fireman for the Standard Clay company, Empire, Jefferson county, was brought to the City hospital at 11:30 o'clock last night, suffering from a bullet wound in his left side, inflicted, he said, by a hold-up man.

Bon was working about the kilns at 10:30 o'clock when some one ordered him to put his "hands up." As he complied he was shot through the left side. He failed to see his assailant. His condition is not serious.

FAMILY OF SIX WIPED OUT BY FIRE

CORNING, N. Y., April 12—A family of six was wiped out early today in a fire which destroyed their farm home at Horsehead, Chemung county, 18 miles east of here.

The charred bodies of a father, mother and their four children were found in the ruins.

The victims were Amos [illegible], wife, and their children Elizabeth, Amos, Jr., and under ten years of age.

MRS. DOROTHY M'KEON, 100 YEARS OLD, ATTRIBUTES LONGEVITY TO HER "EARLY TO BED" HABIT

Retire early and be temperate in your habits, especially eating.

This rule will mean longevity, in the opinion of Mrs. Dorothy McKeon, 624 Oak street, believed to be the oldest resident of Columbiana county, who today celebrated her 100th birthday.

Mrs. McKeon was born in Belfast, Down county, Ireland, April 1, 1827, being one of a family of three children, two boys and a girl. She was united in marriage to John McKeon in 1848, when 21 years old.

Three children were born to the union. Soon after the birth of the third child, the husband and father died. One of the children died a little later. With her two remaining children and her mother, Mrs. McKeon came to the United States in 1865 to join her two brothers, one of whom resided in New York and the other at Hartford, W. Va.

She lived with one brother in New York for about eight years, then went to live with the other brother at Hartford, remaining there until he died. Then she took up her residence with her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Wood, who also resided in Hartford.

Four years ago Mrs. Wood died and Mrs. McKeon then came to East Liverpool to make her home with her grand-daughter, Mrs. S. S. Bennett, 634 Oak stret, a daughter of Mrs. Wood. Mrs. Wood was 62 years of age when she died and her sister, Mrs. Benton J. Yeager, of Mason City, was but 67 years of age when she succumbed. Among Mrs. McKeon's survivors today are 17 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Since she was a child, Mrs. McKeon has practiced retiring early and eating nothing which she knew did not agree with her.

CURRAN ON BEAT

Milton Pelley Gets Woods' Place; Extras to be Appointed.

Two new members of the fire department who will assume their duties on April 16, and an additional patrolman who will report on May 16, in keeping with legislation enacted by the city solons, were announced today by Mayor Ralph Benedum.

The firemen are Jesse C. Terrence, Ohio avenue, son of W. J. Terrence, a captain on the department for many years, and Albert T. O'Rourke, Minerva street. O'Rourke has been a substitute for about two years, while Terrence is a former member of the department. The latter was the highest man on the eligibility list.

Milton Pelley was appointed fireman on April 1, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Patrick Woods. He, too, has been substituting for several years.

Propose Motor Equipment.

Clem Dawson and another, to be named, who follow Terrence on the eligibility list, will serve as extra firemen.

Legislation increasing the personnel of the police department, did not contain the emergency clause and does not become effective until May 7. The new member of the police force is Leslie Curran, McKee street, special patrolman for more than a year. His appointment as a regular will not become effective until May 16. Elwyn G. Shenkle will succeed Curran as a special officer.

With these additions the fire department will be increased from 11 to 13 men, while the police force will be made up of a chief, a captain and eight regular patrolmen. Motor equipment will be provided later for the use of one of the regular police officers who will patrol Maplewood, Park Boulevard, Northside and Lincoln Highway sections which were recently annexed.

Wellsville Man's Skull Fractured in Fall Down Stairway

Louis Scapino, 1774 Buckeye avenue, Wellsville, is believed to have suffered a fractured skull when he fell down a flight of stairs at his rooming house at 9 o'clock last evening. Scapino's head is said to have struck the cement floor at the bottom of the stairway. He was brought to the city hospital in the Haugh ambulance. His condition was reported serious.

DESK SERGEANT AUFDERHEIDE 27 YEARS ON "FINEST" JOB

"Aufdy," Dean of Police Force, is Still Smiling.

WORKED "WAGON"

Appointment Was Made by Late Mayor Davidson.

Henry Aufderheide, 67, dean of the East Liverpool police force, yesterday celebrated his 27th anniversary as a member of the city's "finest."

"Aufdy," as he is familiarly known to his hosts of friends, was appointed a patrolman on April 11, 1900, by the late Mayor William C. Davidson, who later became sheriff, "Tim" Thompson was chief of police. Other members of the force were the late Michael Mahoney, and Willis Davidson, now engaged in the porcelain manufacturing business in Chester.

Aufderheide was one of four patrolmen who were added to the force in 1900. The others were the late Charles Gill, justice of the peace for many years; Homer Morris, now of Pittsburgh, and Cliff Dawson who still resides in East Liverpool.

Patrolled Beat 14 Years.

When Aufderheide was assigned to a "beat," patrolmen were paid $2 per day, or $60 per month. They worked 12 hours a day and seven days per week. Now the salary of patrolmen is $150 per month and they work but nine hours a day and six days a week although they are subject to call at any time.

From April 11, 1900, to May 24, 1914, Aufderheide patrolled his "beat." When the motor patrol was installed, he was named desk sergeant. Mahoney, who was the oldest man in point of service at that time, acted as the "rear-end" man for the patrol up until a short time prior to his death in 1918.

Aufderheide and George Toland manned the motor-patrol on 12-hour shifts until the nine-hour day became effective. Now a man is available at the city hall for the patrol from 7 a. m. to midnight.

Served Under Three Chiefs.

Aufderheide has seen service under three police chiefs—"Tim" Thompson, John W. Wyman and the present department head, Hugh J. McDermott, who has been chief since 1916. McDermott joined the force on April 23, 1902 and on May 1, 1912 was appointed captain, the first man to hold this post.

Throughout his 27 years of service, "Aufdy" has been forced to use his club but once, when he "floored" an unruly prisoner who was about to attack Mahoney. He has often used his revolver in his work but never fired to hit the man he sought to capture.

When the police pension fund is made operative here, Aufderheide will be the first man to share under its provisions. The police will bring the United States Marine band to East Liverpool on October 9 for the benefit of a firemen's and police pension fund. A movement is now on foot to obtain councilmanic approval of a tax levy to finance the pension fund for members of the two departments.

PINK LINGERIE DIVORCE CAUSE

CHICAGO, April 12.—The pink lingerie found in Campbell Carrington's New York apartment was either a flannel nightie bought for his mother, or baby clothes for his grandson, he declared on the witness stand at the Carrington divorce trial today.

Campbell is accused by Col. Edward C. Carrington, millionaire book publisher, his brother, of being unduly intimate with Mrs. Carrington. The lingerie in question, it was charged, belonged to her.

Former Marietta Bank Teller Given Prison Sentence

MARRIETTA, O., April 12.—Arthur W. Fish, 33, former teller of the Central National bank of Marietta, today was sentenced from one to ten years in the Ohio penitentiary when he pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement. The state fixed the shortage at $10,310 but Fish declared his speculations total $7,900.

Fish voluntarily surrendered and confessed his shortage about six weeks ago on the day that the bank directors closed the doors of the institution. Auditors at work in the bank, have not yet completed their investigations at the bank.

The former teller told the court he had used the money in caring for his and his wife's sick relatives.

His wife and two small children were not in court when sentence was passed.

Nick Bon, Empire, Shot in Hold-up; Taken to Hospital

Nick Bon, 20, kiln fireman for the Standard Clay company, Empire, Jefferson county, was brought to the City hospital at 11:30 o'clock last night, suffering from a bullet wound in his left side, inflicted, he said, by a hold-up man.

Bon was working about the kilns at 10:30 o'clock when some one ordered him to put his "hands up." As he complied he was shot through the left side. He failed to see his assailant. His condition is not serious.

FAMILY OF SIX WIPED OUT BY FIRE

CORNING, N. Y., April 12—A family of six was wiped out early today in a fire which destroyed their farm home at Horsehead, Chemung county, 18 miles east of here.

The charred bodies of a father, mother and their four children were found in the ruins.

The victims were Amos I wife, and their children Elizabeth, Amos, Jr., and under ten years of age.

MRS. DOROTHY M'KEON, 100 YEARS OLD, ATTRIBUTES LONGEVITY TO HER "EARLY TO BED" HABIT

Retire early and be temperate in your habits, especially eating.

This rule will mean longevity, in the opinion of Mrs. Dorothy McKeon, 624 Oak street, believed to be the oldest resident of Columbiana county, who today celebrated her 100th birthday.

Mrs. McKeon was born in Belfast, Down county, Ireland, April 1, 1827, being one of a family of three children, two boys and a girl. She was united in marriage to John McKeon in 1848, when 21 years old.

Three children were born to the union. Soon after the birth of the third child, the husband and father died. One of the children died a little later. With her two remaining children and her mother, Mrs. McKeon came to the United States in 1865 to join her two brothers, one of whom resided in New York and the other at Hartford, W. Va.

She lived with one brother in New York for about eight years, then went to live with the other brother at Hartford, remaining there until he died. Then she took up her residence with her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Wood, who also resided in Hartford.

Four years ago Mrs. Wood died and Mrs. McKeon then came to East Liverpool to make her home with her grand-daughter, Mrs. S. S. Bennett, 634 Oak stret, a daughter of Mrs. Wood. Mrs. Wood was 62 years of age when she died and her sister, Mrs. Benton J. Yeager, of Mason City, was but 67 years of age when she succumbed. Among Mrs. McKeon's survivors today are 17 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Since she was a child, Mrs. McKeon has practiced retiring early and eating nothing which she knew did not agree with her.

BELLE BENNETT AT AMERICAN

'Fourth Commandment' Strong Dramatic Film.

Which commandment is it that commands children to honor and obey their father and mother?

It is a question, seemingly, that any clergyman could answer. Yet there are several answers to it, and all are different, and all are right.

That was the discovery made at Universal City when Emory Johnson started to film. "The Fourth Commandment," the picture now being shown here at the American theater.

The picture's theme is based on the relation of children to their parents, and it was written by Mrs. Emile Johnson, mother of the director, Emory Johnson, with whom she has collaborated on all his big successes.

When it came to naming the production after the appropriate commandment, however, it was found that various versions of the docologue do not agree.

Many versions of the Bible and the Mosaic law places it as the fifth, a few allot it sixth place and a great number present it as the fourth commandment.

Mrs. Johnson believes it is the fourth commandment, and bases her argument upon the version of the Bible wherein the position of the ten laws, as inscribed upon the two tablets, is given as four on the first tablet and six on the second

"The Fourth Commandment," one of the features of the Universal program of this season, has been pronounced by critics as one of the strongest dramatic films ever made for the screen.

Belle Bennett and Mary Carr share honors in the features roles, both following up their past triumphs with sincere and splendid performances in opposite mother roles. The emotional work of Belle Bennett has been especially commended.

Henry Victor, Robert Agnew, June Marlowe, Kathleen Myers and little Wendel Phillips Franklin are in prominent roles also.

IRENE RICH CHARMING STAR

There has always been a wistful haunting quality in her personality. There is a graciousness of which she is past mistress. There is unfailing poise. She has the ability to stir audiences to sympathetic tearfulness. But in "Don't Tell the Wife," she, without apparent effort, moves her beholders to breezy laughter, and that is truly a great accomplishment.

Again Miss Rich has worked in perfect harmony with Paul Stein, the Viennese, who made such a startling bit of realism, out of her last starring vehicle, the Russian story "My Official Wife." We remember having seen her several times too, with Huntly Gordon as her support. This familiarity with the manners and moods of co-players adds to the spontaneity of the performance.

Sympathetic support also comes from Lilyan Tashman and William Demarest who are cast in rift-makers in the matrimonial lute, and from Otis Harlan, than whom there is no merrier mountebank on all the cinematic roster. Stein has caught with almost uncanny vividness the air and manner of Paris and—through the glittering mazes Miss Irene moves with consummate grace and loveliness.

"Don't Tell the Wife" introduces a new Irene Rich—a merry, whimsical, ingenous and ingenious lady— a perplexed, nonplussed but forgiving lady—one calculated to remove effectually from the mind of the susceptibel Monsieur Cartier—memory of all adventurous ladies blonde or otherwise.

What's What in Washington

BY CHARLES R STEWART

FOLK WHO THINK NORRIS WORN OUT DUE FOR SURPRISE

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, April 12. — His friends have a way of referring to Senator George W. Norris softly, tenderly and reverently, as "old Uncle George."

GEORGE W. NORRIS

They say he's quite worn out with politics and doesn't mean to run for the senate ever any more. He does have aspirations in the direction of the Nebraska governorship for a quiet term or two, or three, or as long as he lives, but that's merely to "round out his career."

To hear this kind of talk, from those closest to him, you'd get an idea that "Uncle George," while undoubtedly a hum-dinger in his day, is nearly "all in" now, and mustn't rough it, as he used to could, .. he'll break some of his brittle old bones.

I KNOW for a fact that a lot of people imagine Senator Norris has reached a point where he has to be kept in cotton wool.

I know it because folks who don't know him by sight are continually turning up in Washington and asking to have him pointed out to them—since he's a celebrity— and when he is, the visitor almost invariably exclaims, "What! That him!' in an astonished tone, and goes away muttering some such thing as that he looks like as good a risk as any life insurance agent could ask.

Stories of "Uncle George's" expected retirement probably are largely responsible for giving the public a wrong slant on him. Reports that a previously very active man's on the eve of retiring naturally give rise to the conclusion that he's wearing out.

BUT mind you, "Uncle George's" retirement isn't exactly imminent. His present senate term doesn't expire until March, 1931. It's true he says he won't be a candidate for re-election, but he may change his mind. He did the last time.

Even if he sticks to his determination to let the senatorship slide, four years hence, and to go after the Nebraska governorship instead, his prospective gubernatorial program sounds rather strenuous.

It includes the wiping out of all party lines, a 50-50 reduction in the number of state officials, transformation of the legislature into a unicameral body of not more than 25 members and governmentalization of all public utilities.

This may be "Uncle George's" definition of "retirement," but it isn't most politician's—not in the strict sense of the word.

AS a looker, "Uncle George" is far from fragile.

He's 66, yes, but in an extra-ordinarily good state of repair. Sixty-six isn't so old, for a senator, anyway. At the same age, Senator Jim Reed's threatening to run for president.

The Nebraskan's tallish and large-framed, with no superfluous avoirdupois.

His get-up is prosperously farmerish, or maybe country lawyerish—that being what he is, probably the latter. He looks countrified, at all events. He suggests rural Nebraska, in short.

He chaws terbacker, if I err not.

"UNCLE GEORGE" but recently accepted the honorary—or possibly, he says, it will prove to be or'n'ary—presidency of a "non-partisan, nonsectarian" national citizens' committee to protest against North American interference in Latin American politics.

"If it's all right for us to butt in in Nicaragua," he maintains, "Nicaragua have been justified in landing marines to guarantee an orderly, honest election in Chicago the other day."

This is supposed to be the "closed season" for such senatorial sniping at the administration, but "Uncle George," who doesn't care a dern for any rules of the game, still lingers in Washington, taking a pot shot whenever he sees a good chance, whether congress is in session or not.

Honolulu's new city hall will cost $750,000.

"Play Ball!"

The salesmanship of vendors of cigars, peanuts and "hot dogs" will vie with the "Play Ball" order of the umpire-in-chief today as the lid is pried off the baseball season in the two major leagues, National and American. At 3 o'clock this afternoon sixteen teams, with eight new managers, five of the game's greatest stars demoted to the ranks of players and many impatient youths getting their first taste of glory in "big time," will begin the six-month battle for pennant honors and the right to compete in the world's series, the classic of the pastime.

Kindness of the weather man alone is needed to make opening day an auspicious one. While scandal was flowing during the cold winter, threatening to undermine the game, baseball enthusiasm was waning, but judging from interest during the spring training period a record attendance looms today. The public is satisfied the game has been purged of dishonesty.

When the boss umpire dusts off the plate, adjusts his protector and pad and then calls "Batter up," several hundred thousand fans will occupy grandstands and bleachers in eight major league cities, while millions of others, barred by distance from actual attendance, will watch scoreboards and tickers and "listen in" on radio reports as the battles progress.

And all signs indicate a close race in each circuit. In John Heydler's league, the dopesters favor New York, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Cincinnati. The Athletics, Yankees and Senators of the junior organization are conceded pennant competitors. But surprises may be sprung, for many of the so-called rank outsiders have been strengthened by trades and acquisition of minor league material.

All in all, it looks like a good year for the sport.

Unwise Slaughter

The American Ornithologists' Union deplores the general use of the word "vermin" for all birds of prey, and insists that the tendency to destroy such birds without discrimination is likely to cause more economic loss than gain.

The sparrow hawk is rapidly decreasing in numbers because of the prejudice against it. Yet a scientist of the department of agriculture who examined 320 sparrow hawk stomachs found 215 of them containing grasshoppers and other large insects, 89 containing mice and not one containing poultry.

The goshawk, the cooper's hawk and the sharp-shinned hawk, it is admitted, should be kept in check. It is dangerous, however, to endorse the slaughter of any species, because so few persons can distinguish one from another.

Many hawks do kill poultry. But often the extent of such depredations is exaggerated, and there is too little realization of compensating services. Farmers think too much of one chicken lost and too little of the many injurious insects and rodents killed.

Of 48 species of hawks, the biological survey pronounces six beneficial or wholly harmless, 29 chiefly beneficial, seven equally beneficial and harmful and only six positively harmful.

It is well to remember this. The same reasoning applies to many other birds, and to many animals generally regarded as enemies of the human race. Generally speaking, it is unwise to slaughter any kind of wild life without expert knowledge, lest the exterminator do more harm than good.

The Latest Miracle

Another scientific miracle—television is achieved. The other day Secretary Hoover, speaking into a telephone transmitter in Washington, was heard and seen simultaneously by a group in New York. It was like a combination of telephone talk and moving picture. Others spoke in turn, and the speaking faces on the screen, and the voices that seemed to come from them were true to life.

The invention, as it stands, requires a complex and costly mechanism and is not adapted for general use. Yet its beginning is no less impressive than was the beginning of the telephone, telegraph and radio. Eventually any well-to-do family may have a receiving set which will provide, in the home, musical, dramatic and oratorical entertainment now available only in public halls.

Whether this marvelous invention will be really worth while is another question. It depends on the use made of it. If it is to be used as radio is now most of the time, for the transmission of cheap and trashy stuff which dishonors the noble mechanism carrying it, the world will not have gained much.

Our entertainment programs are for the most part far inferior in merit to the scientific accomplishments which make them possible. We live in an age of miracles, possessing the powers of magicians and archangels. And yet, with undreamed of possibilities for education, social intercourse and enjoyment of the fine arts, we content ourselves with the commonplace and wallow in mediocrity.

"Self-termination of peoples," is all right, but nobody ever supposed the Chinese people would be so determined about it.

It isn't any accident that the cash register was developed in America. America needed it.

My Favorite Stories

THROWING LIGHT ON DARK SUBJECTS

Around the clubs where the literati of New York congregate, a popular novelist has been telling a story at the expense of his wife.

"The missis," he says, "is interested in reform movements. Not long ago she got all worked up on the subject of twilight sleep. Up at a coast resort where we stayed this summer some of the other guests found out her latest hobby and professed curiosity to know the workings of the system which was doing so much to alleviate the lot of mothers. So some of the women induced her to make a little talk to them on the subject.

"Now, my wife has never done any public speaking and the prospect rather frightened her. Still, she was game; she went through with it and delivered quite an address to a select audience.

"There was only one drawback to its complete success, and that was due, not to her lack of knowledge of the theme, but to her embarrassment. As a matter of fact, some of her hearers came away in a seeming state of bewilderment. You see, my wife's mistake was this: Every time she referred to Twilight Sleep she calld it Daylight Savings."

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 12.—Broadway seems no longer a street of hilarious antics. It has grown sedate and forbidding. A little of the old horse play will bring the police and a wagon. The other evening a group of collegiates were trundled to a station for sliding down cafe banisters.

Bringing a cabby in to dine and then galloping his nag around the block results in a night in a cell. An impromptu quartette suddenly bursting into "Sweet Adeline" brings the proprietor on the run with a threatening shush.

In other days every cafe permitted a little harmless rowdiness. Diners enjoyed it. A bald-headed man was likely to find his pate a target for a barrage of bread balls, and would retaliate good naturedly by ordering a round of drinks for the house.

Table d'hotes featuring vin ordinaire were places of easy familiarity. Patrons moved from table to table. There was understanding that everybody was merely out for a prankish evening and there was never a show of fisticuffs. Madame would leave the cashier's cage to sing.

In these days along Broadway that women do not engage in a fancied slight. A sly wink is likely to wind up in a free-for-all. In Park Avenue a gentleman was knocked down because he had mistaken a lady for an old friend.

He had gone to her table and extended his hand. Her escort did the rest, nor would he apologize when the familiarity was explained. The truth is cafe patronage has entirely changed. Denizens of the deep come to the surface at night and the cafes are their stalking ground.

They are there more for business than pleasure. They are keeping track of the latest in human dissipation and the victims thereof with a careful eye for blackmail or robbery. Innocent fun cramps their style and consequently they scowl at it. Hooch, too, hasn't the mellowing quality it once had. The quality is argumentative.

In one of Park Avenue's finest mansions there is a room incongruously out of keeping with the rest of the bizarre furnishings. It has a rag carpet, an old time loud ticking clock with a nosegay painted on the door, a horse hair sofa, several willow farm porch chairs, a hanging coal oil lamp and a red carpeted brick door step. It is where the master spends much leisure time. "I'm a country boy," he says, "and I never got over it."

Divorced but friendly couples are plentiful in New York. I ran across a pair of them dining together the other evening. "We have dinner once a month to discuss the children," said the ex-wife. And added: "Also I receive my alimony check."

In a new big department store there are no counter stools, for customers and clerk are not permitted to sit down while on duty. The idea is to speed up sales. For those who grow tired rest rooms are provided with tea and cigarettes.

Harold Ross, the editor of the sophisticated magazine, The New Yorker, is an Aspen, Colorado, boy. The actor who really started eccentric jazz dancing was Frisco, born in Dubuque, Iowa. One of the kings of the Broadway underworld came from a whistle stop in Kansas. A writer who makes a living anticipating fashions for men is a product of Holt, Mo. Sinclair Lewis hails from Sauk Center, Wis. The Rialto's most blase juvenile, Jay Gould, is from Muskegeon, Mich. A director of racy, musical revues came out of Lost Creek, W. Va., ten years ago. Ben Ali Haggin, a real life Adolph Menjou, was born on a Kentucky farm. The fellow who opened the second night club in town hails from an Arkansas village. Indeed, most of our ultra sophistication came from the various wide places in the road. Even Tex Guinan baked mud pies in Austin, Tex.

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Hoover Diplomacy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12. — Official and diplomatic Washington is gossiping over the possible significance of the address made by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover to the ambassadors, ministers and other representatives of the Latin American republics. Its importance, as pointed out by those who attach great weight to it, is that is in effect a declaration of the international policy of the United States with Mr. Hoover at the head of the Department of State.

It was delivered just at the time of the appearance of the circumstantial story concerning impending changes in the Coolidge cabinet. These changes, as reported, included the retirement of Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, the selection of Secretary Hoover for the important post as director of the nation's foreign relations, the retirement of Secretary of the Interior Work to become chairman of the Republican National Committee, and the naming of Dwight Morrow as Hoover's successor at the head of the Department of Commerce.

The occasion was the dinners tendered the Central and South American diplomats by the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

Why, it is asked, was Secretary Hoover chosen as the member of the president's official family to deliver the principal address at this time and on such an occasion if it were not to give him an opportunity to speak most impressively his views on diplomacy and international relations with the idea that his views were about to become of interest and importance? Why would not Secretary of State Kellogg have been the choice if his views were longer to be of importance? And, considering the close relations between Secretary Hoover and President Coolidge, is it not reasonably certain that the former did not say anything on the delicate subject he discussed that did not have the president's approval or virtual authorization?

Given Special Significance.

In view of our present relations with at least three of the Latin American Republics — Mexico, Nicaragua, and Haiti—more significance is attached to the delivery of the Hoover address before the representatives of those republics than if it had been delivered to a group of European diplomats.

"Play Ball!"

The salesmanship of vendors of cigars, peanuts and "hot dogs" will vie with the "Play Ball" order of the umpire-in-chief today as the lid is pried off the baseball season in the two major leagues, National and American. At 3 o'clock this afternoon sixteen teams, with eight new managers, five of the game's greatest stars demoted to the ranks of players and many impatient youths getting their first taste of glory in "big time," will begin the six-month battle for pennant honors and the right to compete in the world's series, the classic of the pastime.

Kindness of the weather man alone is needed to make opening day an auspicious one. While scandal was flowing during the cold winter, threatening to undermine the game, baseball enthusiasm was waning, but judging from interest during the spring training period a record attendance looms today. The public is satisfied the game has been purged of dishonesty.

When the boss umpire dusts off the plate, adjusts his protector and pad and then calls "Batter up," several hundred thousand fans will occupy grandstands and bleachers in eight major league cities, while millions of others, barred by distance from actual attendance, will watch scoreboards and tickers and "listen in" on radio reports as the battles progress.

And all signs indicate a close race in each circuit. In John Heydler's league, the dopesters favor New York, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Cincinnati. The Athletics, Yankees and Senators of the junior organization are conceded pennant competitors. But surprises may be sprung, for many of the so-called rank outsiders have been strengthened by trades and acquisition of minor league material.

All in all, it looks like a good year for the sport.

Unwise Slaughter

The American Ornithologists' Union deplores the general use of the word "vermin" for all birds of prey, and insists that the tendency to destroy such birds without discrimination is likely to cause more economic loss than gain.

The sparrow hawk is rapidly decreasing in numbers because of the prejudice against it. Yet a scientist of the department of agriculture who examined 320 sparrow hawk stomachs found 215 of them containing grasshoppers and other large insects, 89 containing mice and not one containing poultry.

The goshawk, the cooper's hawk and the sharp-shinned hawk, it is admitted, should be kept in check. It is dangerous, however, to endorse the slaughter of any species, because so few persons can distinguish one from another.

Many hawks do kill poultry. But often the extent of such depredations is exaggerated, and there is too little realization of compensating services. Farmers think too much of one chicken lost and too little of the many injurious insects and rodents killed.

Of 48 species of hawks, the biological survey pronounces six beneficial or wholly harmless, 29 chiefly beneficial, seven equally beneficial and harmful and only six positively harmful.

It is well to remember this. The same reasoning applies to many other birds, and to many animals generally regarded as enemies of the human race. Generally speaking, it is unwise to slaughter any kind of wild life without expert knowledge, lest the exterminator do more harm than good.

The Latest Miracle

Another scientific miracle—television is achieved. The other day Secretary Hoover, speaking into a telephone transmitter in Washington, was heard and seen simultaneously by a group in New York. It was like a combination of telephone talk and moving picture. Others spoke in turn, and the speaking faces on the screen, and the voices that seemed to come from them were true to life.

The invention, as it stands, requires a complex and costly mechanism and is not adapted for general use. Yet its beginning is no less impressive than was the beginning of the telephone, telegraph and radio. Eventually any well-to-do family may have a receiving set which will provide, in the home, musical, dramatic and oratorical entertainment now available only in public halls.

Whether this marvelous invention will be really worth while is another question. It depends on the use made of it. If it is to be used as radio is now most of the time, for the transmission of cheap and trashy stuff which dishonors the noble mechanism carrying it, the world will not have gained much.

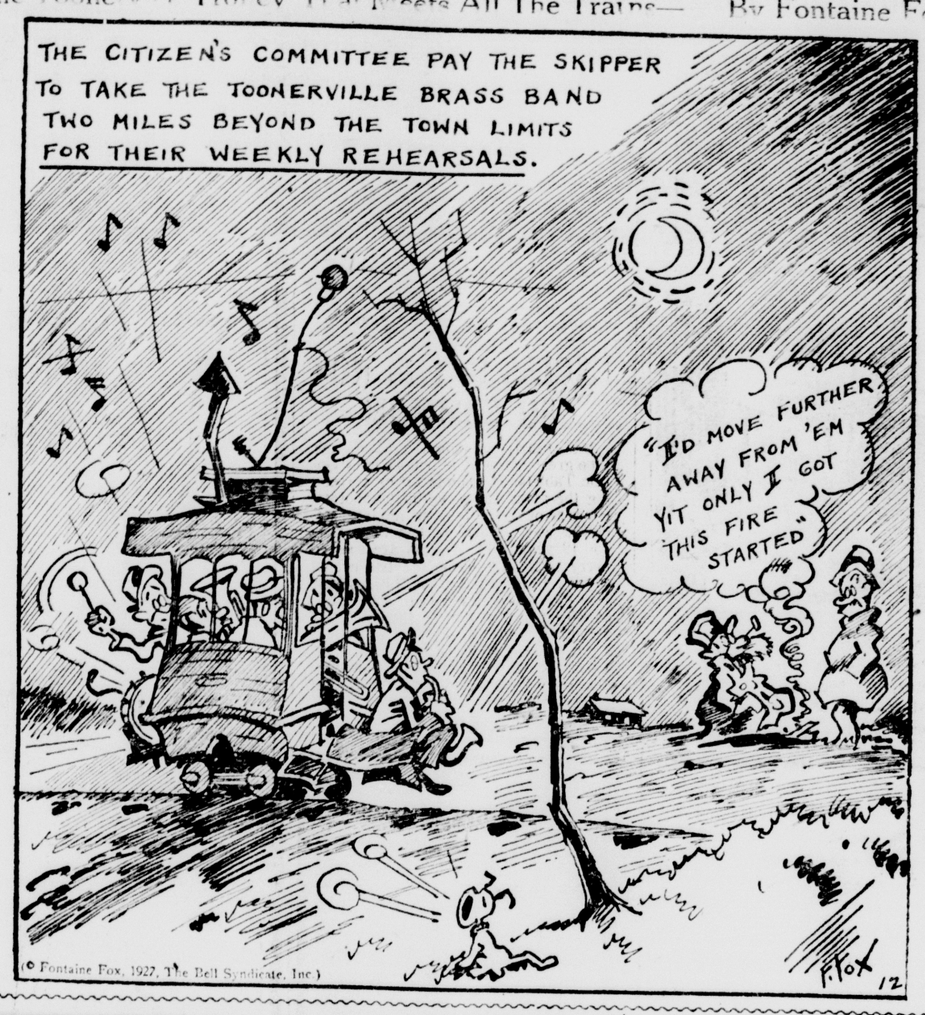

Our entertainment programs are for the most part far inferior in merit to the scientific accomplishments which make them possible. We live in an age of miracles, possessing the powers of magicians and archangels. And yet, with undreamed of possibilities for education, social intercourse and enjoyment of the fine arts, we content ourselves with the commonplace and wallow in mediocrity.

"Self-termination of peoples," is all right, but nobody ever supposed the Chinese people would be so determined about it.

It isn't any accident that the cash register was developed in America. America needed it.

THROWING LIGHT ON DARK SUBJECTS

Around the clubs where the literati of New York congregate, a popular novelist has been telling a story at the expense of his wife.

"The missis," he says, "is interested in reform movements. Not long ago she got all worked up on the subject of twilight sleep. Up at a coast resort where we stayed this summer some of the other guests found out her latest hobby and professed curiosity to know the workings of the system which was doing so much to alleviate the lot of mothers. So some of the women induced her to make a little talk to them on the subject.

"Now, my wife has never done any public speaking and the prospect rather frightened her. Still, she was game; she went through with it and delivered quite an address to a select audience.

"There was only one drawback to its complete success, and that was due, not to her lack of knowledge of the theme, but to her embarrassment. As a matter of fact, some of her hearers came away in a seeming state of bewilderment. You see, my wife's mistake was this: Every time she referred to Twilight Sleep she calld it Daylight Savings."

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 12.—Broadway seems no longer a street of hilarious antics. It has grown sedate and forbidding. A little of the old horse play will bring the police and a wagon. The other evening a group of collegiates were trundled to a station for sliding down cafe banisters.

Bringing a cabby in to dine and then galloping his nag around the block results in a night in a cell. An impromptu quartette suddenly bursting into "Sweet Adeline" brings the proprietor on the run with a threatening shush.

In other days every cafe permitted a little harmless rowdiness. Diners enjoyed it. A bald-headed man was likely to find his pate a target for a barrage of bread balls, and would retaliate good naturedly by ordering a round of drinks for the house.

Table d'hotes featuring vin ordinaire were places of easy familiarity. Patrons moved from table to table. There was understanding that everybody was merely out for a prankish evening and there was never a show of fisticuffs. Madame would leave the cashier's cage to sing.

In these days along Broadway that women do not engage in a fancied slight. A sly wink is likely to wind up in a free-for-all. In Park Avenue a gentleman was knocked down because he had mistaken a lady for an old friend.

He had gone to her table and extended his hand. Her escort did the rest, nor would he apologize when the familiarity was explained. The truth is cafe patronage has entirely changed. Denizens of the deep come to the surface at night and the cafes are their stalking ground.

They are there more for business than pleasure. They are keeping track of the latest in human dissipation and the victims thereof with a careful eye for blackmail or robbery. Innocent fun cramps their style and consequently they scowl at it. Hooch, too, hasn't the mellowing quality it once had. The quality is argumentative.

In one of Park Avenue's finest mansions there is a room incongruously out of keeping with the rest of the bizarre furnishings. It has a rag carpet, an old time loud ticking clock with a nosegay painted on the door, a horse hair sofa, several willow farm porch chairs, a hanging coal oil lamp and a red carpeted brick door step. It is where the master spends much leisure time. "I'm a country boy," he says, "and I never got over it."

Divorced but friendly couples are plentiful in New York. I ran across a pair of them dining together the other evening. "We have dinner once a month to discuss the children," said the ex-wife. And added: "Also I receive my alimony check."

In a new big department store there are no counter stools, for customers and clerk are not permitted to sit down while on duty. The idea is to speed up sales. For those who grow tired rest rooms are provided with tea and cigarettes.

Harold Ross, the editor of the sophisticated magazine, The New Yorker, is an Aspen, Colorado, boy. The actor who really started eccentric jazz dancing was Frisco, born in Dubuque, Iowa. One of the kings of the Broadway underworld came from a whistle stop in Kansas. A writer who makes a living anticipating fashions for men is a product of Holt, Mo. Sinclair Lewis hails from Sauk Center, Wis. The Rialto's most blase juvenile, Jay Gould, is from Muskegeon, Mich. A director of racy, musical revues came out of Lost Creek, W. Va., ten years ago. Ben Ali Haggin, a real life Adolph Menjou, was born on a Kentucky farm. The fellow who opened the second night club in town hails from an Arkansas village. Indeed, most of our ultra sophistication came from the various wide places in the road. Even Tex Guinan baked mud pies in Austin, Tex.

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Hoover Diplomacy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12. — Official and diplomatic Washington is gossiping over the possible significance of the address made by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover to the ambassadors, ministers and other representatives of the Latin American republics. Its importance, as pointed out by those who attach great weight to it, is that is in effect a declaration of the international policy of the United States with Mr. Hoover at the head of the Department of State.

It was delivered just at the time of the appearance of the circumstantial story concerning impending changes in the Coolidge cabinet. These changes, as reported, included the retirement of Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, the selection of Secretary Hoover for the important post as director of the nation's foreign relations, the retirement of Secretary of the Interior Work to become chairman of the Republican National Committee, and the naming of Dwight Morrow as Hoover's successor at the head of the Department of Commerce.

The occasion was the dinners tendered the Central and South American diplomats by the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

Why, it is asked, was Secretary Hoover chosen as the member of the president's official family to deliver the principal address at this time and on such an occasion if it were not to give him an opportunity to speak most impressively his views on diplomacy and international relations with the idea that his views were about to become of interest and importance? Why would not Secretary of State Kellogg have been the choice if his views were longer to be of importance? And, considering the close relations between Secretary Hoover and President Coolidge, is it not reasonably certain that the former did not say anything on the delicate subject he discussed that did not have the president's approval or virtual authorization?

Given Special Significance.

In view of our present relations with at least three of the Latin American Republics — Mexico, Nicaragua, and Haiti—more significance is attached to the delivery of the Hoover address before the representatives of those republics than if it had been delivered to a group of European diplomats.

Furthermore, it is noted that the address did not consist solely of felicitous phrases and diplomatic applesause. Mr. Hoover, obviously, was not attempting to walk upon eggs without breaking the shells. He was diplomatic and said a great many nice

BANDIT SLAIN, THREE NABBED AFTER HOLD-UP

Unmasked Men Rob Jewelry Store in Lodi.

WOMEN COWERED

Sheriff's Posse Corners Gunmen; Shots Exchanged.

LODI, O., April 12.—One bandit is dead, and three others are under arrest today, following a dramatic hold-up staged by the quartet in Max Smith's jewelry store here late Monday afternoon.

Unmasked and with guns drawn, the four robbers entered the store and, after forcing two women, who were in the store, into a corner and trussing Smith up with tape, made their getaway with approximately $5,000 in money and jewels.

D. D. Leyda, entering the store shortly afterward, discovered Smith's predicament and gave the alarm.

The women were still cowering in a corner.

A sheriff's posse, after a wild chase, finally cornered the gunmen in a wood several miles from the scene of the hold-up. Scores of shots were exchanged and during the fusillade one of the bandits known as "Jack," according to his companions, fell dead. The other three surrendered.

Part of the loot was recovered but a search is still being made for about $4,000 worth of jewelry, believed to have been thrown away by the robbers during their flight.

SPECIAL MEETS IN U. P. CHURCH

Rev. W. B. Smiley, Rochester Will Give Sermon.

Large crowd attended the opening of Passion week services last night in the First United Presbyterian church, Carolina avenue.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. W. B. Smiley, D. D., pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, Rochester, Pa. He had as his text, "Ye Who are Spiritual" from the sixth chapter of Paul's epistle to the Galatians. In his remarks he called attention to the fact that all must admit there are two classes of so-called Christians—those who are spiritual and those who are carnal. He then set forth some of the qualifications of those who are spiritual emphasizing the idea that it is the devoted spirit for which all strive. If it must come to a choice between education and training on the one hand and spirituality on the other hand his choice would be the latter, the speaker declared.

Rev. H. C. Kistler, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, Sheridan, Pa., will be the preacher tonight. He is a college and seminary friend of the pastor, Rev. W. J. H. McKnight. He is said to be a gifted speaker.

Special music will be featured at all the services this week. Duet was given last night by Miss Grace Cochran and Mrs. Ethel Higgs. Baritone solo will be rendered tonight by L. W. Bird.

LEGISLATURE IS SPEEDING WORK

Routine procedure carried both branches of the legislature through long calendars yesterday, while bills were passed and a large number of others were advanced through amendment stage.

Of the five bills which the senate passed during its session one, creating the state veterans' service office, completed its legislative journey, having been passed by the house of delegates last week. Others which the senate passed included a bill giving authority to the state road commission to regulate interstate bus lines in accord with federal law; one extending to justices of peace jurisdiction to enforce the law against disturbing religious worship; one changing fees for examination to practice medicine, and a local bill affecting the Elkins charter, to which the senate first added amendments agreed upon by the senators from that district.

Although its calendar was the longer, only three of the bills in the house were passed, the others being on the first and second readings. The bill which will permit magisterial districts to give financial aid to medical students in order to provide doctors for rural sections went sweeping through with a vote of 83 to 2, after its sponsor, Dr. Crow of Marshall county and several other members had spoken in its behalf and Delegate Sutton of Braxton county had attacked it as unnecessary. The two votes against the measure were those of Delegates Sutton and Beard of Berkeley county. The other bills passed by the house were local measures, one for a Harrison county courthouse, the other affecting state aid for the Upshur county fair.

BROOKE COUNTY MINER SHOT

Samuel Kudlow, 34, miner, employed at the Gilcrist mine of the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal company, north of Wellsburg, is in the Ohio Valley hospital at Steubenville suffering from a serious wound in his right leg, received when he was struck by a 30-30 rifle ball believed to have been fired at his brother.

Bill Sablack, alleged to have fired the shot, is in the Brooke county jail, and John Kudlow, brother of the victim; Andy Plemons and William Zettuz, arrested on the scene of the shooting, are being detained as witnesses.

The shooting occurred Monday afternoon in a small building near the mouth of the Gilchrist mine. Sheriff R. M. Lowe was called, and his investigation revealed that all of the men in the party had been engaged in a post-payday holiday. Sablack and John Kudlow, brother of Samuel, were engaged in a personal quarrel, and Sablack, it is said, obtained the rifle and fired at John. His aim was poor, however, and the bullet struck Samuel in the right leg.

The victim has not been working for some time, only recently having recovered from injuries received while employed in the Gilchrist mine. He had intended to resume work this week.

HATTIE

By Samuel Merwin

HATTIE JOHNSON, just 17, is a somewhat colorless little girl, who works in the mailing room of a printing and bookbinding establishment. She and the office boy have been seen holding hands—otherwise there has been no romance in her life. One day a girl who had formerly worked in the mailing room comes to call. Her name is

LUCILLE OVERMAN, and she is now working in pictures. She takes Hattie to the studio where she, Lucille, is to have a screen test. Hattie there is seen by the famous director,

DE BRISSAC, who makes a screen test of her and offers her a contract. Hattie lives with her married sister,

ALICE, and her baby daughter, Eamily, and

GRANDMA, a querulous semi-invalid. They all start for California with De Brissac, who suggests books for Hattie to read to "form her mind." On the train she meets

HENRY O'MALLEY, De Brissac's head camera man. Hatties goes to the studio to find De Brissac, and he kisses her. Clandestinely, so that De Brissac will not know, Hattie and O'Malley meet and go out together. A dark little girl comes to Hattie's dressing room, saying it used to be hers. De Brissac wants Hattie to go away for a week with him on his yacht. The little gark girl comes to his office while Hattie is there and tries to throw acid on her, but De Brissac prevents her, although his hand is burned. Hattie tries to tell Alice that she can't go back to De Brissac's studio to work, but her sister tells her they need more money and that she must stick to her contract. She refuses to go to De Brissac's office again after work and mets O'Malley and goes to dinner with him. O'Malley wants Hattie to leave De Brissac and try for work in another studio. He tells her that he is crazy about her, and she promises she will marry him.

CHAPTER TWENTY.

He dropped her near the corner, and she walked wearily to the doorway behind the grocery store. She felt short of breath. It was hard dragging her feet up the single flight of stairs. She got her key into the lock (Alice had had to let her have her own key) . . . . She found herself on the floor clinging with both hands to the door knob. The thought came, oddly matter-of-fact—"I must have fainted." She got to her feet, after a moment, turned the key and entered.

Alice came out of her room, saying—

"Who was out there with you?"

"Nobody."

"What did you wait for then? I heard your key in the lock."

"Oh, nothing particular. There wasn't anybody with me?"

"What's happened?" This with a nervous insistence.

"Nothing much. Why"

"You look pretty shaky."

"Oh—I'm tired."

"You've got nothing on me, when it comes to that. I've been all over L. A. today. Nothing doing." She was following Hattie into her room. "Not a thing. They're still laying people off. Every where. . . . What on earth's the matter with you!"

Hattie had sunk to the floor by the bed. Quickly, talking excitedly at her, Alice contrived to lift her and rest her head on the pillow. Gran'ma, who couldn't at this time walk without help, cried out from her room, rapping on the wall as she did so.

"What is it, Alice? Tell me what's happened!"

"Hattie's fainted! I can't stop to talk to you now. I'll get water."

The girl's eyes opened then.

"What's all the noise about?" she asked weakly. "Can't you make Gran'ma keep quiet? . . . . I guess I must have fainted again."

"That's what you were doing outside, is it?"

"Mm-hmm." She raised herself on an elbow.

"No," said Alice sharply, "you lie still. I'll undress you. What you need is sleep. Just keep quiet now. . . . . Oh, she's all right, now, Gran'ma! I'm taking care of her. . . But what good would the doctor do? She's all right now, I tell you."

"Don't have the doctor," whispered Hattie, with a shiver.

"I don't see myself. . . . Yes, Gran'ma! Please—please! There now, you've wakened Emily up! . . . Yes, dear, Mummie's coming right away in a minute! . . . . Please, Gran'ma! . . . . All right, I'll call him up." To Hattie—"May as well call him first as last. It'll save time and nerves. She'll keep at us."

The doctor felt her pulse and made her hold a thermometer in her mouth. He asked a good many questions about her eating and digestion. Then, quietly, he asked how she'd been sleeping. He even asked about her dreams. It seemed to her that she was telling him very little; but later she heard him, out in the hall, saying to Alice—"It's a little hysterical attack. Don't take it to seriously. Of course, if you could manage a change, a month or so in the mountains. . . . oh, she's working now? Well, see that she gets plenty of sleep. I'll send you a diet for her. We must build her up. And you'd better have this prescription filled right away. It'll quiet her nerves."

Hattie, lying in her dim room, sighed. She knew that it was not her body but her soul that was ill.

In the morning, though her head was heavy, she dressed at the usual time. She heard enough about studio "overhead" to know that every hour of absence would mean extra hundreds of dollars charged against the picture. That overhead was merciless, implicable. It was always on de Brissac's mind. But he never worried, never weakened. He, too, in a by no means unpleasant way, was merciless. And then the thought came—"I'm engaged!" And with it a flutter of hope. She gazed at the wan face in the mirror; and then touched it up with rouge. She had taken lately to doing this. They all did. And very lightly she applied the lipstick She couldn't go on the lot looking like the last shade.

She had to go into Gran'ma's room for little talks before and after breakfast. Gran'ma was worried. So, too, was Alice, who looked as if she hadn't slept. Evidently the bare thought that she might have to quit work brought them both to the brink of panic.

In that same dazed and dogged way she went through the day's work. De Brissac again asked her to come to his office, as she knew he would; and again the evaded him. It would be easier when she didn't have to see him every day like this. It seemed hardly fair to conceal her engagement from him. She rather wished Henry hadn't put it that way. Though it was difficult to think how she could tell him. Hardly in words, to his face. He might be angry; and she couldn't meet his anger. Or, worse, he might take her into his arms and deliberately win her back. And then how could she tell Henry?

Henry told her, late in the afternoon, that the lawyer would dine with them. And so they drove in again to the Alexandria. He proved to be a pleasant young man with curly brown hair. His name was Wurtzel. With him everything seemed easy. He smiled repeatedly as he read the contract, and concluded with a knowing shake of the head.

"You think you can break it?" asked Henry.

"Yes. Oh, yes. We'll finish this picture. It's only a matter of a couple of days, isn't it?"

"Just a few more retakes," Hattie explained.

The lawyer thoughtfully folded the paper. "While I don't feel at liberty to give you the details, it just happens that I'm in a position to be of rather peculiar service to you. At least, I think so. I'll have to make one or two inquiries about that. But I'll tell you now that we can free Miss Johnson without any particular difficulty. I don't think they'll sue. Even if they should . . Yes, I really feel that we're safe enough. But don't you think we'd better make sure of another job for her before we spring this?"

"Here's the situation," said Henry, in his eager, nervous way—"Plantagenet Pictures Corporation have been after me for months. Of course, before Miss Johnson and I—very confidentially I suppose I may as well tell you we're engaged. . . . ."

Mr. Wurtzel smiled and bowed. Hattie blushed. Henry was ruddy, too. He rushed on with it.

'. . . . berore this I wouldn't have considered leaving de Brissac—"

"I happen to know that he thinks very highly of you."

"That's nice. But now suppose I get in touch with Aldridge Mortimer now over the phone. He's top director for Plantagenet, and I know they're working out the continuity for 'Little Nell.' Now you know and I know and Mortimer knows that the perfect type for Nell is sitting right here wtih us at this table."

SPECIAL MEETS IN U. P. CHURCH

Rev. W. B. Smiley, Rochester Will Give Sermon.

Large crowd attended the opening of Passion week services last night in the First United Presbyterian church, Carolina avenue.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. W. B. Smiley, D. D., pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, Rochester, Pa. He had as his text, "Ye Who are Spiritual" from the sixth chapter of Paul's epistle to the Galatians. In his remarks he called attention to the fact that all must admit there are two classes of so-called Christians—those who are spiritual and those who are carnal. He then set forth some of the qualifications of those who are spiritual emphasizing the idea that it is the devoted spirit for which all strive. If it must come to a choice between education and training on the one hand and spirituality on the other hand his choice would be the latter, the speaker declared.

Rev. H. C. Kistler, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, Sheridan, Pa., will be the preacher tonight. He is a college and seminary friend of the pastor, Rev. W. J. H. McKnight. He is said to be a gifted speaker.

Special music will be featured at all the services this week. Duet was given last night by Miss Grace Cochran and Mrs. Ethel Higgs. Baritone solo will be rendered tonight by L. W. Bird.

LEGISLATURE IS SPEEDING WORK

Routine procedure carried both branches of the legislature through long calendars yesterday, while bills were passed and a large number of others were advanced through amendment stage.

Of the five bills which the senate passed during its session one, creating the state veterans' service office, completed its legislative journey, having been passed by the house of delegates last week. Others which the senate passed included a bill giving authority to the state road commission to regulate interstate bus lines in accord with federal law; one extending to justices of peace jurisdiction to enforce the law against disturbing religious worship; one changing fees for examination to practice medicine, and a local bill affecting the Elkins charter, to which the senate first added amendments agreed upon by the senators from that district.

Although its calendar was the longer, only three of the bills in the house were passed, the others being on the first and second readings. The bill which will permit magisterial districts to give financial aid to medical students in order to provide doctors for rural sections went sweeping through with a vote of 83 to 2, after its sponsor, Dr. Crow of Marshall county and several other members had spoken in its behalf and Delegate Sutton of Braxton county had attacked it as unnecessary. The two votes against the measure were those of Delegates Sutton and Beard of Berkeley county. The other bills passed by the house were local measures, one for a Harrison county courthouse, the other affecting state aid for the Upshur county fair.

Time-Saving Way of Tinting

(Copyright 1927)

For perfect tinting of dainty underwear, dresses, etc., the easiest way—and by far the best way—is the use of real dye. It tints in cold water, you know; just dip the garment and it takes whatever tinge you wish to give it. A matter of minutes.

Real dyes will get such smooth and even tones as shame the streaky, wishy-washy work of synthetic preparations for the purpose! Diamond dye in original powder form is only fifteen cents at the drug store. Do your own diluting. Then dip to tint—and you'll have an effect that's beautiful. And if you want the tint permanent, just use boiling water!

Diamond dyes do a perfect, "professional" job of dyeing, too; the druggist has sample shades and simple directions. For a book of endless suggestions, in full color, request a free copy of Color Craft of DIAMOND DYES, Dept. N32, Burlington, Vermont.

Royal Canadian Orchestra to Play For Elks' Dance

Italy may have its opera, Germany its symphony, but jazz is the distinct and undisputed product and possession of America. However, America does not mean New York city or Washington, D. C. Our native jazz has sprung up spontaneously from a dozen different territories, the Mississippi levees, the old Barbary Coast of San Francisco, and now comes an entirely new section of our continent to put in its bid for jazz fame—Canada!

The one man who is responsible for putting Canada on the modern musical map is Guy Lombardo, director of the Royal Canadian dance orchestra which will play for East Liverpool Elks April 19 at Virginia Gardens. The dance will be public.

Though of Canadian origin, the Lombardo orchestra has for years been dispensing its musical wares in these United States. It has held lengthy engagements at the Music Box and the Blossom Heath Inn, Cleveland, where it achieved considerable fame by broadcasting from Station WTAM. INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night. "Outgrow" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

INGROWN NAIL

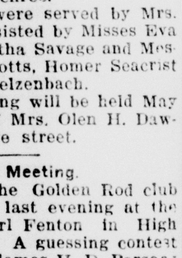

Turns Right Out Itself

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night. "Outgrow" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

BREAK PRECEDENT IN QUEST FOR HEWITT JURY

SIXTH PANEL CALLED IN BOY MURDER TRIAL

Eleven Tentatively Seat in Jefferson Courtroom.

275 QUESTIONED

Prospective Jurors Admit Having Formed Opinion.

JEFFERSON, O., April 12.—Breaking all precedent in the history of Ashtabula county, the quest for a twelfth tentative juror to complete the Floyd Hewitt jury continued here today when court opened with a sixth panel of talesmen summoned for examination.

The fifth venire was exhausted late Monday. Two hundred and seventy-five persons have been questioned and only eleven tentative jurors seated. Attorneys with years of service, say that the number is more than twice that of any preceding quota ever called into this country.

That feeling among many prospective jurors is strongly fixed in regard to the case, is evidenced by the slow progress in filling the jury box. The awfulness of the double murder has eaten its way into the minds and hearts of the majority to such an extent that apparently they can only answer in a vehement affirmative when asked if they have formed any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused.

Mrs. Fred Brown and her son Fred Brown, Jr., 5, were clubbed to death on the night of February 14, at North Conneaut. Floyd Hewitt, 16, of Conneaut, was arrested the following day, and charged with the double slaying. He is to be tried first on the charge of killing the boy.

tors, earned in the year twice as much as Henry Ford.

The question is not how much the individual or the corporation earns, but how the money is earned, how the public is treated in the earning process, and to what extent, if any, individual opportunity is crippled by great combinations.

The more the individual or corporation earns the better for the country, if the earning is done on a fair basis. Great earning normally means high efficiency, cheap production, wide distribution—three things the country needs.

INTEREST yourself in vitamins, Dr. H. C. Sherman, learned professor of chemistry, proves that vitamins bring maturity earlier and makes it last longer. Vitamins are found in milk, butter, lettuce and all green vegetables, cod liver oil, red wine (barred here), should include information on diet. Mothers especially are interested in vitamins.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 12.—A $36,000,000 increase in brokerage loans, as reported in the reserve board's weekly compiliation, was made the excuse for professional selling of speculative stocks at the beginning of trading today. Industrial and railroad stocks wavered at the opening, but with the appearance of good buying demand and strong pool support prices in many sections of the market again were swept forward to heigher levels.

The market again was called upon to absorb a huge volume of profit taking, particularly in motor and specialty stocks which led the advance in the last few sessions. But moderate reactions in these stocks were more than counterbalanced by aggressive advances of International Nickel and other specialties receiving the benefit of powerful pool support.

Business and financial conditions were unchanged, and call money renewals continued at 4½ per cent., with offerings in good volume. Earnings reports of Pan American and Sinclair Oil corporations for 1926 made an excellent comparison with those of the previous year. Pan American earning about $10.75 a share and Sinclair $3.60 a share in 1926, against $1.01 a share in 1925.

A sharp reaction in Freeport Texas carried the stock back to 66 for a drop of about 8 points from yesterday's high. Rumors of a successful market coup by Jesse Livermore and other professionals were circulated in the financial district, but this did not prevent heavy selling of the stock. Texas Gulf Sulphur and other of the recent flyers also yielded to selling pressure, while Victor Talking Machine and a few of the utility shares continued to move upward.

OHIO SENATE PLANS TO HIT SLOT MACHINES

Reconsideration of Vote on De Armond Bill Looms.

MAY AMEND IT

Gov. Donahey Charged "Trickery" Defeated Measure.

By C. H. Maddox.

COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—Agreement to recess the Ohio legislature next Thursday night until Wednesday, April 20, subject to concurrence by the senate, was reached here this afternoon at a caucus of Republican members of the house.

COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—The Ohio senate is expected to reconsider this afternoon the vote by which it defeated, last week, the De Armond bill which seeks to prohibit operation of slot machines and other mechanical devices for gambling purposes.

Indications early today were that the senate will pass the bill, after amending it, and then message it over to the house.

Senator D. H. De Armond, Democrat, Butler county, who introduced the anti-slot machine bill, which was written by Director of Commerce Cyrus Locker at Governor Vic Donahey's request, presented a motion at the session of the senate Monday night that the senate reconsider the vote which defeated this bill and that the motion pend on the senate calendar.

This proposal was agreed to after Senator J. Eugene Roberts, Youngstown, and Senator C. C. Bolton, Cleveland, Republican floor leader, had seconded the motion. Roberts led the fight on the senate floor which defeated the bill last week.

Roberts Will Support Measure.

Senator De Armond's motion was submitted after the senate had referred to the senate rules committee a communication from the governor in which Donahey charged that the De Armond bill had been defeated by "trickery" such as "only the corrupt slot machine lobby would have the courage to engineer," and urged that the senate reconsider its action and then pass the bill.

Senator Roberts stated that he would support the bill if it is amended by providing for outlawing machines which "indicate gambling, directly or indirectly." Roberts said Senator De Armond had approved the proposed amendment.

"I opposed the bill as originally drawn because I believe it would legalize the operation of one certain type of slot machine used for gambling purposes," said Roberts. "I am opposed to gambling in any form.

"With the bill amended, agreeable to Senator De Armond and myself, I can give it my whole-hearted support," Roberts continued. "It is due to come up on the course of the bills for action by the senate today and I predict that it will pass."

Plan 10-Day Recess.

Legislative leaders today continued their efforts to get the work of the session in shape which will permit a 10-day recess at the end of this week. During the proposed recess, it was pointed out, the senate finance committee could complete its consideration of the Williamson bill, the regular Biennial general appropriations measure, appropriating approximately $51,000,000 for meet costs of state governmental operations during the 18-month's period beginning July 1, next. The bill has passed the house.

Returning at the end of the recess the solons would complete the work of the session in a few days, including such action as might be deemed necessary relative to any bills vetoed by the governor.

FLYER READY FOR NEW YORK-PARIS HOP-OFF

Floyd Bennett Says he Will Accomplish Hazardous Trip.

NON-STOP TRIP

He'd Rather Fly Over Ocean Than Over North Pole.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

(Copyright, 1927, by International News Service).

NEW YORK, April 12.—"I flew over the North Pole with Commander Byrd and, after that experience, I'm not figuring our New York-to-Paris non-stop flight will be so awfully hazardous. It will not be an easy undertaking, to be sure, but I am confident it will be accomplished—and within a comparatively short time."

In a quiet and modest manner, Floyd Bennett, probably the most resourceful air pilot in the world, made these statements today in an exclusive interview with the International News Service in which he discussed plans for a non-stop trans-Atlantic flight to take place next month in the monoplane, "America," navigated by Commander Richard E. Byrd, U. S. N., leader of last year's North Pole expedition, with Bennett again as his pilot.

"I'd rather fly over the ocean anytime than over the pole," said Bennett, smiling. "If you come down your chances are better."

Predicts Air Line.

Bennett, a slender, athletic man with steely blue eyes, predicted that the "America" or some other airplane will fly to Paris this year and that, in about ten years, people will be riding back and forth across the ocean with as little compunction as they do today from London to Paris.

The distance from New York to Paris is 3,600 miles. Right now there is sort of a "race" between the commanders of several specially-built planes to see who will be the first to negotiate the flight.

Commander Byrd and Bennett probably will hop off next month. Commander Noel Davis, U. S. N., already has made a test flight in his giant yellow-colored "American Legion." He, too, probably will leave in May, with Lieut. Stanton H. Wooster as his aide. Cleveland Chamberlain and Bert Acosta were today making ready for a 50-hour endurance flight over New York city in a Wright-Bellanca monoplane as a test for a trans-Atlantic trip. Then, also, Charles A. Lindbergh, air mail aviator, is planning a flight to Paris. His Ryan monoplane, equipped with Wright whirling motors, is expected to hop off next week from San Diego for a test flight to St. Louis.

Seek Sustained Flight Record.

MINEOLA, N. Y., April 12.—A Bellanca monoplane, piloted by Bert Acosta and Clarence C. Chamberlain took off at Roosevelt field at 9:30 o'clock this morning in an attempt to make a sustained flight of 50 hours and set a new world record. Part of the flight will be over New York City.

This plane may later attempt the dash from New York to Paris in an effort to win Raymond Orteig's $25,000 prize. This depends largely upon the test started today.

The world record for sustained flight is 45 hours 11 minutes and 59 seconds made in France in August, 1925, by Pilots Drouhin and Landry.

Weather conditions were ideal. It was fairly warm and the sun was shining brightly.

The aviators took along as food a dozen sandwiches, two thermos bottle of coffee, two bottles of soup and a dozen chocolate almond bars.

The flight is being supervised by the National Aeronautical association.

Red Cross Worker Confers With City Chapter Members

Miss Julia Groscup, Columbus, field nursing supervisor of the American Red Cross, addressed members of the executive committee of the East Liverpool chapter at a meeting in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The meeting was preceded by a tray dinner.

Miss Groscup discussed public health nursing.

A nursing committee, headed by Dr. Edward Miskall, health commissioner, is to be organized here. Meeting of this committee will be held at the Y next Monday evening.

Explosion Blamed For $50,000 Fire In Canton Plant

CANTON, O., April 12.—Fire starting from an explosion, believed to have been caused by a lathe machine becoming overheated, damaged the plant of the Berger Manufacturing company, early today, to the extent of approximately $500,000. Flames shooting from the lathe machine ignited paint and the naptha contents of the paint caused the fire to spread very rapidly. All fire fighting apparatus in the city was called out to battle the blaze which broke out between 3:30 and 4:00 o'clock this morning.

POSSIBLE STEEL MERGER HINTED

CLEVELAND, April 12.—A prelude to a possible gigantic merger of northern Ohio steel companies was seen here today following reports from New York, received by local financial circles to the effect that Cyrus S. Eaton, of Otis and company, and other Cleveland capitalists had acquired a large stock interest in the Republic Iron and Steel company.

A report came from Youngstown almost simultaneously which stated that Pittsburgh bankers were interested in the deal.

AMERICAN NOTE HANDED MEXICO

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The American note handed the Mexican foreign office by Ambassador Sheffield today had to do with the arrest and subsequent release of Miguel Avila, an American citizen, it was reported here today.

The state department said the note had nothing to do with the pending major controversy with Mexico over the land and petroleum laws.

Children who get the foods which satisfy their special needs

grow—sleep—play normally

Mothers who are constantly with their children, often cannot judge whether certain physical changes are taking place normally, or not. The changes are so slight from day to day. But they are very important.

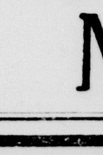

For normal growth, there are special needs which must be liberally provided for, authorities now declare.

One of the most important of these needs is for an abundance of protein. It is helpful to know how much real value certain foods have. Almost one-fourth of a child's daily need for protein is supplied by a cup of Mother's Oats with a cup of milk.

Vitamins are needed, too—and plenty of minerals, if physical development is to be perfect. These also are richly supplied by Mothers's Oats with milk. And energy materials, and bran.

For Mother's Oats is a natural whole-grain food. Its careful millers take pride in using only the cream of the oat crop each year, and then milling it in special ways to preserve all the natural health essentials. Because it is milled with such extra care, it is even-textured and fine—you can count on it always to cook up to the even smoothness that you like—always to have the same rich flavor.

Two kinds—the kind you have always known or Quick (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes). Both with coupons interchangeable with Aunt Jemima coupons, which bring you silverware, household conveniences, toys, etc.

tors, earned in the year twice as much as Henry Ford.

The question is not how much the individual or the corporation earns, but how the money is earned, how the public is treated in the earning process, and to what extent, if any, individual opportunity is crippled by great combinations.

The more the individual or corporation earns the better for the country, if the earning is done on a fair basis. Great earning normally means high efficiency, cheap production, wide distribution—three things the country needs.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 12.—A $36,000,000 increase in brokerage loans, as reported in the reserve board's weekly compiliation, was made the excuse for professional selling of speculative stocks at the beginning of trading today. Industrial and railroad stocks wavered at the opening, but with the appearance of good buying demand and strong pool support prices in many sections of the market again were swept forward to heigher levels.

The market again was called upon to absorb a huge volume of profit taking, particularly in motor and specialty stocks which led the advance in the last few sessions. But moderate reactions in these stocks were more than counterbalanced by aggressive advances of International Nickel and other specialties receiving the benefit of powerful pool support.

Business and financial conditions were unchanged, and call money renewals continued at 4½ per cent., with offerings in good volume. Earnings reports of Pan American and Sinclair Oil corporations for 1926 made an excellent comparison with those of the previous year. Pan American earning about $10.75 a share and Sinclair $3.60 a share in 1926, against $1.01 a share in 1925.

A sharp reaction in Freeport Texas carried the stock back to 66 for a drop of about 8 points from yesterday's high. Rumors of a successful market coup by Jesse Livermore and other professionals were circulated in the financial district, but this did not prevent heavy selling of the stock. Texas Gulf Sulphur and other of the recent flyers also yielded to selling pressure, while Victor Talking Machine and a few of the utility shares continued to move upward.

OHIO SENATE PLANS TO HIT SLOT MACHINES

Reconsideration of Vote on De Armond Bill Looms.

MAY AMEND IT

Gov. Donahey Charged "Trickery" Defeated Measure.

By C. H. Maddox.

COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—Agreement to recess the Ohio legislature next Thursday night until Wednesday, April 20, subject to concurrence by the senate, was reached here this afternoon at a caucus of Republican members of the house.

COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—The Ohio senate is expected to reconsider this afternoon the vote by which it defeated, last week, the De Armond bill which seeks to prohibit operation of slot machines and other mechanical devices for gambling purposes.

Indications early today were that the senate will pass the bill, after amending it, and then message it over to the house.

Senator D. H. De Armond, Democrat, Butler county, who introduced the anti-slot machine bill, which was written by Director of Commerce Cyrus Locker at Governor Vic Donahey's request, presented a motion at the session of the senate Monday night that the senate reconsider the vote which defeated this bill and that the motion pend on the senate calendar.

This proposal was agreed to after Senator J. Eugene Roberts, Youngstown, and Senator C. C. Bolton, Cleveland, Republican floor leader, had seconded the motion. Roberts led the fight on the senate floor which defeated the bill last week.

Roberts Will Support Measure.

Senator De Armond's motion was submitted after the senate had referred to the senate rules committee a communication from the governor in which Donahey charged that the De Armond bill had been defeated by "trickery" such as "only the corrupt slot machine lobby would have the courage to engineer," and urged that the senate reconsider its action and then pass the bill.

Senator Roberts stated that he would support the bill if it is amended by providing for outlawing machines which "indicate gambling, directly or indirectly." Roberts said Senator De Armond had approved the proposed amendment.

"I opposed the bill as originally drawn because I believe it would legalize the operation of one certain type of slot machine used for gambling purposes," said Roberts. "I am opposed to gambling in any form.

"With the bill amended, agreeable to Senator De Armond and myself, I can give it my whole-hearted support," Roberts continued. "It is due to come up on the course of the bills for action by the senate today and I predict that it will pass."

Plan 10-Day Recess.

Legislative leaders today continued their efforts to get the work of the session in shape which will permit a 10-day recess at the end of this week. During the proposed recess, it was pointed out, the senate finance committee could complete its consideration of the Williamson bill, the regular Biennial general appropriations measure, appropriating approximately $51,000,000 for meet costs of state governmental operations during the 18-month's period beginning July 1, next. The bill has passed the house.

Returning at the end of the recess the solons would complete the work of the session in a few days, including such action as might be deemed necessary relative to any bills vetoed by the governor.

She is now in heaven with the angels sing.

FLYER READY FOR NEW YORK-PARIS HOP-OFF

Floyd Bennett Says he Will Accomplish Hazardous Trip.

NON-STOP TRIP

He'd Rather Fly Over Ocean Than Over North Pole.

(Copyright, 1927, by International News Service).

NEW YORK, April 12.—"I flew over the North Pole with Commander Byrd and, after that experience, I'm not figuring our New York-to-Paris non-stop flight will be so awfully hazardous. It will not be an easy undertaking, to be sure, but I am confident it will be accomplished—and within a comparatively short time."

In a quiet and modest manner, Floyd Bennett, probably the most resourceful air pilot in the world, made these statements today in an exclusive interview with the International News Service in which he discussed plans for a non-stop trans-Atlantic flight to take place next month in the monoplane, "America," navigated by Commander Richard E. Byrd, U. S. N, leader of last year's North Pole expedition, with Bennett again as his pilot.

"I'd rather fly over the ocean anytime than over the pole," said Bennett, smiling. "If you come down your chances are better."

Predicts Air Line.

Bennett, a slender, athletic man with steely blue eyes, predicted that the "America" or some other airplane will fly to Paris this year and that, in about ten years, people will be riding back and forth across the ocean with as little compunction as they do today from London to Paris.

The distance from New York to Paris is 3,600 miles. Right now there is sort of a "race" between the commanders of several specially-built planes to see who will be the first to negotiate the flight.

Commander Byrd and Bennett probably will hop off next month. Commander Noel Davis, U. S. N., already has made a test flight in his giant yellow-colored "American Legion." He, too, probably will leave in May, with Lieut. Stanton H. Wooster as his aide. Cleveland Chamberlain and Bert Acosta were today making ready for a 50-hour endurance flight over New York city in a Wright-Bellanca monoplane as a test for a trans-Atlantic trip. Then, also, Charles A. Lindbergh, air mail aviator, is planning a flight to Paris. His Ryan monoplane, equipped with Wright whirling motors, is expected to hop off next week from San Diego for a test flight to St. Louis.

Seek Sustained Flight Record.

MINEOLA, N. Y., April 12.—A Bellanca monoplane, piloted by Bert Acosta and Clarence C. Chamberlain took off at Roosevelt field at 9:30 o'clock this morning in an attempt to make a sustained flight of 50 hours and set a new world record. Part of the flight will be over New York City.

This plane may later attempt the dash from New York to Paris in an effort to win Raymond Orteig's $25,000 prize. This depends largely upon the test started today.

The world record for sustained flight is 45 hours 11 minutes and 59 seconds made in France in August, 1925, by Pilots Drouhin and Landry.

Weather conditions were ideal. It was fairly warm and the sun was shining brightly.

The aviators took along as food a dozen sandwiches, two thermos bottle of coffee, two bottles of soup and a dozen chocolate almond bars.

The flight is being supervised by the National Aeronautical association.

Explosion Blamed For $50,000 Fire In Canton Plant

Children who get the foods which satisfy their special needs

grow—sleep—play normally

Mothers who are constantly with their children, often cannot judge whether certain physical changes are taking place normally, or not. The changes are so slight from day to day. But they are very important.

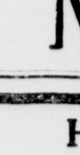

For normal growth, there are special needs which must be liberally provided for, authorities now declare.

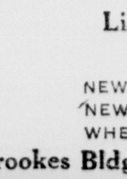

One of the most important of these needs is for an abundance of protein. It is helpful to know how much real value certain foods have. Almost one-fourth of a child's daily need for protein is supplied by a cup of Mother's Oats with a cup of milk.

Vitamins are needed, too—and plenty of minerals, if physical development is to be perfect. These also are richly supplied by Mothers's Oats with milk. And energy materials, and bran.

For Mother's Oats is a natural whole-grain food. Its careful millers take pride in using only the cream of the oat crop each year, and then milling it in special ways to preserve all the natural health essentials. Because it is milled with such extra care, it is even-textured and fine—you can count on it always to cook up to the even smoothness that you like—always to have the same rich flavor.

IRONDALE MAN'S MYSTERIOUS DEATH INVESTIGATED

GRAND JURORS SEEK FACTS IN SHOOTING

William Cook Found in Bed Last January.

SUICIDE HINTED

Inquiry Under Way Today in Jefferson County.

Mysterious death of William Cook on January 6 at his home in Irondale was being investigated today by the Jefferson county grand jury in session in Steubenville.

Several Irondale residents were summoned before the jury as witnesses.

Cook, a sewer pipe plant worker, was found dead in his bed at 6 o'clock on the morning of January 6 by a call boy from the plant at which he was employed. The boy failed to arouse Cook and the investigation which led to the finding of his body followed.

Cook had been shot through the temple and the gun from which the death bullet had been discharged was lying at his side.

Cook's wife, the only other inmate of the home, denied all knowledge of the shooting, asserting that she had not heard the report of the revolver.

No arrests were made in the shooting at the time, as Jefferson county authorities endeavored to determine whether the act was one of suicide or murder.

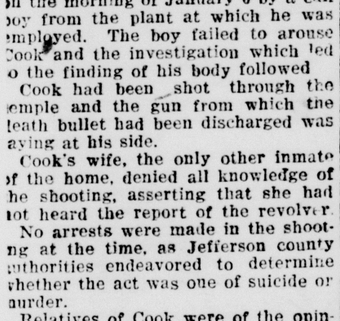

Relatives of Cook were of the opinion at the time that Cook had killed himself, but, according to Prosecuting Attorney Roy Merryman, new evidence has been disclosed which may lead to indictments.

Removed from Hospital.

Miss Dorothy Elizabeth, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fogo, of Commerce street, who has been a patient for the past week in the East Liverpool City hospital, has been removed to her home.

In the absence of Dr. Donald MacLeod, the pastor, who had been called to a Wellsville pulpit for the evening, Rev. A. H. O'Brien presided at the meeting.

The invocation and benediction were given by Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First Methodist church.

The music was under the direction of Oliver Johnson with Mrs. Harry Watkins as pianist. With Mrs. Elizabeth Burford Baker, Mr. Johnson sang, "God's Untold Grace" and later himself contributed a solo, "He Is My Saviour Now." An introductory prayer was made by Rev. Mr. O'Brien.

The Scripture lesson, which consisted of Christ's intercessionary prayer as chronicled by John was read by Rev. Mr. Conn. Upon it he based his discourse.

In his introduction of Rev. Mr. Conn, Rev. Mr. O'Brien asserted: "We in this manner of observing Holy week are endeavoring to visualize to ourselves and those without the church fold in the degree possible the open heart of the Almighty God."

Profoundly sensing the unlimited truths of the seeming incomprehensible affirmations of Christ in this his special plea for those whom he held as his personal, peculiar followers, Rev. Mr. Conn unqualifiedly bulwarked as with foundation stones his message with the assertion that "there is and must ever be a discernible line of demarcation between the true followers of the Master and those not accepting Him."

That the Christ on this occasion was praying out of the very depths of His soul, as perhaps He had never in His human character prayed before was observed by Rev. Mr. Conn. "It was a vital petition, pungent with truth and immeasurably wide in its scope," he said. "It was a high priestly prayer in that He entered the veritable Holy of Holies on the eve of His crucifixion.

"He referred to His pre-existence with God in this prayer asking that He be glorified with the glory that was His before the world was. His divinity thus was admitted by Himself, a divinity which the finite mind can not fully understand. His pre-existence indicates his previous presence with the Father, their equality and the very oneness that characterizes their relationship."

Rev. Mr. Conn referred to the prayer as one for the preservation of those whom he called his own, declaring for their sanctification, singleness of heart making for a unity in the dispensation of His Spirit and a general purpose of the evangelization of the world.

New Crops for Palestine.

New staple crops are being introduced into Palestine. Among those that are being tried out by the Palestine Department of Agriculture are nuts, flax and sunflowers, the department also giving much attention to the fertilization of the soil. This work under the department is largely directed toward benefitting the local Arab fellaheen, or peasant farmer, because the interest of the Jawish settlers are so well cared for by the Zionist organization. Because of the success of the orange shower at Jaifa last year, the event was placed on a permanant basis and a second show held recently also was well received by the large crowds it atracted.

IRONDALE MAN'S MYSTERIOUS DEATH INVESTIGATED

GRAND JURORS SEEK FACTS IN SHOOTING

William Cook Found in Bed Last January.

SUICIDE HINTED

Inquiry Under Way Today in Jefferson County.

Mysterious death of William Cook on January 6 at his home in Irondale was being investigated today by the Jefferson county grand jury in session in Steubenville.

Several Irondale residents were summoned before the jury as witnesses.

Cook, a sewer pipe plant worker, was found dead in his bed at 6 o'clock on the morning of January 6 by a call boy from the plant at which he was employed. The boy failed to arouse Cook and the investigation which led to the finding of his body followed.

Cook had been shot through the temple and the gun from which the death bullet had been discharged was laying at his side.

Cook's wife, the only other inmate of the home, denied all knowledge of the shooting, asserting that she had not heard the report of the revolver.

No arrests were made in the shooting at the time, as Jefferson county authorities endeavored to determine whether the act was one of suicide or murder.

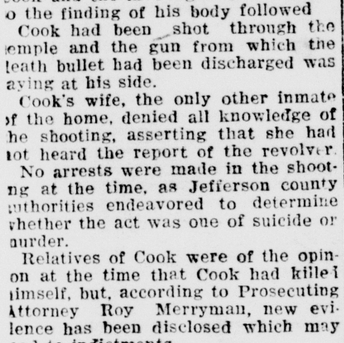

Relatives of Cook were of the opinion at the time that Cook had killed himself, but, according to Prosecuting Attorney Roy Merryman, new evidence has been disclosed which may lead to indictments.

Rev. A. H. O'Brien Speaks Tonight in Church of Christ.

"Passion week means that the church itself shall during it obtain a new vision of the Christ," declared Rev. C. B. Conn, pastor of the Orchard Grove and Anderson Methodist Episcopal Congregations in the initial Holy interval service at the Presbyterian church last evening. The present series of meetings both downtown and in the East End is being held under the auspices of the Ministerial association.

The First Church of Christ on East Fourth street will be utilized for tonight's gathering of churchmen and others wishing to attend. The sermon will be preached by Rev. A. H. O'Brien, pastor of the Baptist church.

In the absence of Dr. Donald MacLeod, the pastor, who had been called to a Wellsville pulpit for the evening, Rev. A. H. O'Brien presided at the meeting.

Henry Ford Enlists In Buckeye Fight On Corn Borer

SOUTH CHARLESTON, O.—Henry Ford has enlisted in Ohio fight against the corn borer in this section. The Detroit auto manufacturer who owns and operates the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton road which passes through here is selling ten foot sections of worn steel rails to farmers for less than cost. The rails are being used as drags behind tractors.

The weight of the steel rail dragging over the ground when it is being prepared for seed, breaks off the corn stubble and grinds it up, exposing the corn borer larvae to the weather and to the birds which follow the drag and eat the larvae.

Good results are obtained by this method, it is reported.

The corn is being cut close to the ground as the larvae is said to travel down to the base of the stalk for the winter.

Here's the Secret of Joyful Health

"Many years ago," says Grandpa, "when I felt older than I do to-day I made a study of how to keep fit.

"I learned that there are six salts which Nature demands for the body's healthy life. I also discovered that, because of my occupation, my body wasn't getting its proper supply of them. Every day, in fact, my system was crying out for those six salts.

"Then I found Kruschen, which contains just those six salts in Nature's own proportion, and ever since I have been able to supply my body's daily needs in the easiest possible fashion.

"It's the little daily dose that does it," says Grandpa.

Let us carry this a little further.

The bases of the six salts to which Grandpa refers are Potassium, Magnesium, and Sodium, and you feel well or ill according to the accuracy with which you maintain Nature's balance of them in your body. The analysis of Kruschen Salts, printed on every bottle, proves that they do actually make good the daily deficiency of these ingredients that millions, of men and women daily experience. Mark you—the daily deficiency.

It's the little daily dose that does it.

Millions of men and women who have adopted the healthy Kruschen habit find that the feeling of fitness, cheeriness, self-confidence and energy it produces is always with them. What is the explanation?

It's the little daily does that does it.

Every morning drop two tablets of Kruschen Salts in your coffee or tea—it dissolves instantly and is tasteless that way or if you prefer take them in a glass of hot water.

It is great to have a clear skin

A clear skin means everything to the popularity of men and women. You cannot get it with external applications. If you are unfortunate enough to have pimples or skin blemishes, in justice to your friends and yourself, you should treat the source of the trouble. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired.

Thousands have been enabled to free themselves of unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tried and reliable.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Henry Ford Enlists In Buckeye Fight On Corn Borer

SOUTH CHARLESTON, O.—Henry Ford has enlisted in Ohio fight against the corn borer in this section. The Detroit auto manufacturer who owns and operates the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton road which passes through here is selling ten foot sections of worn steel rails to farmers for less than cost. The rails are being used as drags behind tractors.

The weight of the steel rail dragging over the ground when it is being prepared for seed, breaks off the corn stubble and grinds it up, exposing the corn borer larvae to the weather and to the birds which follow the drag and eat the larvae.

Good results are obtained by this method, it is reported.

The corn is being cut close to the ground as the larvae is said to travel down to the base of the stalk for the winter.

Here's the Secret of Joyful Health

"Many years ago," says Grandpa, "when I felt older than I do to-day I made a study of how to keep fit.

"I learned that there are six salts which Nature demands for the body's healthy life. I also discovered that, because of my occupation, my body wasn't getting its proper supply of them. Every day, in fact, my system was crying out for those six salts.

"Then I found Kruschen, which contains just those six salts in Nature's own proportion, and ever since I have been able to supply my body's daily needs in the easiest possible fashion.

"It's the little daily dose that does it," says Grandpa.

Let us carry this a little further.

The bases of the six salts to which Grandpa refers are Potassium, Magnesium, and Sodium, and you feel well or ill according to the accuracy with which you maintain Nature's balance of them in your body. The analysis of Kruschen Salts, printed on every bottle, proves that they do actually make good the daily deficiency of these ingredients that millions, of men and women daily experience. Mark you—the daily deficiency.

It's the little daily dose that does it.

Millions of men and women who have adopted the healthy Kruschen habit find that the feeling of fitness, cheeriness, self-confidence and energy it produces is always with them. What is the explanation?

It's the little daily does that does it.

Every morning drop two tablets of Kruschen Salts in your coffee or tea—it dissolves instantly and is tasteless that way or if you prefer take them in a glass of hot water.

COMMISSIONERS HOLD HEARING

Not an objection was filed with the county commissioners Monday when there was a hearing on the resolution to improve the East Palestine-East Liverpool intercounty highway in St. Clair and Middleton townships.

About 15 property owners along this road appeared before the commissioners, and while they voiced no objection to the road improvement program, their conversations had to do with the amount of land that is to be taken from present tracts for new road purposes.

Many of these property owners are leaving the matter in the hands of the commissioners for final adjustment, while others have placed a value on land that will be necessary to make the road.

Some of these property owners intimated that it was their desire to have the road both graded and surfaced this year, but were informed that only grading contracts are to be awarded this spring.

275,000 Fans To Pass Through Baseball Turnstiles Today

Appeal of National Game Draws Throngs Despite "Scandals"

Ty Cobb, in Athletics Uniform, Co-attraction With Babe Ruth; Speaker to Draw Them in at Washington; Ex-world's Series Pilot in Togs of Giants; Great Season Forecast.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 12.—That bubbling, effervescent glass of champagne, which alternately pleases the palate and irritates the nostrils, will be served over the plate to the American public in eight major league cities today, while some 275,000 customers as usual will neglect to quaff in moderation and, for the day at least, will try to grow young disgracefully. Everyone has heard the bedtime story about the fellow who could take his or let it alone until after breakfast. But he was one of those strong, silent men and, anyhow, he wasn't talking about his baseball.

The appeal of the game to strong and weak, rich and poor, famous and obscure, silent and garrulous, is one of the ingrained fibres of American existence, a part of our national life that endures through the ages.

One year ago, the police of several cities were watching every passing face for a likeness to a famous burglar who had murdered rather than accept arrest. They found him at the Polo grounds sitting in at the season's opening game between the Giants and Dodgers. His typically American impulse, perhaps his only redeeming one, had betrayed him.

Game is Stronger.

So today, in spite of backstairs scandals that attempted to impugn the ethics of some of baseball's immortals, capacity and near-capacity crowds will be in every park. The lure of the game was stronger than one man's dread of arrest; it is and forever will be stronger than insinuations and innuendos that failed of proof.

Not by design but purely through fortuitous circumstance, baseball has rearranged its resources in such a way that no opening within the memory of modern man carries quite the appeal of the present one. Ty Cobb will appear at the local stadium as the co-attraction with Ruth and he will be wearing the uniform of the Philadelphia Athletics for the first time in league competition. On the same club will be Eddie Collins and Zach Wheat, also noted off-season transfers, and Joe Boley and Dudley Branom, noted minor leaguers, to say nothing of the fact that the outfit has two stars for every position.

Reserved Sections Sold.

The teams will play to the stadium's more than 60,000 capacity, if given a fair break in the weather. The reserved sections were sold to the last ticket yesterday.

Hardly less intriguing, if at all, than the spectacle of Cobb in a Philadelphia uniform will be that of Tris Speaker playing center field for Washington. Tris, generally rated as the beau ideal of all defensive outfielders, is just another of a list of notable transfers.

What, for example, could be more engaging than the prospect of watching the man who managed the present world's champions playing second base for a rival club? That, however, is exactly what will happen today when Rogers Hornsby takes the field in Philadelphia today as a member of the New York Giants, supported in the outfield by Ed Roush, previously regarded as a Cincinnati institution.

For The First Time In Years

WALTER JOHNSON

Walter Johnson, king of American league pitchers, will not be in shape to take his turn in the box when the big circuits open their respective campaigns today. An injury to his ankle forced him to discontinue spring training and retarded his conditioning

Eight New Managers.

Their appearance with the Giants meant the passing of Frank Frisch to St. Louis and George Kelly to Cincinnati, by which once against the public's desire to see old friends in new surroundings was served.

The clubs that haven't new stars are satisfied with what they had and those that weren't, lost no time in getting new managers. Of these, there are eight in all—Donie Bush, of the Pirates; Ray Schalk, of the White Sox; Bill Carrigan, Boston idol who returns to the Red Sox; George Moriarty, of the Tigers; Dan Howley, of the Browns; Stuffy McInnis, of the Phillies; Jack McCallister, of the Indians, and Bob O'Farrell, of the champion Cardinals.

No, it doesn't seem possible that this, of all baseball inaugurals, can miss. It already has everything that a good show needs, except the customary loss of life among female grandparents and a dash of good weather.

"ALL-STAR" PUGS AWAITING BELL

CHICAGO, April 12.—The four principals in Promoter Jim Mullen's "all star" boxing show at the Coliseum tonight finished training "without a scratch and were lounging about their quarters today awaiting the call to battle.

They include Dave Shade and Phil Krug, who are scheduled for ten rounds at 158 pounds, and Bill Petrolle, the "Fargo Express" and King Tut of Minneapolis, who will step ten rounds at 135 pounds.

Although the Shade-Krug affair is billed as the windup, there is as much or more interest in the King Tut-Petrolle match. The king, who has built quite a "rep" on the Pacific coast has never appeared here and local fans are eager to see his wares.

If Shade makes an impressive showing against Krug, he has the promise of a championship fight with Micky Walker here this summer.

ZYBSZKO TOSSED BY JOE STECHER

NEW YORK, April 12. — Another scalp dangled today at the belt of Joe Stecher, claimant to the heavyweight wrestling title. The Nebraskan threw Wladek Zbyszko with a backdrop after 45 minutes of wrestling here last night. Ray Steel, California collegian, was pinned to the mat by Jim Londos in 36 minutes, 41 seconds. Londos threw Steele over his head five times with flying mares and the collegian had to be carried to his corner at the end.

Wally Pipp Absent.

CINCINNATI, O., April 12. — With Wally Pipp absent from his keystone sack station as a result of illness, the Reds were on the eve of an opening game with the Pirates facing a rain forecast today. George Kelly probably will be shifted to first, and Pittenger, a recruit, to second. Pete Donohue will essay to turn in his fourth opening game victory, opposing Ray Kremer, Pirate ace.

Jess Petty pitched the opening game for the Brooklyn Robins last year and held the New York Giants to one hit.

WANTS MALONEY FOR RISKO BOUT

NEW YORK, April 12.—Trouble loomed for Promoter Tex Rickard today in the threat of Walter Taylor, Cleveland promoter, to invoke the law in an effort to force Jimmy Maloney to go through with a Johnny Risko fight in Cleveland before May 1.

Taylor had Maloney and Risko signed up for a February battle when Rickard came along with the Jack Delaney match at the Garden.

Maloney begged off in Cleveland, promising to go back there this month to tangle with Risko. However, Rickard shudders at the idea of subjecting his heavyweight bric-a-brac to the bulling of the Cleveland strong boy. Maloney and Jack Sharkey are set for a $500,000 fight at the Yankee stadium on May 19 and Tex insists that neither shall engage in any preliminary glove flirtations.

275,000 Fans To Pass Through Baseball Turnstiles Today

Appeal of National Game Draws Throngs Despite "Scandals"

Ty Cobb, in Athletics Uniform, Co-attraction With Babe Ruth; Speaker to Draw Them in at Washington; Ex-world's Series Pilot in Togs of Giants; Great Season Forecast.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 12.—That bubbling, effervescent glass of champagne, which alternately pleases the palate and irritates the nostrils, will be served over the plate to the American public in eight major league cities today, while some 275,000 customers as usual will neglect to quaff in moderation and, for the day at least, will try to grow young disgracefully. Everyone has heard the bedtime story about the fellow who could take his or let it alone until after breakfast. But he was one of those strong, silent men and, anyhow, he wasn't talking about his baseball.

The appeal of the game to strong and weak, rich and poor, famous and obscure, silent and garrulous, is one of the ingrained fibres of American existence, a part of our national life that endures through the ages.

One year ago, the police of several cities were watching every passing face for a likeness to a famous burglar who had murdered rather than accept arrest. They found him at the Polo grounds sitting in at the season's opening game between the Giants and Dodgers. His typically American impulse, perhaps his only redeeming one, had betrayed him.

Game is Stronger.

So today, in spite of backstairs scandals that attempted to impugn the ethics of some of baseball's immortals, capacity and near-capacity crowds will be in every park. The lure of the game was stronger than one man's dread of arrest; it is and forever will be stronger than insinuations and innuendos that failed of proof.

Not by design but purely through fortuitous circumstance, baseball has rearranged its resources in such a way that no opening within the memory of modern man carries quite the appeal of the present one. Ty Cobb will appear at the local stadium as the co-attraction with Ruth and he will be wearing the uniform of the Philadelphia Athletics for the first time in league competition. On the same club will be Eddie Collins and Zach Wheat, also noted off-season transfers, and Joe Boley and Dudley Branom, noted minor leaguers, to say nothing of the fact that the outfit has two stars for every position.

Reserved Sections Sold.

The teams will play to the stadium's more than 60,000 capacity, if given a fair break in the weather. The reserved sections were sold to the last ticket yesterday.

Hardly less intriguing, if at all, than the spectacle of Cobb in a Philadelphia uniform will be that of Tris Speaker playing center field for Washington. Tris, generally rated as the beau ideal of all defensive outfielders, is just another of a list of notable transfers.

What, for example, could be more engaging than the prospect of watching the man who managed the present world's champions playing second base for a rival club? That, however, is exactly what will happen today when Rogers Hornsby takes the field in Philadelphia today as a member of the New York Giants, supported in the outfield by Ed Roush, previously regarded as a Cincinnati institution.

Eight New Managers.

Their appearance with the Giants meant the passing of Frank Frisch to St. Louis and George Kelly to Cincinnati, by which once against the public's desire to see old friends in new surroundings was served.

The clubs that haven't new stars are satisfied with what they had and those that weren't, lost no time in getting new managers. Of these, there are eight in all—Donie Bush, of the Pirates; Ray Schalk, of the White Sox; Bill Carrigan, Boston idol who returns to the Red Sox; George Moriarty, of the Tigers; Dan Howley, of the Browns; Stuffy McInnis, of the Phillies; Jack McCallister, of the Indians, and Bob O'Farrell, of the champion Cardinals.

No, it doesn't seem possible that this, of all baseball inaugurals, can miss. It already has everything that a good show needs, except the customary loss of life among female grandparents and a dash of good weather.

WALTER JOHNSON

Walter Johnson, king of American league pitchers, will not be in shape to take his turn in the box when the big circuits open their respective campaigns today. An injury to his ankle forced him to discontinue spring training and retarded his conditioning.

HOLD OPENING BEAGLE EVENT

Valley Club Stages Successful Field Trials.

With a gallery of 50 or more district dog owners, surprisingly large in view of the fact that the event was the first here in many years the Ohio Valley Beagle club held its first 1927 field trials Saturday on the Brennaman farm, back of Congo.

The club ran hounds in two classes, 13-inch and 15-inch. There was plenty of game up and the entrants ran well, the entire affair being staged without a hitch of any kind.

The winners were:

In the 13-inch class: First, Albright's Beauty (M. Camarda); second, Locust Grove Peggy (Midland); third, Cobb's Dorret (Cobb); fourth, Locust Grove Jumbo (M. Camarda).

In the 15-inch class: First, Newell's Black Jack (W. E. Wells, Jr.); second, Locust Grove Tutt (Camarda); third, Locust Grove Susie (Camarda); fourth, Frost of McLane (William Hoyt).

The judges included Dr. E. J. State, W. E. Wells, Jr., and W. W. Beatty.

"ALL-STAR" PUGS AWAITING BELL

CHICAGO, April 12.—The four principals in Promoter Jim Mullen's "all star" boxing show at the Coliseum tonight finished training "without a scratch and were lounging about their quarters today awaiting the call to battle.

They include Dave Shade and Phil Krug, who are scheduled for ten rounds at 158 pounds, and Bill Petrolle, the "Fargo Express" and King Tut of Minneapolis, who will step ten rounds at 135 pounds.

Although the Shade-Krug affair is billed as the windup, there is as much or more interest in the King Tut-Petrolle match. The king, who has built quite a "rep" on the Pacific coast has never appeared here and local fans are eager to see his wares.

If Shade makes an impressive showing against Krug, he has the promise of a championship fight with Micky Walker here this summer.

ZYBSZKO TOSSED BY JOE STECHER

NEW YORK, April 12. — Another scalp dangled today at the belt of Joe Stecher, claimant to the heavyweight wrestling title. The Nebraskan threw Wladek Zbyszko with a backdrop after 45 minutes of wrestling here last night. Ray Steel, California collegian, was pinned to the mat by Jim Londos in 36 minutes, 41 seconds. Londos threw Steele over his head five times with flying mares and the collegian had to be carried to his corner at the end.

TURK NASH CLUB MEET TONIGHT

Meeting of the Turk Nash City Industrial league club will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Turk Nash salesrooms, Dresden avenue.

The club will elect officers and complete other plans incidental to the opening of the campaign.

Wally Pipp Absent.

CINCINNATI, O., April 12. — With Wally Pipp absent from his keystone sack station as a result of illness, the Reds were on the eve of an opening game with the Pirates facing a rain forecast today. George Kelly probably will be shifted to first, and Pittenger, a recruit, to second. Pete Donohue will essay to turn in his fourth opening game victory, opposing Ray Kremer, Pirate ace.

Jess Petty pitched the opening game for the Brooklyn Robins last year and held the New York Giants to one hit.

The Motors rolled a grand total of 2,063, while the Bankers, far from their customary form, were unable to reach farther than 1,883.

Bucheit, of the Motors, massaged the polished fairways for a total of 482 in three games, his 184 in the opener also bringing down honors for high single game count.

Three members of the Turk-Nash quint passed the 400 mark by substantial figures while Blythe, with a 403, was the only individual on the Banker combine to duplicate.

Ward and Mackey ,the losing pitchers, were hit freely, the Rinkeydinks connecting for 14 safeties.

The Rinkeydinks are out with a challenge to any 18-year-old teams in the vicinity, as well as in Chester, Newell, Lisbon, Salineville and Midland.

Elks and Midland Cage Teams to Play Benefit Here Friday

Former Newell Youth Lining Up With Bucs

Herman Layne, One Time Pottery Worker, Battling With Clyde Barnhart for Regular Position on Pittsburgh Outfield.

CLYDE BARNHART HERMAN LAYNE

Donie Bush, new Pirate manager, isn't worrying about his pitching or offensive strength, but he has at least one problem to solve — picking the third man for his outfield and a second baseman.

And his choice, it appears, lies between Herman Lane, a former Newell boy, and Clyde Barnhart.

Lane is well known in Newell and East Liverpool, where he made many friends back in 1916 when he was sponsing cups for Jim Reese and Otto Newlen in the pottery league.

He banged the ball at a .350 clip for Toronto of the International league last season and is expected to produce many timely base hits for the Bucs this season.

Lane and his brother, Harry, who is the property of the St. Louis Nationals, came here from New Haven, W. Va. They spent a year or more here and then went to Canton where Herman really got his baseball start with a Canton professional outfit. From there he went to North Carolina and later was picked up by Detroit. Detroit let him go to Toronto of the International loop where he proceeded to hammer the ball all over the lot. He is a fast man on the bases and a strong defensive outgardener.

Lane visited with William Townley and family, in Newell, for several days prior to the start of the spring training season.

Flag Chances

By Connie Mack,
Manager Philadelphia Athletics.

MACK

I FEEL younger this spring than I have in years. My ball club is responsible. After all of those losing years I feel like I am starting a new chapter in my managerial career. I cannot say too many kind things about my boys — that's what they are, my boys — Ty, Eddie Collins, Zack Wheat, and all of them. I did not ask for any of the credit when I was winning pennants, and I do not want any if my team goes over this year. I am not going to say we will win. I have been at this game too long to become so bold so early in the season. I'll know more about my chances next September. I'll have no complaint to make if I lose. I tried to rebuild my team up to the top in purchasing the players I did during the winter, and I honestly believe I have as good a chance as anybody in the league. I am satisfied with my pitching staff, my catchers, my infield and my outfield. I wouldn't change a single position or trade with anybody in the league. If they beat this team I won't know which way to turn next winter to improve what I have.

ALEX ASKS TO WORK TODAY

Would Rather Beat Cubs Than Eat, he Says.

CHICAGO, April 12.—If the weather man is kind, Chicagoans to the number of 40,000 are expected to turn out today for the opening of the National league season at Cubs park.

These figures are compiled on the basis of advance ticket sales, which has been one of the heaviest on record. Weather indications, however, are that it may be either snowing or raining at game time.

The game will give the fans their first glimpse of McCarthy's 1927 pennant hopes and the re-vamped world championship team from St. Louis.

Charlie Root, who bore the brunt of the Cubs' mound work last season, is slated to open against the veteran Grover Cleveland Alexander, who labored so many years in Bruin orgery.

The great Alex, usually slow to develop owing to his advanced age, is said to have asked his old battery mate, Bob O'Farrell now manager of the Cardinals for the opening assignment against the Cubs.

"I'd rather beat that team than eat," smiled Alex, "and everybody knows I never miss a meal."

Alexander, the outstanding hero of last season's world's series, was given his walking papers by McCarthy after he allegedly persisted in breaking training rules.

Ban Will Stick To Work.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league, for the first time in many years will not attend an opening game, he announced today. He will spend today at work in his office, he said, in an effort to catch up after his three months' vacation.

Nowadays very few of the prominent boxers have cauliflower ears. The reason is that they avoid the punishment usually welcomed by the old-time battlers who were willing to take several blows in order to land one.

HERE'S OPENING DAY SCHEDULE

Detroit at St. Louis.
Chicago at Cleveland.

Uhle, Lyons Hurl For Tribe and Sox

Bernie Neis Will Probably Play in Speaker's Place.

CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—Greeted by clear skies, the Speakerless Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox, minus Eddie Collins, open the American League season here today—if it doesn't rain.

Although the weatherman has predicted showers, there was no sign of threatening clouds this morning.

Jack McCallister, the new Indian chief, is expected to send George Uhle, premier pitcher of the American League last season, to the mound for the tribe, with Luke Sewell doing the catching. Ted Lyons will probably start the hurling for the White Sox, with Manager Ray Schalk himself, receiving.

The only new face in the Indian lineup will be Bernie Neis, who will probably play center, Tris Speaker's old pasture field. Lutzke has recovered from a strained back and will be dancing around third base.

City Manager Hopkins is booked to pitch the first ball at 3 p. m.

Horseshoe Meeting.

A meeting will be held Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Liberty bowling alleys to organize a horseshoe league. Those desiring to enter are requested to be present.

Contest Will Boost Frank Neilson Fund; Last Tilt Of Season

Fourth Meeting of Arch Rivals Should Bring Out Big Crowd, Despite Lateness of Season; Pennsylvanians Hold Series Victory.

Frank Neilson, Bell school house pottery worker, who was injured several months ago in a mine accident, will be the beneficiary of East Liverpool's final basketball game of the season which has closed or is coming to a close, depending on the viewpoint, to be staged Friday night in the high school auditorium with the two arch rivals, Midland Collegians and the Elks lined up against each other.

The Antlers originally had planned to complete their basketball campaign against the Enoch Rauh club of the Allegheny county league which they defeated here Saturday night but agreed to respond to the appeal for aid for the Neilson family.

Neilson, who is lying on a bed in the City hospital with a broken back as a result of the accident in which he figured, is unable to support his family. Friends and others here have come to their relief and it is expected that a fairly good sum will be realized through the benefit basketball game.

The Collegians defeated the Elks in a three-game series, winning the second and third encounters, with Ray Wilde out of the local lineup.

Wilde returned to the game Saturday night and possibly will line up with the squad against the Collegians here Friday.

ST. LOUIS, April 12.—Whitehill and Bassler and Zachary and [illegible] to be the respective batteries for the Tigers and Browns today. The Tigers are in fine condition while the Browns are handicapped by injuries.

PHILS OPENING AGAINST GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA, April 12. — The Phillies, Philadelphia's rejuvenated National league entry, open the season here this afternoon against John McGraw's expensive collection of baseball talent. Prospects of seeing the local entry work out under the leadership of the new manager, "Stuffy" McInnis, against Rogers Hornsby, Ed Roush and the other stars of the Giants, promised to draw more than the usual crowd. The weather was ideal.

Hal Carlson is scheduled to do the hurling for the Phils, while McGraw indicated he would use Burleigh Grimes.

Mostil To Attend Opener.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Johnny Mostil will spend a strange "opening day" for a major league baseball star. Instead of being in his usual place in center field for the White Sox, playing today in Cleveland, Mostil will occupy a box at Cubs park to witness the opening clash between Chicago and St. Louis. He is convalescing from an attempt at suicide.

The opening of the American league season a year ago was featured by a 15-inning game in which Washington defeated Philadelphia 1 to 0.

The league plays seven inning games, beginning at 4:30 o'clock. The winner at the end of the regular schedule will play a picked team from the other two entrants in a three-game series on May 23, 24 and 25.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

The opening of the baseball season automatically ends the open season on pennant predictions, of course. It isn't ethical to pick the winners after the race starts—although sharpshooters sometimes get away with that in horse racing by means of handy wires.

The number and variety of predictions made on the major league scramble this season are as great as ever—and show just as much diversion of opinion.

However, all those who made public predictions have one thing in common. They will probably come in for more criticism than those who did'nt. For two reasons.

First, because the hunch player stands almost as much chance—in a field of 16, of picking two winners.

Second, because those who made their predictions publicly, must stick by 'em.

New fangled ideas in "picking" the winners have come into vogue. One writer of note selects a group of three teams to fight it out for the pennant in each league.

This is a good idea, except for the fact that he will look much worse if he misses on all three guesses than he would on the one guess, had he named one choice. And naming three of a possible eight as possible pennant winners makes the matter of prediction a more conservative act.

Personally I would just as soon forget the annual practice, but as long as all my personal friends nad acquaintances expect me to get out on a limb—and often force me to—I feel the others are interested in seeing me go wrong as well.

Dispatches from Berlin say that German police are planning to checkmate an expected outburst of the Communists, slated for the occasion of the first appearance of Bill Tilden, tennis wizard, during his tour of Europe, which opens in Germany.

Just why the Reds should pick the day on which Tilden performs is a mystery. Tilden is the leading exponent of "direct action on the tennis courts today. Ask the myriad of tennis stars who tried to halt him during six years—the six he held the national title and carried the Davis Cup team.

As a matter of fact, Tilden's presence has nothing to do with the proposed demonstration. It so happens that the Reds plan the uprising to neutralize the effect of a "holiday" to be staged by the Nationalists.

Former Newell Youth Lining Up With Bucs

Herman Layne, One Time Pottery Worker, Battling With Clyde Barnhart for Regular Position on Pittsburgh Outfield.

CLYDE BARNHART HERMAN LAYNE

Donie Bush, new Pirate manager, isn't worrying about his pitching or offensive strength, but he has at least one problem to solve — picking the third man for his outfield and a second baseman.

And his choice, it appears, lies between Herman Lane, a former Newell boy, and Clyde Barnhart.

Lane is well known in Newell and East Liverpool, where he made many friends back in 1916 when he was sponging cups for Jim Reese and Otto Newlen in the pottery league.

He banged the ball at a .350 clip for Toronto of the International league last season and is expected to produce many timely base hits for the Bucs this season.

Lane and his brother, Harry, who is the property of the St. Louis Nationals, came here from New Haven, W. Va. They spent a year or more here and then went to Canton where Herman really got his baseball start with a Canton professional outfit. From there he went to North Carolina and later was picked up by Detroit. Detroit let him go to Toronto of the International loop where he proceeded to hammer the ball all over the lot. He is a fast man on the bases and a strong defensive outgardener.

Lane visited with William Townley and family, in Newell, for several days prior to the start of the spring training season.

Flag Chances

By Connie Mack,
Manager Philadelphia Athletics.

MACK

I FEEL younger this spring than I have in years. My ball club is responsible. After all of those losing years I feel like I am starting a new chapter in my managerial career. I cannot say too many kind things about my boys — that's what they are, my boys — Ty, Eddie Collins, Zack Wheat, and all of them. I did not ask for any of the credit when I was winning pennants, and I do not want any if my team goes over this year. I am not going to say we will win. I have been at this game too long to become so bold so early in the season. I'll know more about my chances next September. I'll have no complaint to make if I lose. I tried to rebuild my team up to the top in purchasing the players I did during the winter, and I honestly believe I have as good a chance as anybody in the league. I am satisfied with my pitching staff, my catchers, my infield and my outfield. I wouldn't change a single position or trade with anybody in the league. If they beat this team I won't know which way to turn next winter to improve what I have.

ALEX ASKS TO WORK TODAY

Would Rather Beat Cubs Than Eat, he Says.

CHICAGO, April 12.—If the weather man is kind, Chicagoans to the number of 40,000 are expected to turn out today for the opening of the National league season at Cubs park.

These figures are compiled on the basis of advance ticket sales, which has been one of the heaviest on record. Weather indications, however, are that it may be either snowing or raining at game time.

The game will give the fans their first glimpse of McCarthy's 1927 pennant hopes and the re-vamped world championship team from St. Louis

Charlie Root, who bore the brunt of the Cubs' mound work last season, is slated to open against the veteran Grover Cleveland Alexander, who labored so many years in Bruin orgery.

The great Alex, usually slow to develop owing to his advanced age, is said to have asked his old battery mate, Bob O'Farrell now manager of the Cardinals for the opening assignment against the Cubs

"I'd rather beat that team than eat," smiled Alex, "and everybody knows I never miss a meal."

Alexander, the outstanding hero of last season's world's series, was given his walking papers by McCarthy after he allegedly persisted in breaking training rules.

Ban Will Stick To Work.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league, for the first time in many years will not attend an opening game, he announced today. He will spend today at work in his office, he said, in an effort to catch up after his three months' vacation.

Nowadays very few of the prominent boxers have cauliflower ears. The reason is that they avoid the punishment usually welcomed by the old-time battlers who were willing to take several blows in order to land one.

Detroit at St. Louis.
Chicago at Cleveland.

Uhle, Lyons Hurl For Tribe and Sox

Bernie Neis Will Probably Play in Speaker's Place.

CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—Greeted by clear skies, the Speakerless Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox, minus Eddie Collins, open the American League season here today—if it doesn't rain.

Although the weatherman has predicted showers, there was no sign of threatening clouds this morning.

Jack McCallister, the new Indian chief, is expected to send George Uhle, premier pitcher of the American League last season, to the mound for the tribe, with Luke Sewell doing the catching. Ted Lyons will probably start the hurling for the White Sox, with Manager Ray Schalk himself, receiving.

The only new face in the Indian lineup will be Bernie Neis, who will probably play center, Tris Speaker's old pasture field. Lutzke has recovered from a strained back and will be dancing around third base.

City Manager Hopkins is booked to pitch the first ball at 3 p. m.

Contest Will Boost Frank Neilson Fund; Last Tilt Of Season

Fourth Meeting of Arch Rivals Should Bring Out Big Crowd, Despite Lateness of Season; Pennsylvanians Hold Series Victory.

Frank Neilson, Bell school house pottery worker, who was injured several months ago in a mine accident, will be the beneficiary of East Liverpool's final basketball game of the season which has closed or is coming to a close, depending on the viewpoint, to be staged Friday night in the high school auditorium with the two arch rivals, Midland Collegians and the Elks lined up against each other.

The Antlers originally had planned to complete their basketball campaign against the Enoch Rauh club of the Allegheny county league which they defeated here Saturday night but agreed to respond to the appeal for aid for the Neilson family.

Neilson, who is lying on a bed in the City hospital with a broken back as a result of the accident in which he figured, is unable to support his family. Friends and others here have come to their relief and it is expected that a fairly good sum will be realized through the benefit basketball game.

The Collegians defeated the Elks in a three-game series, winning the second and third encounters, with Ray Wilde out of the local lineup.

PHILS OPENING AGAINST GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA, April 12. — The Phillies, Philadelphia's rejuvenated National league entry, open the season here this afternoon against John McGraw's expensive collection of baseball talent. Prospects of seeing the local entry work out under the leadership of the new manager, "Stuffy" McInnis, against Rogers Hornsby, Ed Roush and the other stars of the Giants, promised to draw more than the usual crowd. The weather was ideal.

Hal Carlson is scheduled to do the hurling for the Phils ,while McGraw indicated he would use Burleigh Grimes.

Mostil To Attend Opener.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Johnny Mostil will spend a strange "opening day" for a major league baseball star. Instead of being in his usual place in center field for the White Sox, playing today in Cleveland, Mostil will occupy a box at Cubs park to witness the opening clash between Chicago and St. Louis. He is convalescing from an attempt at suicide.

The opening of the American league season a year ago was featured by a 15-inning game in which Washington defeated Philadelphia 1 to 0.

"KOSHER KITTY KELLY" IS HIT

Humor and Plenty of Action in Ceramic Offering.

Atmosphere is an essential of the modern photoplay. Humor is another, and a good story, involving plenty of action, forms the third requisite. These elements have been delightfully blended in the newest F. B. O. Gold Bond release, "Kosher Kitty Kelly," which opened a three-day showing here yesterday at the Ceramic theatre.

To James Horne, the director, can be given much of the credit for the success of the picture. While he already had the story and a genuinely all-star cast to work with, many of the deft, subtle little touches that can add so immensely to the value of a film's entertainment qualities are due to his comedy genius, and the result is one of the best screen attractions seen here in a long time.

The plot revolves around the vivacious personality of Kitty, the little Irish girl, who is in love with a strapping Irish policeman. When the officer is forced to shoot and latter arrest the girl's brother, her emotions change to hatred, and she turns her affections to the Jewish doctor whose skill saves the boy's life. The policeman promptly retaliates by ingratiating himself with Rosie, the doctor's former "girl friend" and the family complications that result afford some of the keenest fun ever filmed. A thrilling tenement fire provides the exciting climax.

Viola Dana gives a delicious portrayal of the title role, and Tom Forman is splendid as the policeman Nat Carr, the well-known comedian, is at his funniest as the elderly Jewish store-keeper, and Vera Gordin, Aggie Herring, Carroll Nye, Kathleen Myers and Stanley Taylor do excellent work in the supporting cast. The original stake play by Leon De Acosta was adapted and scenarized by General Duffy.

Haskin's Letter

things about our neighbors to the south, but he also emitted a few pithy and pregnant utterances that Latin Americans have been mulling over ever since.

For example, he declared with emphasis, that the most important obligation of nations in their relations one with another is to protect aliens temporarily resident within their borders—protect them not only in their lives but in their property. The motive force of the vast exchanges in international trade, he pointed out, is the citizens of each country who must migrate to other countries for the promotion of the sale of goods which they have to offer in exchange and to produce and purchase those commodities which they require at home.

"Thus we have," said Secretary Hoover, "a great intermingling of citizens of different friendly countries. If we would keep this flow of vital materials in motion, those strangers in the midst of every country must have protection in their lives and the property which they have lawfully required. The obligation to welcome and to protect them is far higher a purpose than hospitality or merely extending them the opportunity to make money. It is a vital principle that goes to the root of modern civilization."

Mr. Hoover also called the attention of our Latin American neighbors to the fact that each of them is largely dependent upon the export of two or three predominant commodities, despite the fact that they all possess vast natural resources, and that the thing they need above all others for national development and assured prosperity is the development of those natural resources and the diversification of their production.

To effect this, he said, not so bluntly nor in so many words but none the less clearly, they had to borrow money abroad, and they would do well to bear in mind the fact that the United States is their best bet when they go a-borrowing.

What Lack of Capital Means.

Without important capital from abroad, he said, their progress must be slowed and the advancing standards of living of their peoples must be halted.

"While Europe has been struggling with its stupendous difficulties of war reconstruction and able to furnish capital to Latin America only to the extent of a total of $200,000,000 in the eight years since the great war," continued Secretary Hoover, "we have been able to respond to their requests in an undiminished supply to an extent of $1,200,000,000 or six times the amount from other sources. Thus the progress of productive enterprise in Latin America has marched without halt during the crucial years."

All of this adds up into a sum that might be regarded as a warning to certain Latin republics. Take Mexico, for instance, where a citizen of the United States was kidnapped and murdered by bandits shortly before Mr. Hoover made his speech. And where the government is so hard pressed for funds that many of its officials are working on 40 per cent pay, school teachers have not been paid for five months, and American investors have been blackmailed, or mulcted by so-called fines, or had their property rights invaded.

But Mr. Hoover was too much of a diplomat to label it a warning. Consider this, which he also said in the course of his address, as an evidence of his diplomacy:

"Our races in the Western Hemisphere with their widely differing origins, necessarily also differ widely in traditions, in laws, in customs, and in the practice of commerce. Some misunderstandings, some lack of appreciation of the high qualities and sincere purposes in each of us are inevitable despite our best intentions. But because of common purposes among us of justice and resect for right; because of our union of faith in freedom and self-government, these minor frictions should become but the experiences from which springs a better understanding of our mutual problems. It is increasing acquaintance between our people with its illumination of our mutual aspirations, our mutual desire for justice as the basis of our relations, that is the sole need for maintenance of co-operation between these republics."

And Mr. Hoover's closing words to the Latin ambassadors and ministers and through them to their governments, were:

"We are fellow travelers bound to the same destination."

"KOSHER KITTY KELLY" IS HIT

Humor and Plenty of Action in Ceramic Offering.

Atmosphere is an essential of the modern photoplay. Humor is another, and a good story, involving plenty of action, forms the third requisite. These elements have been delightfully blended in the newest F. B. O. Gold Bond release, "Kosher Kitty Kelly," which opened a three-day showing here yesterday at the Ceramic theatre.

To James Horne, the director, can be given much of the credit for the success of the picture. While he already had the story and a genuinely all-star cast to work with, many of the deft, subtle little touches that can add so immensely to the value of a film's entertainment qualities are due to his comedy genius, and the result is one of the best screen attractions seen here in a long time.

The plot revolves around the vivacious personality of Kitty, the little Irish girl, who is in love with a strapping Irish policeman. When the officer is forced to shoot and latter arrest the girl's brother, her emotions change to hatred, and she turns her affections to the Jewish doctor whose skill saves the boy's life. The policeman promptly retaliates by ingratiating himself with Rosie, the doctor's former "girl friend" and the family complications that result afford some of the keenest fun ever filmed. A thrilling tenement fire provides the exciting climax.

Viola Dana gives a delicious portrayal of the title role, and Tom Forman is splendid as the policeman Nat Carr, the well-known comedian, is at his funniest as the elderly Jewish store-keeper, and Vera Gordin, Aggie Herring, Carroll Nye, Kathleen Myers and Stanley Taylor do excellent work in the supporting cast. The original stake play by Leon De Acosta was adapted and scenarized by General Duffy.

Repaid By a Rapid Improvement.

F. M. Platie, Sec'y, Switchmen's Union, Peoria, Ill., talks: "Two bottles of Foley Pills diuretic removed all symptoms of my kidney trouble, stopping backache and pains, dizziness and floating specks, correcting irregular kidney action and clearing secretions. Foley Pills have my heartiest recommendation." Months of cold and damp weather put a heavy strain on the kidneys. Help them today with Foley Pills diuretic. A quick, improvement will amply repay you. Satisfaction guaranteed. Ask your Druggist for Foley Pills diuretic. Sold everywhere.

Haskin's Letter

things about our neighbors to the south, but he also emitted a few pithy and pregnant utterances that Latin Americans have been mulling over ever since.

For example, he declared with emphasis, that the most important obligation of nations in their relations one with another is to protect aliens temporarily resident within their borders—protect them not only in their lives but in their property. The motive force of the vast exchanges in international trade, he pointed out, is the citizens of each country who must migrate to other countries for the promotion of the sale of goods which they have to offer in exchange and to produce and purchase those commodities which they require at home.

"Thus we have;" said Secretary Hoover, "a great intermingling of citizens of different friendly countries. If we would keep this flow of vital materials in motion, those strangers in the midst of every country must have protection in their lives and the property which they have lawfully required The obligation to welcome and to protect them is far higher a purpose than hospitality or merely extending them the opportunity to make money. It is a vital principle that goes to the root of modern civilization."

Mr. Hoover also called the attention of our Latin American neighbors to the fact that each of them is largely dependent upon the export of two or three predominant commodities, despite the fact that they all possess vast natural resources, and that the thing they need above all others for national development and assured prosperity is the development of those natural resources and the diversification of their production.

To effect this, he said, not so bluntly nor in so many words but none the less clearly, they had to borrow money abroad, and they would do well to bear in mind the fact that the United States is their best bet when they go a-borrowing.

What Lack of Capital Means.

Without important capital from abroad, he said, their progress must be slowed and the advancing standards of living of their peoples must be halted.

"While Europe has been struggling with its stupendous difficulties of war reconstruction and able to furnish capital to Latin America only to the extent of a total of $200,000,000 in the eight years since the great war," continued Secretary Hoover, "we have been able to respond to their requests in an undiminished supply to an extent of $1,200,000,000 or six times the amount from other sources. Thus the progress of productive enterprise in Latin America has marched without halt during the crucial years."

All of this adds up into a sum that might be regarded as a warning to certain Latin republics. Take Mexico, for instance, where a citizen of the United States was kidnapped and murdered by bandits shortly before Mr. Hoover made his speech. And where the government is so hard pressed for funds that many of its officials are working on 40 per cent pay, school teachers have not been paid for five months, and American investors have been blackmailed, or mulcted by so-called fines, or had their property rights invaded.

But Mr. Hoover was too much of a diplomat to label it a warning. Consider this, which he also said in the course of his address, as an evidence of his diplomacy:

"Our races in the Western Hemisphere with their widely differing origins, necessarily also differ widely in traditions, in laws, in customs, and in the practice of commerce. Some misunderstandings, some lack of appreciation of the high qualities and sincere purposes in each of us are inevitable despite our best intentions. But because of common purposes among us of justice and resect for right; because of our union of faith in freedom and self-government, these minor frictions should become but the experiences from which springs a better understanding of our mutual problems It is increasing acquaintance between our people with its illumination of our mutual aspirations, our mutual desire for justice as the basis of our relations, that is the sole need for maintenance of co-operation between these republics."

And Mr. Hoover's closing words to the Latin ambassadors and ministers and through them to their governments, were:

"We are fellow travelers bound to the same destination."

EAST END

URGES RETURN TO OLD FAITH

Dr. F. A. Dearr Speaks at Holy Week Services.

That the present day church has become so impoverished as to kill Christianity in Europe and America was affirmed by Dr. F. A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church in an impassioned plea for a return to old paths and the faith of the fathers at the opening union service of Holy week in the Second United Presbyterian church last evening.

The meeting, largely attended, was presided over by Dr. J. O. Campbell, the pastor. Invocations were made by Rev. George C. Westlake, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church and James Mylar. The congregation sang "I Know In Whom I Have Believed."

The Scripture lesson was read by Dr. Dean, who took his text from John, he foundationing his discourse on the incident of Mary weeping at the Sepulchre.

"The great truths of Christianity no longer stir believers to heights of emotion," declared Dr. Dean "We have kiln-dried our hearts until they no longer respond to the sublime truths of the gospel.

"Two generations of scholarship have made Jesus a mere man in the eyes of a multitude of Christian professors while in the since interval of time historical criticism has killed Christianity in Europe and America.

"The World war has sent a wave of hate over the entire world.

Dr. Dean deprecated the fact that so called Christians now were not affected by spiritual truths. "Great congregations can sit under profound observations about God and are not affected thereby;" he opined. "They are absolutely unmoved. They are not like the women and the disciples who, seeing Jesus after the resurrection, ran to tell others about Him."

Dr. Dean declared the belief that the people must have a new vision of the Christ if they would not perish.

"We must get back to the first vsion of the cross, that which so markedly affected the early church and the deciples," he said. "They had no doubt as to Christ's deity. They saw Him suffer the deepest and most hallowed of all the sorrows that ever originated in the human heart. This burst forth at the Cross.

"People seeing Him then believed Him to be the Son of God.

"People now to be Christians must recognize Him as the Lord of Glory. Thus only can the way be paved for a return to Him.

In the final analysis the human soul wherever it is must experience personal regeneration and the new birth in Christ, the Son of God. Then will come the new version. That attained, there will be generated a love for others and the wish that they too may know Him. Spiritual impoverishment will give way in the face of such spiritual nutriment. His way will obtain in individuals, in states, in nations and ultimately the world."

The meeting tonight will be in the Second Presbyterian church. The sermon will be by Rev. George C. Westlake, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church.

4,913 Jap Earthquakes.

TOKIO.—The year 1926 was a light year for earthquakes in Japan, according to records of the Tokio Central Meterological Observatory. There were only 4.913 which was 844 fewer than in 1925. Seismologists are gratified because the records show that the number of earthquakes has been decreasing each year since the great disaster of 1923.

FOR Acid Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

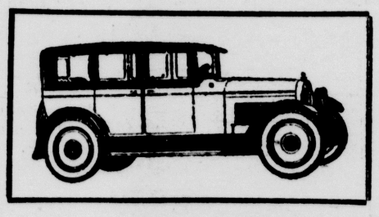

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

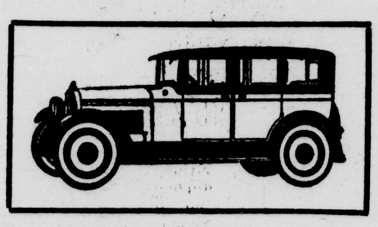

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug-store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

URGES RETURN TO OLD FAITH

Dr. F. A. Dearr Speaks at Holy Week Services.

That the present day church has become so impoverished as to kill Christianity in Europe and America was affirmed by Dr. F. A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church in an impassioned plea for a return to old paths and the faith of the fathers at the opening union service of Holy week in the Second United Presbyterian church last evening.

The meeting, largely attended, was presided over by Dr. J. O. Campbell, the pastor. Invocations were made by Rev. George C. Westlake, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church and James Mylar. The congregation sang "I Know In Whom I Have Believed."

The Scripture lesson was read by Dr. Dean, who took his text from John, he foundationing his discourse on the incident of Mary weeping at the Sepulchre.

"The great truths of Christianity no longer stir believers to heights of emotion," declared Dr. Dean "We have kiln-dried our hearts until they no longer respond to the sublime truths of the gospel.

"Two generations of scholarship have made Jesus a mere man in the eyes of a multitude of Christian professors while in the since interval of time historical criticism has killed Christianity in Europe and America.

"The World war has sent a wave of hate over the entire world.

Dr. Dean deprecated the fact that so called Christians now were not affected by spiritual truths. "Great congregations can sit under profound observations about God and are not affected thereby;" he opined. "They are absolutely unmoved. They are not like the women and the disciples who, seeing Jesus after the resurrection, ran to tell others about Him."

Dr. Dean declared the belief that the people must have a new vision of the Christ if they would not perish.

"We must get back to the first vsion of the cross, that which so markedly affected the early church and the deciples," he said. "They had no doubt as to Christ's deity. They saw Him suffer the deepest and most hallowed of all the sorrows that ever originated in the human heart. This burst forth at the Cross.

"People seeing Him then believed Him to be the Son of God.

"People now to be Christians must recognize Him as the Lord of Glory. Thus only can the way be paved for a return to Him.

In the final analysis the human soul wherever it is must experience personal regeneration and the new birth in Christ, the Son of God. Then will come the new version. That attained, there will be generated a love for others and the wish that they too may know Him. Spiritual impoverishment will give way in the face of such spiritual nutriment. His way will obtain in individuals, in states, in nations and ultimately the world."

The meeting tonight will be in the Second Presbyterian church. The sermon will be by Rev. George C. Westlake, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church.

4,913 Jap Earthquakes.

TOKIO.—The year 1926 was a light year for earthquakes in Japan, according to records of the Tokio Central Meterological Observatory. There were only 4,913 which was 844 fewer than in 1925. Seismologists are gratified because the records show that the number of earthquakes has been decreasing each year since the great disaster of 1923.

FOR Acid Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

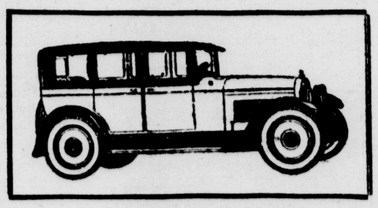

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug-store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Class War in Britain.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

BRITAIN is worried about the government's "trade disputes—trade unions" bill. It is intended to cripple the power of trade unions, limiting the extent of strike, and so forth. Britain fears the rise of a dangerous class war. Organized labor's ability to establish its own government with Ramsay McDonald as prime minister, shows the power of British labor organization, a power that in this country is scorned by both political parties.

However, Baldwin and others responsible for the British empire, know the empire cannot rule all around the world if power is divided at home. The general strike and long coal strike showed that the empire might be destroyed at home. Those responsible must fight that, even if it does mean "class war."

It is trouble at home, not rebellion abroad, that threatens Great Britain. In China the North now has the advantage over the hitherto-victorious south.

Russia is mobilizing an army to make China respect bolshevism, which it refuses to adopt. "If you won't love me, fear me," says Russia.

When British statesmen read five lines cabled from Lucknow, telling of Mohammedans praying at the tomb of one of their saints, bombed by Hindus, they know that Asia will long be busy with class war. The problem is to control class war at home, in the happy land of aristocratic and capitalistic glory.

OUR forefathers were wise, keeping national government and public schools separate from religion forbidding government to interfere with religion and forbidding religion to interfere with government or schools.

Those that would force religious control on schools or government, risk the welfare of the religion that interests them.

In Germany there is religious agitation, a clash between Protestant and Catholic churches and the republic based on a religious effort to control the schools.

To let the citizen believe what he likes and teach it to his children, at home and in his own schools, if he chooses to pay for them, to keep religion absolutely apart from government, is the safest way, especially for religion.

TWENTY-FOUR trust companies in New York City earned more than $59,000,000 in one year.

"Great heavens!" exclaims the worried radical, "what chance has the individual, competing with gigantic aggregations of money?"

Well, Henry Ford is an individual, and in that same year his net profit was $90,000,000—$30,000,000 more than all of New York city's trust companies combined.

Then, just as the good radical begins to worry about the individual capitalist, he hears that one great automobile corporation, General Mo-

'BATHTUB' WINE HOST SMILES AS HE LEAVES FOR ATLANTA

New York Theatrical Producer Says He's "Good Loser."

ONE-YEAR TERM

Convicted of Perjury in Connection With Stage Party.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Resigned to the inevitable, Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, surrendered to United States Marshal William Hecht at the federal building today to serve a term of a year and a day in Atlanta penitentiary for perjury.

Ready To "Do Stretch."

Carroll smiled when he came to the marshall's office and told reporters he was "a good loser." He will depart from the Pennsylvania station at 3:40 o'clock this afternoon with 20 other prisoners who are to "do a stretch."

Carroll was accompanied by his two brothers, James and Normal Carroll, and Thomas Rooney, confidential adviser, as he surrendered.

He shook hands cordially with Marshal Hecht. Then they chatted in low tones.

Sought Executive Clemency.

All Carroll would say to newspaperman was:

"Goodbye, boys. I'm a good loser."

Ever since he was convicted, on May 27, 1926, of his perjury in connection with the wine "bathtub" party at his theatre, Carroll has recoiled at the prospect of "doing time." He tried to obtain executive clemency at Washington recently but failed.

RUM-RUNNING LAKE CRUISER SEIZED

COAST GUARD VESSEL OPENS FIRE, WOUNDING ONE MAN ABOARD CRAFT

Surrender of Liquor-laden Boat Off Toledo Occurs When Edward Becker, Claiming to be From Toledo, is Shot Down After Failing to Answer Challenge Signal.

LEO VERMOTT, ALSO FOUND ON SMUGGLER, HELD BY FEDERAL AGENTS

Twenty-seven Cases of Whisky and 100 Cases of Beer are Confiscated From Runner Enroute From Emsburg, Canada, to Point Near Sandusky After Chase.

CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—Prospects of successful rum running between Canada and the United States this summer, if such ventures are planned, appeared at low ebb today, following receipt of details here this morning which told of the capture of a rum-runner by the government coast guard boat CG-120, on Lake Erie, about 15 miles off Toledo, last night.

The CG-120 sighted a 35-foot cruiser, federal authorities said, and when no answer was forthcoming to a challenge signal, the coast guard vessel opened fire, wounding Edward Becker, alleged whiskey-runner and bringing immediate surrender of the liquor-laden craft.

Leo Vermott and Becker, the only persons found aboard the smuggler, were brought to Cleveland, where Becker was removed to City hospital. Vermott is held by federal authorities for investigation. Both of the men claim to be from Toledo.

Bullets Speedier Than Craft.

Twenty-seven cases of whiskey and 100 cases of beer were found on board the rum runner, which Vermott declared had "shoved off" from Emsburg, Canada, for a point near Sandusky, Ohio, where they were scheduled to meet a truck.

Captain G. H. Ware, in command of the coast guard ship, asked if the cruiser, carrying the contraband liquor was very speedy, replied: "Yes it was, but our bullets were speedier."

CHINESE NATIONALISTS' HOLD ON NANKING AND SHANGHAI MENACED

Cantonese Make Frantic Efforts to Strengthen Their Position as Guerillas Launch Attack.

SHARP FIGHTING IS REPORTED

Nanking-Shanghai Train Turned Back at Soochow as Chiang Kai-Sek's Fears Attack.

WASHINGTON, April 12. — The Cantonese retreat apparently has stopped at Nanking, Rear Admiral C. S. Williams, commander of the Asiatic fleet, advised the navy department today.

SHANGHAI, April 12.—Nationalist-controlled China is in a state of ferment today, according to reports reaching here.

With serious fighting in Shanghai during the night between the Nationalist troops and guerilla gunmen of the extremist factions resulting in a number of casualties, word came today that there is internal dissension between the Nationalist left and right wings elsewhere.

Martial law is reported to have been declared in Amoy with Nationalist troops under right wing leaders making many arrests among the extremists.

Looting in Nanking.

Nanking reports state that Nationalists there are engaging in looting and the city is in a high state of excitement, due to the possibility of a northern attack. Northern planes continue to bomb Nanking and Pukow intermittently.

Raids made by the Nationalist troops against extremists in Shanghai last night resulted in the arrest of 200 prominent Communists and the capture of 3,000 rifles and two machine guns.

SHANGHAI, April 12.—Chinese Nationalists today were making frantic efforts to strengthen their position, with every indication that they are fearful of losing Nanking and with the loss of Shanghai to the northerns even within the real of possibilities.

While the northern troops are pounding the Nationalists on the northern banks of the Yangtze, the Nationalists have had difficulties within the Shanghai and have engaged in sharp fighting with guerillas in their attempts to disarm them. Thirteen Chinese are reported dead and probably 100 wounded as the result of the fight between the Nationalists and the guerillas, who have had the support of the general labor union, which the Nationalists now appear to be opposing.

The Nationalists announce that hereafter mass meetings can be held only by permission and military punishment is threatened for offenders.

Reinforcements Stream Northward.

Nationalist reinforcements are still streaming northward and there is a general concentration at Quinsan.

The Nanking-Shanghai train was turned back at Soochow today, passengers reporting the Nationalists there being in a state of nerves, fearful of an impending attack from Sun Chuan Fang in the Pan Yang sector.

Chiang Kai Shek remains at Nanking where troops and warships are concentrated, apparently with the idea of making a desperate stand to prevent the recapture of this city by the northerners.

MAYOR NAMES TWO FIREMEN, ONE PATROLMAN

Jesse C. Terrence and A. T. O'Rourke on Fire Jobs.

CURRAN ON BEAT

Milton Pelley Gets Woods' Place; Extras to be Appointed.

Two new members of the fire department who will assume their duties on April 16, and an additional patrolman who will report on May 16, in keeping with legislation enacted by the city solons, were announced today by Mayor Ralph Benedum.

The firemen are Jesse C. Terrence, Ohio avenue, son of W. J. Terrence, a captain on the department for many years, and Albert T. O'Rourke, Minerva street. O'Rourke has been a substitute for about two years, while Terrence is a former member of the department. The latter was the highest man on the eligibility list.

Milton Pelley was appointed fireman on April 1, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Patrick Woods. He, too, has been substituting for several years.

Propose Motor Equipment.

Clem Dawson and another, to be named, who follow Terrence on the eligibility list, will serve as extra firemen.

Legislation increasing the personnel of the police department, did not contain the emergency clause and does not become effective until May 7. The new member of the police force is Leslie Curran, McKee street, special patrolman for more than a year. His appointment as a regular will not become effective until May 16. Elwyn G. Shenkle will succeed Curran as a special officer.

With these additions the fire department will be increased from 11 to 13 men, while the police force will be made up of a chief, a captain and eight regular patrolmen. Motor equipment will be provided later for the use of one of the regular police officers who will patrol Maplewood, Park Boulevard, Northside and Lincoln Highway sections which were recently annexed.

Wellsville Man's Skull Fractured in Fall Down Stairway

Louis Scapino, 1774 Buckeye avenue, Wellsville, is believed to have suffered a fractured skull when he fell down a flight of stairs at his rooming house at 9 o'clock last evening. Scapino's head is said to have struck the cement floor at the bottom of the stairway. He was brought to the city hospital in the Haugh ambulance. His condition was reported serious.

DESK SERGEANT AUFDERHEIDE 27 YEARS ON "FINEST" JOB

"Aufdy," Dean of Police Force, is Still Smiling.

WORKED "WAGON"

Appointment Was Made by Late Mayor Davidson.

Henry Aufderheide, 67, dean of the East Liverpool police force, yesterday celebrated his 27th anniversary as a member of the city's "finest."

"Aufdy," as he is familiarly known to his hosts of friends, was appointed a patrolman on April 11, 1900, by the late Mayor William C. Davidson, who later became sheriff, "Tim" Thompson was chief of police. Other members of the force were the late Michael Mahoney, and Willis Davidson, now engaged in the porcelain manufacturing business in Chester.

Aufderheide was one of four patrolmen who were added to the force in 1900. The others were the late Charles Gill, justice of the peace for many years; Homer Morris, now of Pittsburgh, and Cliff Dawson who still resides in East Liverpool.

Patrolled Beat 14 Years.

When Aufderheide was assigned to a "beat," patrolmen were paid $2 per day, or $60 per month. They worked 12 hours a day and seven days per week. Now the salary of patrolmen is $150 per month and they work but nine hours a day and six days a week although they are subject to call at any time.

From April 11, 1900, to May 24, 1904, Aufderheide patrolled his "beat." When the motor patrol was installed, he was named desk sergeant. Mahoney, who was the oldest man in point of service at that time, acted as the "rear-end" man for the patrol up until a short time prior to his death in 1918.

Aufderheide and George Toland manned the motor-patrol on 12-hour shifts until the nine-hour day became effective. Now a man is available at the city hall for the patrol from 7 a. m. to midnight.

Served Under Three Chiefs.

Aufderheide has seen service under three police chiefs—"Tim" Thompson, John W. Wyman and the present department head, Hugh J. McDermott, who has been chief since 1916. McDermott joined the force on April 23, 1902 and on May 1, 1912 was appointed captain, the first man to hold this post.

Throughout his 27 years of service, "Aufdy" has been forced to use his club but once, when he "floored" an unruly prisoner who was about to attack Mahoney. He has often used his revolver in his work but never fired to hit the man he sought to capture.

When the police pension fund is made operative here, Aufderheide will be the first man to share under its provisions. The police will bring the United States Marine band to East Liverpool on October 9 for the benefit of a firemen's and police pension fund. A movement is now on foot to obtain councilmanic approval of a tax levy to finance the pension fund for members of the two departments.

PINK LINGERIE DIVORCE CAUSE

CHICAGO, April 12.—The pink lingerie found in Campbell Carrington's New York apartment was either a flannel nightie bought for his mother, or baby clothes for his grandson, he declared on the witness stand at the Carrington divorce trial today.

Campbell is accused by Col. Edward C. Carrington, millionaire book publisher, his brother, of being unduly intimate with Mrs. Carrington. The lingerie in question, it was charged, belonged to her.

Former Marietta Bank Teller Given Prison Sentence

MARRIETTA, O., April 12.—Arthur W. Fish, 33, former teller of the Central National bank of Marietta, today was sentenced from one to ten years in the Ohio penitentiary when he pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement. The state fixed the shortage at $10,310 but Fish declared his speculations total $7,900.

Fish voluntarily surrendered and confessed his shortage about six weeks ago on the day that the bank directors closed the doors of the institution. Auditors at work in the bank, have not yet completed their investigations at the bank.

The former teller told the court he had used the money in caring for his and his wife's sick relatives.

His wife and two small children were not in court when sentence was passed.

Nick Bon, Empire, Shot in Hold-up; Taken to Hospital

Nick Bon, 20, kiln fireman for the Standard Clay company, Empire, Jefferson county, was brought to the City hospital at 11:30 o'clock last night, suffering from a bullet wound in his left side, inflicted, he said, by a hold-up man.

Bon was working about the kilns at 10:30 o'clock when some one ordered him to put his "hands up." As he complied he was shot through the left side. He failed to see his assailant. His condition is not serious.

FAMILY OF SIX WIPED OUT BY FIRE

CORNING, N. Y., April 12—A family of six was wiped out early today in a fire which destroyed their farm home at Horsehead, Chemung county, 18 miles east of here.

The charred bodies of a father, mother and their four children were found in the ruins.

The victims were Amos [illegible] wife, and their children Elizabeth, Amos, Jr., and under ten years of age.

MRS. DOROTHY M'KEON, 100 YEARS OLD, ATTRIBUTES LONGEVITY TO HER "EARLY TO BED" HABIT

Retire early and be temperate in your habits, especially eating.

This rule will mean longevity, in the opinion of Mrs. Dorothy McKeon, 624 Oak street, believed to be the oldest resident of Columbiana county, who today celebrated her 100th birthday.

Mrs. McKeon was born in Belfast, Down county, Ireland, April 1, 1827, being one of a family of three children, two boys and a girl. She was united in marriage to John McKeon in 1848, when 21 years old.

Three children were born to the union. Soon after the birth of the third child, the husband and father died. One of the children died a little later. With her two remaining children and her mother, Mrs. McKeon came to the United States in 1865 to join her two brothers, one of whom resided in New York and the other at Hartford, W. Va.

She lived with one brother in New York for about eight years, then went to live with the other brother at Hartford, remaining there until he died. Then she took up her residence with her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Wood, who also resided in Hartford.

Four years ago Mrs. Wood died and Mrs. McKeon then came to East Liverpool to make her home with her grand-daughter, Mrs. S. S. Bennett, 634 Oak stret, a daughter of Mrs. Wood. Mrs. Wood was 62 years of age when she died and her sister, Mrs. Benton J. Yeager, of Mason City, was but 67 years of age when she succumbed. Among Mrs. McKeon's survivors today are 17 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Since she was a child, Mrs. McKeon has practiced retiring early and eating nothing which she knew did not agree with her.

BELLE BENNETT AT AMERICAN

'Fourth Commandment' Strong Dramatic Film.

Which commandment is it that commands children to honor and obey their father and mother?

It is a question, seemingly, that any clergyman could answer. Yet there are several answers to it, and all are different, and all are right.

That was the discovery made at Universal City when Emory Johnson started to film, "The Fourth Commandment," the picture now being shown here at the American theater.

The picture's theme is based on the relation of children to their parents, and it was written by Mrs. Emile Johnson, mother of the director, Emory Johnson, with whom she has collaborated on all his big successes.

When it came to naming the production after the appropriate commandment, however, it was found that various versions of the docologue do not agree.

Many versions of the Bible and the Mosaic law places it as the fifth, a few allot it sixth place and a great number present it as the fourth commandment.

Mrs. Johnson believes it is the fourth commandment, and bases her argument upon the version of the Bible wherein the position of the ten laws, as inscribed upon the two tablets, is given as four on the first tablet and six on the second

"The Fourth Commandment," one of the features of the Universal program of this season, has been pronounced by critics as one of the strongest dramatic films ever made for the screen.

Belle Bennett and Mary Carr share honors in the features roles, both following up their past triumphs with sincere and splendid performances in opposite mother roles. The emotional work of Belle Bennett has been especially commended.

Henry Victor, Robert Agnew, June Marlowe, Kathleen Myers and little Wendel Phillips Franklin are in prominent roles also.

IRENE RICH CHARMING STAR

There has always been a wistful haunting quality in her personality. There is a graciousness of which she is past mistress. There is unfailing poise. She has the ability to stir audiences to sympathetic tearfulness. But in "Don't Tell the Wife," she, without apparent effort, moves her beholders to breezy laughter, and that is truly a great accomplishment.

Again Miss Rich has worked in perfect harmony with Paul Stein, the Viennese, who made such a startling bit of realism, out of her last starring vehicle, the Russian story "My Official Wife." We remember having seen her several times too, with Huntly Gordon as her support. This familiarity with the manners and moods of co-players adds to the spontaneity of the performance.

Sympathetic support also comes from Lilyan Tashman and William Demarest who are cast in rift-makers in the matrimonial lute, and from Otis Harlan, than whom there is no merrier mountebank on all the cinematic roster. Stein has caught with almost uncanny vividness the air and manner of Paris and—through the glittering mazes Miss Irene moves with consummate grace and loveliness.

"Don't Tell the Wife" introduces a new Irene Rich—a merry, whimsical, ingenous and ingenious lady— a perplexed, nonplussed but forgiving lady—one calculated to remove effectually from the mind of the susceptibel Monsieur Cartier—memory of all adventurous ladies blonde or otherwise.

What's What in Washington

BY CHARLES R STEWART

FOLK WHO THINK NORRIS WORN OUT DUE FOR SURPRISE

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, April 12. — His friends have a way of referring to Senator George W. Norris softly, tenderly and reverently, as "old Uncle George."

GEORGE W. NORRIS

They say he's quite worn out with politics and doesn't mean to run for the senate ever any more. He does have aspirations in the direction of the Nebraska governorship for a quiet term or two, or three, or as long as he lives, but that's merely to "round out his career."

To hear this kind of talk, from those closest to him, you'd get an idea that "Uncle George," while undoubtedly a hum-dinger in his day, is nearly "all in" now, and mustn't rough it, as he used to could, .. he'll break some of his brittle old bones.

I KNOW for a fact that a lot of people imagine Senator Norris has reached a point where he has to be kept in cotton wool.

I know it because folks who don't know him by sight are continually turning up in Washington and asking to have him pointed out to them—since he's a celebrity— and when he is, the visitor almost invariably exclaims, "What! That him!" in an astonished tone, and goes away muttering some such thing as that he looks like as good a risk as any life insurance agent could ask.

Stories of "Uncle George's" expected retirement probably are largely responsible for giving the public a wrong slant on him. Reports that a previously very active man's on the eve of retiring naturally give rise to the conclusion that he's wearing out.

BUT mind you, "Uncle George's" retirement isn't exactly imminent. His present senate term doesn't expire until March, 1931. It's true he says he won't be a candidate for re-election, but he may change his mind. He did the last time.

Even if he sticks to his determination to let the senatorship slide, four years hence, and to go after the Nebraska governorship instead, his prospective gubernatorial program sounds rather strenuous.

It includes the wiping out of all party lines, a 50-50 reduction in the number of state officials, transformation of the legislature into a unicameral body of not more than 25 members and governmentalization of all public utilities.

This may be "Uncle George's" definition of "retirement," but it isn't most politician's—not in the strict sense of the word.

AS a looker, "Uncle George" is far from fragile.

He's 66, yes, but in an extra-ordinarily good state of repair. Sixty-six isn't so old, for a senator, anyway. At the same age, Senator Jim Reed's threatening to run for president.

The Nebraskan's tallish and large-framed, with no superfluous avoirdupois.

His get-up is prosperously farmerish, or maybe country lawyerish—that being what he is, probably the latter. He looks countrified, at all events. He suggests rural Nebraska, in short.

He chaws terbacker, if I err not.

"UNCLE GEORGE" but recently accepted the honorary—or possibly, he says, it will prove to be or'n'ary—presidency of a "non-partisan, nonsectarian" national citizens' committee to protest against North American interference in Latin American politics.

"If it's all right for us to butt in in Nicaragua," he maintains, "Nicaragua have been justified in landing marines to guarantee an orderly, honest election in Chicago the other day."

This is supposed to be the "closed season" for such senatorial sniping at the administration, but "Uncle George," who doesn't care a dern for any rules of the game, still lingers in Washington, taking a pot shot whenever he sees a good chance, whether congress is in session or not.

Honolulu's new city hall will cost $750,000.

"Play Ball!"

The salesmanship of vendors of cigars, peanuts and "hot dogs" will vie with the "Play Ball" order of the umpire-in-chief today as the lid is pried off the baseball season in the two major leagues, National and American. At 3 o'clock this afternoon sixteen teams, with eight new managers, five of the game's greatest stars demoted to the ranks of players and many impatient youths getting their first taste of glory in "big time," will begin the six-month battle for pennant honors and the right to compete in the world's series, the classic of the pastime.

Kindness of the weather man alone is needed to make opening day an auspicious one. While scandal was flowing during the cold winter, threatening to undermine the game, baseball enthusiasm was waning, but judging from interest during the spring training period a record attendance looms today. The public is satisfied the game has been purged of dishonesty.

When the boss umpire dusts off the plate, adjusts his protector and pad and then calls "Batter up," several hundred thousand fans will occupy grandstands and bleachers in eight major league cities, while millions of others, barred by distance from actual attendance, will watch scoreboards and tickers and "listen in" on radio reports as the battles progress.

And all signs indicate a close race in each circuit. In John Heydler's league, the dopesters favor New York, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Cincinnati. The Athletics, Yankees and Senators of the junior organization are conceded pennant competitors. But surprises may be sprung, for many of the so-called rank outsiders have been strengthened by trades and acquisition of minor league material.

All in all, it looks like a good year for the sport.

Unwise Slaughter

The American Ornithologists' Union deplores the general use of the word "vermin" for all birds of prey, and insists that the tendency to destroy such birds without discrimination is likely to cause more economic loss than gain.

The sparrow hawk is rapidly decreasing in numbers because of the prejudice against it. Yet a scientist of the department of agriculture who examined 320 sparrow hawk stomachs found 215 of them containing grasshoppers and other large insects, 89 containing mice and not one containing poultry.

The goshawk, the cooper's hawk and the sharp-shinned hawk, it is admitted, should be kept in check. It is dangerous, however, to endorse the slaughter of any species, because so few persons can distinguish one from another.

Many hawks do kill poultry. But often the extent of such depredations is exaggerated, and there is too little realization of compensating services. Farmers think too much of one chicken lost and too little of the many injurious insects and rodents killed.

Of 48 species of hawks, the biological survey pronounces six beneficial or wholly harmless, 29 chiefly beneficial, seven equally beneficial and harmful and only six positively harmful.

It is well to remember this. The same reasoning applies to many other birds, and to many animals generally regarded as enemies of the human race. Generally speaking, it is unwise to slaughter any kind of wild life without expert knowledge, lest the exterminator do more harm than good.

The Latest Miracle

Another scientific miracle—television is achieved. The other day Secretary Hoover, speaking into a telephone transmitter in Washington, was heard and seen simultaneously by a group in New York. It was like a combination of telephone talk and moving picture. Others spoke in turn, and the speaking faces on the screen, and the voices that seemed to come from them were true to life.

The invention, as it stands, requires a complex and costly mechanism and is not adapted for general use. Yet its beginning is no less impressive than was the beginning of the telephone, telegraph and radio. Eventually any well-to-do family may have a receiving set which will provide, in the home, musical, dramatic and oratorical entertainment now available only in public halls.

Whether this marvelous invention will be really worth while is another question. It depends on the use made of it. If it is to be used as radio is now most of the time, for the transmission of cheap and trashy stuff which dishonors the noble mechanism carrying it, the world will not have gained much.

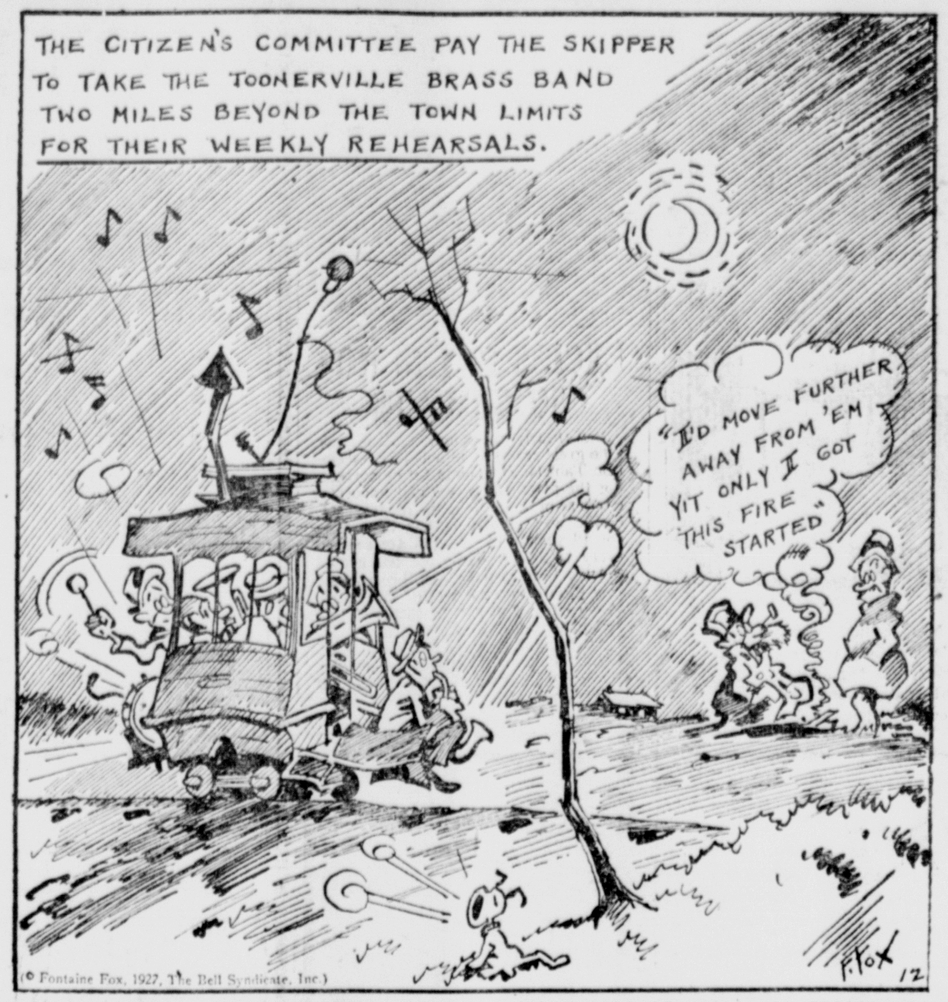

Our entertainment programs are for the most part far inferior in merit to the scientific accomplishments which make them possible. We live in an age of miracles, possessing the powers of magicians and archangels. And yet, with undreamed of possibilities for education, social intercourse and enjoyment of the fine arts, we content ourselves with the commonplace and wallow in mediocrity.

"Self-termination of peoples," is all right, but nobody ever supposed the Chinese people would be so determined about it.

It isn't any accident that the cash register was developed in America. America needed it.

THROWING LIGHT ON DARK SUBJECTS

Around the clubs where the literati of New York congregate, a popular novelist has been telling a story at the expense of his wife.

"The missis," he says, "is interested in reform movements. Not long ago she got all worked up on the subject of twilight sleep. Up at a coast resort where we stayed this summer some of the other guests found out her latest hobby and professed curiosity to know the workings of the system which was doing so much to alleviate the lot of mothers. So some of the women induced her to make a little talk to them on the subject.

"Now, my wife has never done any public speaking and the prospect rather frightened her. Still, she was game; she went through with it and delivered quite an address to a select audience.

"There was only one drawback to its complete success, and that was due, not to her lack of knowledge of the theme, but to her embarrassment. As a matter of fact, some of her hearers came away in a seeming state of bewilderment. You see, my wife's mistake was this: Every time she referred to Twilight Sleep she calld it Daylight Savings."

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 12.—Broadway seems no longer a street of hilarious antics. It has grown sedate and forbidding. A little of the old horse play will bring the police and a wagon. The other evening a group of collegiates were trundled to a station for sliding down cafe banisters.

Bringing a cabby in to dine and then galloping his nag around the block results in a night in a cell. An impromptu quartette suddenly bursting into "Sweet Adeline" brings the proprietor on the run with a threatening shush.

In other days every cafe permitted a little harmless rowdiness. Diners enjoyed it. A bald-headed man was likely to find his pate a target for a barrage of bread balls, and would retaliate good naturedly by ordering a round of drinks for the house.

Table d'hotes featuring vin ordinaire were places of easy familiarity. Patrons moved from table to table. There was understanding that everybody was merely out for a prankish evening and there was never a show of fisticuffs. Madame would leave the cashier's cage to sing.

In these days along Broadway that women do not engage in a fancied slight. A sly wink is likely to wind up in a free-for-all. In Park Avenue a gentleman was knocked down because he had mistaken a lady for an old friend.

He had gone to her table and extended his hand. Her escort did the rest, nor would he apologize when the familiarity was explained. The truth is cafe patronage has entirely changed. Denizens of the deep come to the surface at night and the cafes are their stalking ground.

They are there more for business than pleasure. They are keeping track of the latest in human dissipation and the victims thereof with a careful eye for blackmail or robbery. Innocent fun cramps their style and consequently they scowl at it Hooch, too, hasn't the mellowing quality it once had. The quality is argumentative.

In one of Park Avenue's finest mansions there is a room incongruously out of keeping with the rest of the bizarre furnishings. It has a rag carpet, an old time loud ticking clock with a nosegay painted on the door, a horse hair sofa, several willow farm porch chairs, a hanging coal oil lamp and a red carpeted brick door step. It is where the master spends much leisure time. "I'm a country boy," he says, "and I never got over it."

Divorced but friendly couples are plentiful in New York. I ran across a pair of them dining together the other evening. "We have dinner once a month to discuss the children," said the ex-wife. And added: "Also I receive my alimony check."

In a new big department store there are no counter stools, for customers and clerk are not permitted to sit down while on duty. The idea is to speed up sales. For those who grow tired rest rooms are provided with tea and cigarettes.

Harold Ross, the editor of the sophisticated magazine, The New Yorker, is an Aspen, Colorado, boy. The actor who really started eccentric jazz dancing was Frisco, born in Dubuque, Iowa. One of the kings of the Broadway underworld came from a whistle stop in Kansas. A writer who makes a living anticipating fashions for men is a product of Holt, Mo. Sinclair Lewis hails from Sauk Center, Wis. The Rialto's most blase juvenile, Jay Gould, is from Muskegeon, Mich. A director of racy, musical revues came out of Lost Creek, W. Va., ten years ago. Ben Ali Haggin, a real life Adolph Menjou, was born on a Kentucky farm. The fellow who opened the second night club in town hails from an Arkansas village. Indeed, most of our ultra sophistication came from the various wide places in the road. Even Tex Guinan baked mud pies in Austin, Tex.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Hoover Diplomacy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12. — Official and diplomatic Washington is gossiping over the possible significance of the address made by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover to the ambassadors, ministers and other representatives of the Latin American republics. Its importance, as pointed out by those who attach great weight to it, is that is in effect a declaration of the international policy of the United States with Mr. Hoover at the head of the Department of State.

It was delivered just at the time of the appearance of the circumstantial story concerning impending changes in the Coolidge cabinet. These changes, as reported, included the retirement of Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, the selection of Secretary Hoover for the important post as director of the nation's foreign relations, the retirement of Secretary of the Interior Work to become chairman of the Republican National Committee, and the naming of Dwight Morrow as Hoover's successor at the head of the Department of Commerce.

The occasion was the dinners tendered the Central and South American diplomats by the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

Why, it is asked, was Secretary Hoover chosen as the member of the president's official family to deliver the principal address at this time and on such an occasion if it were not to give him an opportunity to speak most impressively his views on diplomacy and international relations with the idea that his views were about to become of interest and importance? Why would not Secretary of State Kellogg have been the choice if his views were longer to be of importance? And, considering the close relations between Secretary Hoover and President Coolidge, is it not reasonably certain that the former did not say anything on the delicate subject he discussed that did not have the president's approval or virtual authorization?

Given Special Significance.

In view of our present relations with at least three of the Latin American Republics — Mexico, Nicaragua, and Haiti—more significance is attached to the delivery of the Hoover address before the representatives of those republics than if it had been delivered to a group of European diplomats.

Furthermore, it is noted that the address did not consist solely of felicitous phrases and diplomatic applesause. Mr. Hoover, obviously, was not attempting to walk upon eggs without breaking the shells. He was diplomatic and said a great many nice

Unmasked Men Rob Jewelry Store in Lodi.

WOMEN COWERED

Sheriff's Posse Corners Gunmen; Shots Exchanged.

LODI, O., April 12.—One bandit is dead, and three others are under arrest today, following a dramatic hold-up staged by the quartet in Max Smith's jewelry store here late Monday afternoon.

Unmasked and with guns drawn, the four robbers entered the store and, after forcing two women, who were in the store, into a corner and trussing Smith up with tape, made their getaway with approximately $5,000 in money and jewels.

D. D. Leyda, entering the store shortly afterward, discovered Smith's predicament and gave the alarm.

The women were still cowering in a corner.

A sheriff's posse, after a wild chase, finally cornered the gunmen in a wood several miles from the scene of the hold-up. Scores of shots were exchanged and during the fusillade one of the bandits known as "Jack," according to his companions, fell dead. The other three surrendered.

Part of the loot was recovered but a search is still being made for about $4,000 worth of jewelry, believed to have been thrown away by the robbers during their flight.

SPECIAL MEETS IN U. P. CHURCH

Rev. W. B. Smiley, Rochester Will Give Sermon.

Large crowd attended the opening of Passion week services last night in the First United Presbyterian church, Carolina avenue.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. W. B. Smiley, D. D., pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, Rochester, Pa. He had as his text, "Ye Who are Spiritual" from the sixth chapter of Paul's epistle to the Galatians. In his remarks he called attention to the fact that all must admit there are two classes of so-called Christians—those who are spiritual and those who are carnal. He then set forth some of the qualifications of those who are spiritual emphasizing the idea that it is the devoted spirit for which all strive. If it must come to a choice between education and training on the one hand and spirituality on the other hand his choice would be the latter, the speaker declared.

Rev. H. C. Kistler, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, Sheridan, Pa., will be the preacher tonight. He is a college and seminary friend of the pastor, Rev. W. J. H. McKnight. He is said to be a gifted speaker.

Special music will be featured at all the services this week. Duet was given last night by Miss Grace Cochran and Mrs. Ethel Higgs. Baritone solo will be rendered tonight by L. W. Bird.

LEGISLATURE IS SPEEDING WORK

Routine procedure carried both branches of the legislature through long calendars yesterday, while bills were passed and a large number of others were advanced through amendment stage.

Of the five bills which the senate passed during its session one, creating the state veterans' service office, completed its legislative journey, having been passed by the house of delegates last week. Others which the senate passed included a bill giving authority to the state road commission to regulate interstate bus lines in accord with federal law; one extending to justices of peace jurisdiction to enforce the law against disturbing religious worship; one changing fees for examination to practice medicine, and a local bill affecting the Elkins charter, to which the senate first added amendments agreed upon by the senators from that district.

Although its calendar was the longer, only three of the bills in the house were passed, the others being on the first and second readings. The bill which will permit magisterial districts to give financial aid to medical students in order to provide doctors for rural sections went sweeping through with a vote of 83 to 2, after its sponsor, Dr. Crow of Marshall county and several other members had spoken in its behalf and Delegate Sutton of Braxton county had attacked it as unnecessary. The two votes against the measure were those of Delegates Sutton and Beard of Berkeley county. The other bills passed by the house were local measures, one for a Harrison county courthouse, the other affecting state aid for the Upshur county fair.

BROOKE COUNTY MINER SHOT

Samuel Kudlow, 34, miner, employed at the Gilcrist mine of the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal company, north of Wellsburg, is in the Ohio Valley hospital at Steubenville suffering from a serious wound in his right leg, received when he was struck by a 30-30 rifle ball believed to have been fired at his brother.

Bill Sablack, alleged to have fired the shot, is in the Brooke county jail, and John Kudlow, brother of the victim; Andy Plemons and William Zeltuz, arrested on the scene of the shooting, are being detained as witnesses.

The shooting occurred Monday afternoon in a small building near the mouth of the Gilchrist mine. Sheriff R. M. Lowe was called, and his investigation revealed that all of the men in the party had been engaged in a post-payday holiday. Sablack and John Kudlow, brother of Samuel, were engaged in a personal quarrel, and Sablack, it is said, obtained the rifle and fired at John. His aim was poor, however, and the bullet struck Samuel in the right leg.

The victim has not been working for some time, only recently having recovered from injuries received while employed in the Gilchrist mine. He had intended to resume work this week.

HATTIE

By Samuel Merwin

HATTIE JOHNSON, just 17, is a somewhat colorless little girl, who works in the mailing room of a printing and bookbinding establishment. She and the office boy have been seen holding hands—otherwise there has been no romance in her life. One day a girl who had formerly worked in the mailing room comes to call. Her name is

LUCILLE OVERMAN, and she is now working in pictures. She takes Hattie to the studio where she, Lucille, is to have a screen test. Hattie there is seen by the famous director,

DE BRISSAC, who makes a screen test of her and offers her a contract. Hattie lives with her married sister,

ALICE, and her baby daughter, Eamily, and

GRANDMA, a querulous semi-invalid. They all start for California with De Brissac, who suggests books for Hattie to read to "form her mind." On the train she meets

HENRY O'MALLEY, De Brissac's head camera man. Hatties goes to the studio to find De Brissac, and he kisses her. Clandestinely, so that De Brissac will not know, Hattie and O'Malley meet and go out together. A dark little girl comes to Hattie's dressing room, saying it used to be hers. De Brissac wants Hattie to go away for a week with him on his yacht. The little gark girl comes to his office while Hattie is there and tries to throw acid on her, but De Brissac prevents her, although his hand is burned. Hattie tries to tell Alice that she can't go back to De Brissac's studio to work, but her sister tells her they need more money and that she must stick to her contract. She refuses to go to De Brissac's office again after work and mets O'Malley and goes to dinner with him. O'Malley wants Hattie to leave De Brissac and try for work in another studio. He tells her that he is crazy about her, and she promises she will marry him.

CHAPTER TWENTY.

He dropped her near the corner, and she walked wearily to the doorway behind the grocery store. She felt short of breath. It was hard dragging her feet up the single flight of stairs. She got her key into the lock (Alice had had to let her have her own key) . . . . She found herself on the floor clinging with both hands to the door knob. The thought came, oddly matter-of-fact—"I must have fainted." She got to her feet, after a moment, turned the key and entered.

Alice came out of her room, saying—

"Who was out there with you?"

"Nobody."

"What did you wait for then? I heard your key in the lock."

"Oh, nothing particular. There wasn't anybody with me?"

"What's happened?" This with a nervous insistence.

"Nothing much. Why"

"You look pretty shaky."

"Oh—I'm tired."

"You've got nothing on me, when it comes to that. I've been all over L. A. today. Nothing doing." She was following Hattie into her room. "Not a thing. They're still laying people off. Every where. . . . What on earth's the matter with you!"

Hattie had sunk to the floor by the bed. Quickly, talking excitedly at her, Alice contrived to lift her and rest her head on the pillow. Gran'ma, who couldn't at this time walk without help, cried out from her room, rapping on the wall as she did so.

"What is it, Alice? Tell me what's happened!"

"Hattie's fainted! I can't stop to talk to you now. I'll get water."

The girl's eyes opened then.

"What's all the noise about?" she asked weakly. "Can't you make Gran'ma keep quiet? . . . . I guess I must have fainted again."

"That's what you were doing outside, is it?"

"Mm-hmm." She raised herself on an elbow.

"No," said Alice sharply, "you lie still. I'll undress you. What you need is sleep. Just keep quiet now. . . . . Oh, she's all right, now, Gran'ma! I'm taking care of her. . . But what good would the doctor do? She's all right now, I tell you."

"Don't have the doctor," whispered Hattie, with a shiver.

"I don't see myself. . . . Yes, Gran'ma! Please—please! There now, you've wakened Emily up! . . . Yes, dear, Mummie's coming right away in a minute! . . . . Please, Gran'ma! . . . . All right, I'll call him up." To Hattie—"May as well call him first as last. It'll save time and nerves. She'll keep at us."

The doctor felt her pulse and made her hold a thermometer in her mouth. He asked a good many questions about her eating and digestion. Then, quietly, he asked how she'd been sleeping. He even asked about her dreams. It seemed to her that she was telling him very little; but later she heard him, out in the hall, saying to Alice—"It's a little hysterical attack. Don't take it to seriously. Of course, if you could manage a change, a month or so in the mountains. . . . oh, she's working now? Well, see that she gets plenty of sleep. I'll send you a diet for her. We must build her up. And you'd better have this prescription filled right away. It'll quiet her nerves."

Hattie, lying in her dim room, sighed. She knew that it was not her body but her soul that was ill.

In the morning, though her head was heavy, she dressed at the usual time. She heard enough about studio "overhead" to know that every hour of absence would mean extra hundreds of dollars charged against the picture. That overhead was merciless, implicable. It was always on de Brissac's mind. But he never worried, never weakened. He, too, in a by no means unpleasant way, was merciless. And then the thought came—"I'm engaged!" And with it a flutter of hope. She gazed at the wan face in the mirror; and then touched it up with rouge. She had taken lately to doing this. They all did. And very lightly she applied the lipstick She couldn't go on the lot looking like the last shade.

She had to go into Gran'ma's room for little talks before and after breakfast. Gran'ma was worried. So, too, was Alice, who looked as if she hadn't slept. Evidently the bare thought that she might have to quit work brought them both to the brink of panic.

In that same dazed and dogged way she went through the day's work. De Brissac again asked her to come to his office, as she knew he would; and again the evaded him. It would be easier when she didn't have to see him every day like this. It seemed hardly fair to conceal her engagement from him. She rather wished Henry hadn't put it that way. Though it was difficult to think how she could tell him. Hardly in words, to his face. He might be angry; and she couldn't meet his anger. Or, worse, he might take her into his arms and deliberately win her back. And then how could she tell Henry?

Henry told her, late in the afternoon, that the lawyer would dine with them. And so they drove in again to the Alexandria. He proved to be a pleasant young man with curly brown hair. His name was Wurtzel. With him everything seemed easy. He smiled repeatedly as he read the contract, and concluded with a knowing shake of the head.

"You think you can break it?" asked Henry.

"Yes. Oh, yes. We'll finish this picture. It's only a matter of a couple of days, isn't it?"

"Just a few more retakes," Hattie explained.

The lawyer thoughtfully folded the paper. "While I don't feel at liberty to give you the details, it just happens that I'm in a position to be of rather peculiar service to you. At least, I think so. I'll have to make one or two inquiries about that. But I'll tell you now that we can free Miss Johnson without any particular difficulty. I don't think they'll sue. Even if they should . . Yes, I really feel that we're safe enough. But don't you think we'd better make sure of another job for her before we spring this?"

"Here's the situation," said Henry, in his eager, nervous way—"Plantagenet Pictures Corporation have been after me for months. Of course, before Miss Johnson and I—very confidentially I suppose I may as well tell you we're engaged. . . . ."

Mr. Wurtzel smiled and bowed. Hattie blushed. Henry was ruddy, too. He rushed on with it.

'. . . . berore this I wouldn't have considered leaving de Brissac—"

"I happen to know that he thinks very highly of you."

"That's nice. But now suppose I get in touch with Aldridge Mortimer now over the phone. He's top director for Plantagenet, and I know they're working out the continuity for 'Little Nell.' Now you know and I know and Mortimer knows that the perfect type for Nell is sitting right here wtih us at this table."

Time-Saving Way of Tinting

(Copyright 1927)

For perfect tinting of dainty underwear, dresses, etc., the easiest way—and by far the best way—is the use of real dye. It tints in cold water, you know; just dip the garment and it takes whatever tinge you wish to give it. A matter of minutes.

Real dyes will get such smooth and even tones as shame the streaky, wishy-washy work of synthetic preparations for the purpose! Diamond dye in original powder form is only fifteen cents at the drug store. Do your own diluting. Then dip to tint—and you'll have an effect that's beautiful. And if you want the tint permanent, just use boiling water!

Diamond dyes do a perfect, "professional" job of dyeing, too; the druggist has sample shades and simple directions. For a book of endless suggestions, in full color, request a free copy of Color Craft of DIAMOND DYES, Dept. N32, Burlington, Vermont.

Royal Canadian Orchestra to Play For Elks' Dance

Italy may have its opera, Germany its symphony, but jazz is the distinct and undisputed product and possession of America. However, America does not mean New York city or Washington, D. C. Our native jazz has sprung up spontaneously from a dozen different territories, the Mississippi levees, the old Barbary Coast of San Francisco, and now comes an entirely new section of our continent to put in its bid for jazz fame—Canada!

The one man who is responsible for putting Canada on the modern musical map is Guy Lombardo, director of the Royal Canadian dance orchestra which will play for East Liverpool Elks April 19 at Virginia Gardens. The dance will be public.

Though of Canadian origin, the Lombardo orchestra has for years been dispensing its musical wares in these United States. It has held lengthy engagements at the Music Box and the Blossom Heath Inn, Cleveland, where it achieved considerable fame by broadcasting from Station WTAM. Recording for a big phonograph company is another pastime of this versatile and popular aggregation.

Refreshments were served.

Next Monday evening Pride of Valley Council will initiate a class.

The next club meeting will be held April 20.

INGROWN NAIL

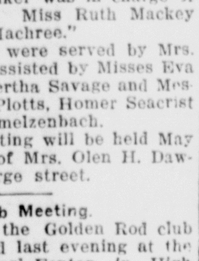

Turns Right Out Itself

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night. "Outgrow" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

BREAK PRECEDENT IN QUEST FOR HEWITT JURY

Eleven Tentatively Seat in Jefferson Courtroom.

275 QUESTIONED

Prospective Jurors Admit Having Formed Opinion.

JEFFERSON, O., April 12.—Breaking all precedent in the history of Ashtabula county, the quest for a twelfth tentative juror to complete the Floyd Hewitt jury continued here today when court opened with a sixth panel of talesmen summoned for examination.

The fifth venire was exhausted late Monday. Two hundred and seventy-five persons have been questioned and only eleven tentative jurors seated. Attorneys with years of service, say that the number is more than twice that of any preceding quota ever called into this country.

That feeling among many prospective jurors is strongly fixed in regard to the case, is evidenced by the slow progress in filling the jury box. The awfulness of the double murder has eaten its way into the minds and hearts of the majority to such an extent that apparently they can only answer in a vehement affirmative when asked if they have formed any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused.

Mrs. Fred Brown and her son Fred Brown, Jr., 5, were clubbed to death on the night of February 14, at North Conneaut. Floyd Hewitt, 16, of Conneaut, was arrested the following day, and charged with the double slaying. He is to be tried first on the charge of killing the boy.

The question is not how much the individual or the corporation earns, but how the money is earned, how the public is treated in the earning process, and to what extent, if any, individual opportunity is crippled by great combinations.

The more the individual or corporation earns the better for the country, if the earning is done on a fair basis. Great earning normally means high efficiency, cheap production, wide distribution—three things the country needs.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 12.—A $36,000,000 increase in brokerage loans, as reported in the reserve board's weekly compiliation, was made the excuse for professional selling of speculative stocks at the beginning of trading today. Industrial and railroad stocks wavered at the opening, but with the appearance of good buying demand and strong pool support prices in many sections of the market again were swept forward to heigher levels.

The market again was called upon to absorb a huge volume of profit taking, particularly in motor and specialty stocks which led the advance in the last few sessions. But moderate reactions in these stocks were more than counterbalanced by aggressive advances of International Nickel and other specialties receiving the benefit of powerful pool support.

Business and financial conditions were unchanged, and call money renewals continued at 4½ per cent., with offerings in good volume. Earnings reports of Pan American and Sinclair Oil corporations for 1926 made an excellent comparison with those of the previous year. Pan American earning about $10.75 a share and Sinclair $3.60 a share in 1926, against $1.01 a share in 1925.

A sharp reaction in Freeport Texas carried the stock back to 66 for a drop of about 8 points from yesterday's high. Rumors of a successful market coup by Jesse Livermore and other professionals were circulated in the financial district, but this did not prevent heavy selling of the stock. Texas Gulf Sulphur and other of the recent flyers also yielded to selling pressure, while Victor Talking Machine and a few of the utility shares continued to move upward.

OHIO SENATE PLANS TO HIT SLOT MACHINES

Reconsideration of Vote on De Armond Bill Looms.

MAY AMEND IT

Gov. Donahey Charged "Trickery" Defeated Measure.

By C. H. Maddox.

COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—Agreement to recess the Ohio legislature next Thursday night until Wednesday, April 20, subject to concurrence by the senate, was reached here this afternoon at a caucus of Republican members of the house.

COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—The Ohio senate is expected to reconsider this afternoon the vote by which it defeated, last week, the De Armond bill which seeks to prohibit operation of slot machines and other mechanical devices for gambling purposes.

Indications early today were that the senate will pass the bill, after amending it, and then message it over to the house.

Senator D. H. De Armond, Democrat, Butler county, who introduced the anti-slot machine bill, which was written by Director of Commerce Cyrus Locker at Governor Vic Donahey's request, presented a motion at the session of the senate Monday night that the senate reconsider the vote which defeated this bill and that the motion pend on the senate calendar.

This proposal was agreed to after Senator J. Eugene Roberts, Youngstown, and Senator C. C. Bolton, Cleveland, Republican floor leader, had seconded the motion. Roberts led the fight on the senate floor which defeated the bill last week.

Roberts Will Support Measure.

Senator De Armond's motion was submitted after the senate had referred to the senate rules committee a communication from the governor in which Donahey charged that the De Armond bill had been defeated by "trickery" such as "only the corrupt slot machine lobby would have the courage to engineer," and urged that the senate reconsider its action and then pass the bill.

Senator Roberts stated that he would support the bill if it is amended by providing for outlawing machines which "indicate gambling, directly or indirectly." Roberts said Senator De Armond had approved the proposed amendment.

"I opposed the bill as originally drawn because I believe it would legalize the operation of one certain type of slot machine used for gambling purposes," said Roberts. "I am opposed to gambling in any form.

"With the bill amended, agreeable to Senator De Armond and myself, I can give it my whole-hearted support," Roberts continued. "It is due to come up on the course of the bills for action by the senate today and I predict that it will pass."

Plan 10-Day Recess.

Legislative leaders today continued their efforts to get the work of the session in shape which will permit a 10-day recess at the end of this week. During the proposed recess, it was pointed out, the senate finance committee could complete its consideration of the Williamson bill, the regular Biennial general appropriations measure, appropriating approximately $51,000,000 for meet costs of state governmental operations during the 18-month's period beginning July 1, next. The bill has passed the house.

Returning at the end of the recess the solons would complete the work of the session in a few days, including such action as might be deemed necessary relative to any bills vetoed by the governor.

FLYER READY FOR NEW YORK-PARIS HOP-OFF

Floyd Bennett Says he Will Accomplish Hazardous Trip.

NON-STOP TRIP

He'd Rather Fly Over Ocean Than Over North Pole.

(Copyright, 1927, by International News Service).

NEW YORK, April 12.—"I flew over the North Pole with Commander Byrd and, after that experience, I'm not figuring our New York-to-Paris non-stop flight will be so awfully hazardous. It will not be an easy undertaking, to be sure, but I am confident it will be accomplished—and within a comparatively short time."

In a quiet and modest manner, Floyd Bennett, probably the most resourceful air pilot in the world, made these statements today in an exclusive interview with the International News Service in which he discussed plans for a non-stop trans-Atlantic flight to take place next month in the monoplane, "America," navigated by Commander Richard E. Byrd, U. S. N, leader of last year's North Pole expedition, with Bennett again as his pilot.

"I'd rather fly over the ocean anytime than over the pole," said Bennett, smiling. "If you come down your chances are better."

Predicts Air Line.

Bennett, a slender, athletic man with steely blue eyes, predicted that the "America" or some other airplane will fly to Paris this year and that, in about ten years, people will be riding back and forth across the ocean with as little compunction as they do today from London to Paris.

The distance from New York to Paris is 3,600 miles. Right now there is sort of a "race" between the commanders of several specially-built planes to see who will be the first to negotiate the flight.

Commander Byrd and Bennett probably will hop off next month. Commander Noel Davis, U. S. N., already has made a test flight in his giant yellow-colored "American Legion." He, too, probably will leave in May, with Lieut. Stanton H. Wooster as his aide. Cleveland Chamberlain and Bert Acosta were today making ready for a 50-hour endurance flight over New York city in a Wright-Bellanca monoplane as a test for a trans-Atlantic trip. Then, also, Charles A. Lindbergh, air mail aviator, is planning a flight to Paris. His Ryan monoplane, equipped with Wright whirling motors, is expected to hop off next week from San Diego for a test flight to St. Louis.

Seek Sustained Flight Record.

MINEOLA, N. Y., April 12.—A Bellanca monoplane, piloted by Bert Acosta and Clarence C. Chamberlain took off at Roosevelt field at 9:30 o'clock this morning in an attempt to make a sustained flight of 50 hours and set a new world record. Part of the flight will be over New York City.

This plane may later attempt the dash from New York to Paris in an effort to win Raymond Orteig's $25,000 prize. This depends largely upon the test started today.

The world record for sustained flight is 45 hours 11 minutes and 59 seconds made in France in August, 1925, by Pilots Drouhin and Landry.

Weather conditions were ideal. It was fairly warm and the sun was shining brightly.

The aviators took along as food a dozen sandwiches, two thermos bottle of coffee, two bottles of soup and a dozen chocolate almond bars.

Red Cross Worker Confers With City Chapter Members

Miss Julia Groscup, Columbus, field nursing supervisor of the American Red Cross, addressed members of the executive committee of the East Liverpool chapter at a meeting in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The meeting was preceded by a tray dinner.

Miss Groscup discussed public health nursing.

A nursing committee, headed by Dr. Edward Miskall, health commissioner, is to be organized here. Meeting of this committee will be held at the Y next Monday evening.

Explosion Blamed For $50,000 Fire In Canton Plant

CANTON, O., April 12.—Fire, starting from an explosion, believed to have been caused by a lathe machine becoming overheated, damaged the plant of the Berger Manufacturing company, early today, to the extent of approximately $500,000. Flames shooting from the lathe machine ignited paint and the naptha contents of the paint caused the fire to spread very rapidly. All fire fighting apparatus in the city was called out to battle the blaze which broke out between 3:30 and 4:00 o'clock this morning.

POSSIBLE STEEL MERGER HINTED

CLEVELAND, April 12.—A prelude to a possible gigantic merger of northern Ohio steel companies was seen here today following reports from New York, received by local financial circles to the effect that Cyrus S. Eaton, of Otis and company, and other Cleveland capitalists had acquired a large stock interest in the Republic Iron and Steel company.

A report came from Youngstown almost simultaneously which stated that Pittsburgh bankers were interested in the deal.

AMERICAN NOTE HANDED MEXICO

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The American note handed the Mexican foreign office by Ambassador Sheffield today had to do with the arrest and subsequent release of Miguel Avila, an American citizen, it was reported here today.

The state department said the note had nothing to do with the pending major controversy with Mexico over the land and petroleum laws.

She never smoked a pipe and had been temperate in all her habits.

Until two years ago Mrs. McKeon enjoyed good health. Her eyesight is failing, while her hearing is impaired.

With the use of a cane, the centenarian is able to walk from room to room in the up-stairs of the Bennett home, and about two weeks ago made her way down the stairs. She makes up her bed each morning before her breakfast is brought to her by her granddaughter.

Mrs. Mckeon is a member of the Church of the Nazarene. She has a wide circle of friends in Canton, Cleveland, Columbus and Rochester, Pa., West Virginia, who frequently visit with her.

Children who get the foods which satisfy their special needs

grow—sleep—play normally

Mothers who are constantly with their children, often cannot judge whether certain physical changes are taking place normally, or not. The changes are so slight from day to day. But they are very important.

For normal growth, there are special needs which must be liberally provided for, authorities now declare.

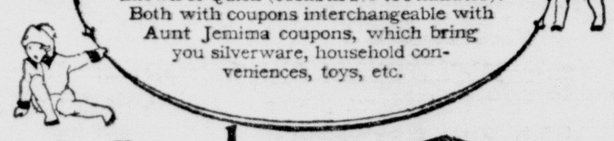

One of the most important of these needs is for an abundance of protein. It is helpful to know how much real value certain foods have. Almost one-fourth of a child's daily need for protein is supplied by a cup of Mother's Oats with a cup of milk.

Vitamins are needed, too—and plenty of minerals, if physical development is to be perfect. These also are richly supplied by Mothers's Oats with milk. And energy materials, and bran.

For Mother's Oats is a natural whole-grain food. Its careful millers take pride in using only the cream of the oat crop each year, and then milling it in special ways to preserve all the natural health essentials. Because it is milled with such extra care, it is even-textured and fine—you can count on it always to cook up to the even smoothness that you like—always to have the same rich flavor.

Two kinds—the kind you have always known or Quick (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes). Both with coupons interchangeable with Aunt Jemima coupons, which bring you silverware, household conveniences, toys, etc.

IRONDALE MAN'S MYSTERIOUS DEATH INVESTIGATED

GRAND JURORS SEEK FACTS IN SHOOTING

William Cook Found in Bed Last January.

SUICIDE HINTED

Inquiry Under Way Today in Jefferson County.

Mysterious death of William Cook on January 6 at his home in Irondale was being investigated today by the Jefferson county grand jury in session in Steubenville.

Several Irondale residents were summoned before the jury as witnesses.

Cook, a sewer pipe plant worker, was found dead in his bed at 6 o'clock on the morning of January 6 by a call boy from the plant at which he was employed. The boy failed to arouse Cook and the investigation which led to the finding of his body followed.

Cook had been shot through the temple and the gun from which the death bullet had been discharged was laying at his side.

Cook's wife, the only other inmate of the home, denied all knowledge of the shooting, asserting that she had not heard the report of the revolver.

No arrests were made in the shooting at the time, as Jefferson county authorities endeavored to determine whether the act was one of suicide or murder.

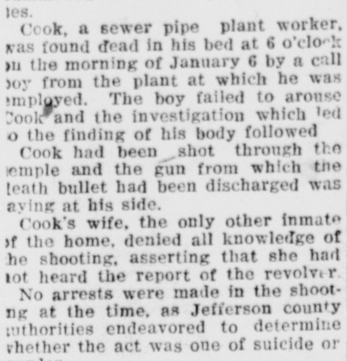

Relatives of Cook were of the opinion at the time that Cook had killed himself, but, according to Prosecuting Attorney Roy Merryman, new evidence has been disclosed which may lead to indictments.

Removed from Hospital.

REV. C. B. CONN TELLS MEANING OF HOLY WEEK

Downtown Meeting Held in Presbyterian Church.

UNION SERVICES

Rev. A. H. O'Brien Speaks Tonight in Church of Christ.

"Passion week means that the church itself shall during it obtain a new vision of the Christ," declared Rev. C. B. Conn, pastor of the Orchard Grove and Anderson Methodist Episcopal Congregations in the initial Holy interval service at the Presbyterian church last evening. The present series of meetings both downtown and in the East End is being held under the auspices of the Ministerial association.

The First Church of Christ on East Fourth street will be utilized for tonight's gathering of churchmen and others wishing to attend. The sermon will be preached by Rev. A. H. O'Brien, pastor of the Baptist church.

In the absence of Dr. Donald MacLeod, the pastor, who had been called to a Wellsville pulpit for the evening, Rev. A. H. O'Brien presided at the meeting.

The invocation and benediction were given by Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First Methodist church.

The music was under the direction of Oliver Johnson with Mrs. Harry Watkins as pianist. With Mrs. Elizabeth Burford Baker, Mr. Johnson sang, "God's Untold Grace" and later himself contributed a solo, "He Is My Saviour Now." An introductory prayer was made by Rev. Mr. O'Brien.

The Scripture lesson, which consisted of Christ's intercessionary prayer as chronicled by John was read by Rev. Mr. Conn. Upon it he based his discourse.

In his introduction of Rev. Mr. Conn, Rev. Mr. O'Brien asserted: "We in this manner of observing Holy week are endeavoring to visualize to ourselves and those without the church fold in the degree possible the open heart of the Almighty God."

Profoundly sensing the unlimited truths of the seeming incomprehensible affirmations of Christ in this his special plea for those whom he held as his personal, peculiar followers, Rev. Mr. Conn unqualifiedly bulwarked as with foundation stones his message with the assertion that "there is and must ever be a discernible line of demarcation between the true followers of the Master and those not accepting Him."

That the Christ on this occasion was praying out of the very depths of His soul, as perhaps He had never in His human character prayed before was observed by Rev. Mr. Conn. "It was a vital petition, pungent with truth and immeasurably wide in its scope," he said. "It was a high priestly prayer in that He entered the veritable Holy of Holies on the eve of His crucifixion.

"He referred to His pre-existence with God in this prayer asking that He be glorified with the glory that was His before the world was. His divinity thus was admitted by Himself, a divinity which the finite mind can not fully understand. His pre-existence indicates his previous presence with the Father, their equality and the very oneness that characterizes their relationship."

Rev. Mr. Conn referred to the prayer as one for the preservation of those whom he called his own, declaring for their sanctification, singleness of heart making for a unity in the dispensation of His Spirit and a general purpose of the evangelization of the world.

New Crops for Palestine.

New staple crops are being introduced into Palestine. Among those that are being tried out by the Palestine Department of Agriculture are nuts, flax and sunflowers, the department also giving much attention to the fertilization of the soil. This work under the department is largely directed toward benefitting the local Arab fellaheen, or peasant farmer, because the interest of the Jawish settlers are so well cared for by the Zionist organization. Because of the success of the orange shower at Jaffa last year, the event was placed on a permanant basis and a second show held recently also was well received by the large crowds it atracted.

Cast Being Selected for Presentations on Friday Night and Easter Sunday.

Don R. James has been selected to enact the leading role in the pageant, "The Dawning," which will be presented on Friday evening, April 15, and also on Easter Sunday evening, in the Wellsville Christian church here.

James has been assigned the part of the Roman Centurion who commanded the soldiers who crucified Christ and afterward became a follower of Jesus of Nazareth.

His soliloquy on the part he has played in the crucifixion and his prayer of contrition which is sung as a solo are distinctly outstanding features.

Forty others have speaking parts in the pageant and, in addition there are a large number of choruses which promise one of the most elaborate productions attempted by the church.

C. D. Platt will appear in the role of Nicodemus, George Wilson as Joseph of Arimathaea, Charles Armstrong and C. D. Henthorne as Cleopas and the other traveler with whom Jesus walked on the way to Emmaus.

The costuming is being worked out with all the color and richness customary among the orientals of the days of Jesus. Mrs. Etta Headley is in charge of preparing the costumes.

An invitation has been extended to the public by Rev. L. E. Lee, pastor, to attend the pageant presentation. The entire cast here will go to Lisbon Wednesday evening to see the presentation in the First Christian church there.

Henry Ford Enlists In Buckeye Fight On Corn Borer

SOUTH CHARLESTON, O.—Henry Ford has enlisted in Ohio fight against the corn borer in this section. The Detroit auto manufacturer who owns and operates the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton road which passes through here is selling ten foot sections of worn steel rails to farmers for less than cost. The rails are being used as drags behind tractors.

The weight of the steel rail dragging over the ground when it is being prepared for seed, breaks off the corn stubble and grinds it up, exposing the corn borer larvae to the weather and to the birds which follow the drag and eat the larvae.

Good results are obtained by this method, it is reported.

The corn is being cut close to the ground as the larvae is said to travel down to the base of the stalk for the winter.

Here's the Secret of Joyful Health

"Many years ago," says Grandpa, "when I felt older than I do to-day I made a study of how to keep fit.

"I learned that there are six salts which Nature demands for the body's healthy life. I also discovered that, because of my occupation, my body wasn't getting its proper supply of them. Every day, in fact, my system was crying out for those six salts.

"Then I found Kruschen, which contains just those six salts in Nature's own proportion, and ever since I have been able to supply my body's daily needs in the easiest possible fashion.

"It's the little daily dose that does it," says Grandpa.

Let us carry this a little further.

The bases of the six salts to which Grandpa refers are Potassium, Magnesium, and Sodium, and you feel well or ill according to the accuracy with which you maintain Nature's balance of them in your body. The analysis of Kruschen Salts, printed on every bottle, proves that they do actually make good the daily deficiency of these ingredients that millions, of men and women daily experience. Mark you—the daily deficiency.

It's the little daily dose that does it.

Millions of men and women who have adopted the healthy Kruschen habit find that the feeling of fitness, cheeriness, self-confidence and energy it produces is always with them. What is the explanation?

It's the little daily does that does it.

Every morning drop two tablets of Kruschen Salts in your coffee or tea—it dissolves instantly and is tasteless that way or if you prefer take them in a glass of hot water.

It is great to have a clear skin

A clear skin means everything to the popularity of men and women. You cannot get it with external applications. If you are unfortunate enough to have pimples or skin blemishes, in justice to your friends and yourself, you should treat the source of the trouble. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired.

Thousands have been enabled to free themselves of unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut street Cincinnati, Ohio.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tried and reliable.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

At a special meeting of the board of education of Lisbon, C. M. Keppner, principal of the Warren high school, was elected superintendent of the Lisbon schools for next year at a salary of $3,000. He was selected from a list of 25 applicants.

Mr. Keppner is 34 years of age, married, and has been located at Warren for the last six years. He is a veteran of the World war. The petition accuses the defendant of gross neglect of duty. In addition to a decree the plaintiff asks the court to restore her to her former name that of Eva Barton.

COMMISSIONERS HOLD HEARING

Not an objection was filed with the county commissioners Monday when there was a hearing on the resolution to improve the East Palestine-East Liverpool intercounty highway in St. Clair and Middleton townships.

About 15 property owners along this road appeared before the commissioners, and while they voiced no objection to the road improvement program, their conversations had to do with the amount of land that is to be taken from present tracts for new road purposes.

Many of these property owners are leaving the matter in the hands of the commissioners for final adjustment, while others have placed a value on land that will be necessary to make the road.

Some of these property owners intimated that it was their desire to have the road both graded and surfaced this year, but were informed that only grading contracts are to be awarded this spring.

275,000 Fans To Pass Through Baseball Turnstiles Today

Appeal of National Game Draws Throngs Despite "Scandals"

Ty Cobb, in Athletics Uniform, Co-attraction With Babe Ruth; Speaker to Draw Them in at Washington; Ex-world's Series Pilot in Togs of Giants; Great Season Forecast.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 12.—That bubbling, effervescent glass of champagne, which alternately pleases the palate and irritates the nostrils, will be served over the plate to the American public in eight major league cities today, while some 275,000 customers as usual will neglect to quaff in moderation and, for the day at least, will try to grow young disgracefully. Everyone has heard the bedtime story about the fellow who could take his or let it alone until after breakfast. But he was one of those strong, silent men and, anyhow, he wasn't talking about his baseball.

The appeal of the game to strong and weak, rich and poor, famous and obscure, silent and garrulous, is one of the ingrained fibres of American existence, a part of our national life that endures through the ages.

One year ago, the police of several cities were watching every passing face for a likeness to a famous burglar who had murdered rather than accept arrest. They found him at the Polo grounds sitting in at the season's opening game between the Giants and Dodgers. His typically American impulse, perhaps his only redeeming one, had betrayed him.

Game is Stronger.

So today, in spite of backstairs scandals that attempted to impugn the ethics of some of baseball's immortals, capacity and near-capacity crowds will be in every park. The lure of the game was stronger than one man's dread of arrest; it is and forever will be stronger than insinuations and innuendos that failed of proof.

Not by design but purely through fortuitous circumstance, baseball has rearranged its resources in such a way that no opening within the memory of modern man carries quite the appeal of the present one. Ty Cobb will appear at the local stadium as the co-attraction with Ruth and he will be wearing the uniform of the Philadelphia Athletics for the first time in league competition. On the same club will be Eddie Collins and Zach Wheat, also noted off-season transfers, and Joe Boley and Dudley Branom, noted minor leaguers, to say nothing of the fact that the outfit has two stars for every position.

Reserved Sections Sold.

The teams will play to the stadium's more than 60,000 capacity, if given a fair break in the weather. The reserved sections were sold to the last ticket yesterday.

Hardly less intriguing, if at all, than the spectacle of Cobb in a Philadelphia uniform will be that of Tris Speaker playing center field for Washington. Tris, generally rated as the beau ideal of all defensive outfielders, is just another of a list of notable transfers.

What, for example, could be more engaging than the prospect of watching the man who managed the present world's champions playing second base for a rival club? That, however, is exactly what will happen today when Rogers Hornsby takes the field in Philadelphia today as a member of the New York Giants, supported in the outfield by Ed Roush, previously regarded as a Cincinnati institution.

For The First Time In Years

WALTER JOHNSON

Walter Johnson, king of American league pitchers, will not be in shape to take his turn in the box when the big circuits open their respective campaigns today. An injury to his ankle forced him to discontinue spring training and retarded his conditioning.

Eight New Managers.

Their appearance with the Giants meant the passing of Frank Frisch to St. Louis and George Kelly to Cincinnati, by which once against the public's desire to see old friends in new surroundings was served.

The clubs that haven't new stars are satisfied with what they had and those that weren't, lost no time in getting new managers. Of these, there are eight in all—Donie Bush, of the Pirates; Ray Schalk, of the White Sox; Bill Carrigan, Boston idol who returns to the Red Sox; George Moriarty, of the Tigers; Dan Howley, of the Browns; Stuffy McInnis, of the Phillies; Jack McCallister, of the Indians, and Bob O'Farrell, of the champion Cardinals.

No, it doesn't seem possible that this, of all baseball inaugurals, can miss. It already has everything that a good show needs, except the customary loss of life among female grandparents and a dash of good weather.

"ALL-STAR" PUGS AWAITING BELL

CHICAGO, April 12.—The four principals in Promoter Jim Mullen's "all star" boxing show at the Coliseum tonight finished training "without a scratch and were lounging about their quarters today awaiting the call to battle.

They include Dave Shade and Phil Krug, who are scheduled for ten rounds at 158 pounds, and Bill Petrolle, the "Fargo Express" and King Tut of Minneapolis, who will step ten rounds at 135 pounds.

Although the Shade-Krug affair is billed as the windup, there is as much or more interest in the King Tut-Petrolle match. The king, who has built quite a "rep" on the Pacific coast has never appeared here and local fans are eager to see his wares.

If Shade makes an impressive showing against Krug, he has the promise of a championship fight with Micky Walker here this summer.

ZYBSZKO TOSSED BY JOE STECHER

NEW YORK, April 12. — Another scalp dangled today at the belt of Joe Stecher, claimant to the heavyweight wrestling title. The Nebraskan threw Wladek Zbyszko with a backdrop after 45 minutes of wrestling here last night. Ray Steel, California collegian, was pinned to the mat by Jim Londos in 36 minutes, 41 seconds. Londos threw Steele over his head five times with flying mares and the collegian had to be carried to his corner at the end.

Wally Pipp Absent.

CINCINNATI, O., April 12. — With Wally Pipp absent from his keystone sack station as a result of illness, the Reds were on the eve of an opening game with the Pirates facing a rain forecast today. George Kelly probably will be shifted to first, and Pittenger, a recruit, to second. Pete Donohue will essay to turn in his fourth opening game victory, opposing Ray Kremer, Pirate ace.

Jess Petty pitched the opening game for the Brooklyn Robins last year and held the New York Giants to one hit.

The Sports Hall of Fame

Nominating BUD TAYLOR.

BECAUSE he is one of the leading bantamweights of the game today.

Because there has been a sneaking suspicion for a couple of years that he is the best of the lot.

Because he has won a place in the sun despite handicaps and hard luck that would check the average fighter's hopes.

Because a broken shoulder halted his career at the time when he seemed destined to "arrive" and probably kept him out of the title when it was changing hands every 24 hours in New York.

Because he is one of the sporting celebrities adding to Indiana's fame in the world of wetters, left hooks and basketball.

Because he risked what claim he had to the title in a battle with Tony Canzoneri and might have cleared said claim, but for one of those funny decisions which made it a draw.

And because his sorrow is to be lessened shortly by a return bout in New York—at double the proceeds.

WANTS MALONEY FOR RISKO BOUT

NEW YORK, April 12.—Trouble loomed for Promoter Tex Rickard today in the threat of Walter Taylor, Cleveland promoter, to invoke the law in an effort to force Jimmy Maloney to go through with a Johnny Risko fight in Cleveland before May 1.

Taylor had Maloney and Risko signed up for a February battle when Rickard came along with the Jack Delaney match at the Garden.

Maloney begged off in Cleveland, promising to go back there this month to tangle with Risko. However, Rickard shudders at the idea of subjecting his heavyweight bric-a-brac to the bulling of the Cleveland strong boy. Maloney and Jack Sharkey are set for a $500,000 fight at the Yankee stadium on May 19 and Tex insists that neither shall engage in any preliminary glove flirtations.

BREEZES FAIL TO COOL FANS' ARDOR

BOSTON, April 12. — Chilly blasts swept across Braves field today but failed to cool the ardor of baseball fans for the opening game of the major league season here, between the Braves and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Pitchers selected were: Jess Petty for Brooklyn and Bob Smith for Boston.

Elks and Midland Cage Teams to Play Benefit Here Friday

Former Newell Youth Lining Up With Bucs

CLYDE BARNHART HERMAN LAYNE

Donie Bush, new Pirate manager, isn't worrying about his pitching or offensive strength, but he has at least one problem to solve — picking the third man for his outfield and a second baseman.

And his choice, it appears, lies between Herman Lane, a former Newell boy, and Clyde Barnhart.

Lane is well known in Newell and East Liverpool, where he made many friends back in 1916 when he was sponging cups for Jim Reese and Otto Newlen in the pottery league.

He banged the ball at a .350 clip for Toronto of the International league last season and is expected to produce many timely base hits for the Bucs this season.

Lane and his brother, Harry, who is the property of the St. Louis Nationals, came here from New Haven, W. Va. They spent a year or more here and then went to Canton where Herman really got his baseball start with a Canton professional outfit. From there he went to North Carolina and later was picked up by Detroit. Detroit let him go to Toronto of the International loop where he proceeded to hammer the ball all over the lot. He is a fast man on the bases and a strong defensive outgardener.

Lane visited with William Townley and family, in Newell, for several days prior to the start of the spring training season.

Flag Chances

By Connie Mack, Manager Philadelphia Athletics.

MACK

I FEEL younger this spring than I have in years. My ball club is responsible. After all of those losing years I feel like I am starting a new chapter in my managerial career. I cannot say too many kind things about my boys — that's what they are, my boys — Ty, Eddie Collins, Zack Wheat, and all of them. I did not ask for any of the credit when I was winning pennants, and I do not want any if my team goes over this year. I am not going to say we will win. I have been at this game too long to become so bold so early in the season. I'll know more about my chances next September. I'll have no complaint to make if I lose. I tried to rebuild my team up to the top in purchasing the players I did during the winter, and I honestly believe I have as good a chance as anybody in the league. I am satisfied with my pitching staff, my catchers, my infield and my outfield. I wouldn't change a single position or trade with anybody in the league. If they beat this team I won't know which way to turn next winter to improve what I have.

ALEX ASKS TO WORK TODAY

Would Rather Beat Cubs Than Eat, he Says.

CHICAGO, April 12.—If the weather man is kind, Chicagoans to the number of 40,000 are expected to turn out today for the opening of the National league season at Cubs park.

These figures are compiled on the basis of advance ticket sales, which has been one of the heaviest on record. Weather indications, however, are that it may be either snowing or raining at game time.

The game will give the fans their first glimpse of McCarthy's 1927 pennant hopes and the re-vamped world championship team from St. Louis.

Charlie Root, who bore the brunt of the Cubs' mound work last season, is slated to open against the veteran Grover Cleveland Alexander, who labored so many years in Bruin orgery.

The great Alex, usually slow to develop owing to his advanced age, is said to have asked his old battery mate, Bob O'Farrell now manager of the Cardinals for the opening assignment against the Cubs.

"I'd rather beat that team than eat," smiled Alex, "and everybody knows I never miss a meal."

Alexander, the outstanding hero of last season's world's series, was given his walking papers by McCarthy after he allegedly persisted in breaking training rules.

Ban Will Stick To Work.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league, for the first time in many years will not attend an opening game, he announced today. He will spend today at work in his office, he said, in an effort to catch up after his three months' vacation.

Nowadays very few of the prominent boxers have cauliflower ears. The reason is that they avoid the punishment usually welcomed by the old-time battlers who were willing to take several blows in order to land one.

Uhle, Lyons Hurl For Tribe and Sox

Bernie Neis Will Probably Play in Speaker's Place.

CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—Greeted by clear skies, the Speakerless Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox, minus Eddie Collins, open the American League season here today—if it doesn't rain.

Although the weatherman has predicted showers, there was no sign of threatening clouds this morning.

Jack McCallister, the new Indian chief, is expected to send George Uhle, premier pitcher of the American League last season, to the mound for the tribe, with Luke Sewell doing the catching. Ted Lyons will probably start the hurling for the White Sox, with Manager Ray Schalk himself, receiving.

The only new face in the Indian lineup will be Bernie Neis, who will probably play center, Tris Speaker's old pasture field. Lutzke has recovered from a strained back and will be dancing around third base.

City Manager Hopkins is booked to pitch the first ball at 3 p. m.

Contest Will Boost Frank Neilson Fund; Last Tilt Of Season

Fourth Meeting of Arch Rivals Should Bring Out Big Crowd, Despite Lateness of Season; Pennsylvanians Hold Series Victory.

Frank Neilson, Bell school house pottery worker, who was injured several months ago in a mine accident, will be the beneficiary of East Liverpool's final basketball game of the season which has closed or is coming to a close, depending on the viewpoint, to be staged Friday night in the high school auditorium with the two arch rivals, Midland Collegians and the Elks lined up against each other.

The Antlers originally had planned to complete their basketball campaign against the Enoch Rauh club of the Allegheny county league which they defeated here Saturday night but agreed to respond to the appeal for aid for the Neilson family.

Neilson, who is lying on a bed in the City hospital with a broken back as a result of the accident in which he figured, is unable to support his family. Friends and others here have come to their relief and it is expected that a fairly good sum will be realized through the benefit basketball game.

The Collegians defeated the Elks in a three-game series, winning the second and third encounters, with Ray Wilde out of the local lineup.

TIGERS IN FINE TRIM FOR OPENER

ST. LOUIS, April 12.—Whitehill and Bassler and Zachary and Ogden are to be the respective batteries for the Tigers and Browns today. The Tigers are in fine condition while the Browns are handicapped by injuries.

PHILS OPENING AGAINST GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA, April 12. — The Phillies, Philadelphia's rejuvenated National league entry, open the season here this afternoon against John McGraw's expensive collection of baseball talent. Prospects of seeing the local entry work out under the leadership of the new manager, "Stuffy" McInnis, against Rogers Hornsby, Ed Roush and the other stars of the Giants, promised to draw more than the usual crowd. The weather was ideal.

Hal Carlson is scheduled to do the hurling for the Phils, while McGraw indicated he would use Burleigh Grimes.

Mostil To Attend Opener.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Johnny Mostil will spend a strange "opening day" for a major league baseball star. Instead of being in his usual place in center field for the White Sox, playing today in Cleveland, Mostil will occupy a box at Cubs park to witness the opening clash between Chicago and St. Louis. He is convalescing from an attempt at suicide.

The opening of the American league season a year ago was featured by a 15-inning game in which Washington defeated Philadelphia 1 to 0.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

THE opening of the baseball season automatically ends the open season on pennant predictions, of course. It isn't ethical to pick the winners after the race starts—although sharpshooters sometimes get away with that in horse racing by means of handy wires.

The number and variety of predictions made on the major league scramble this season are as great as ever—and show just as much diversion of opinion.

However, all those who made public predictions have one thing in common. They will probably come in for more criticism than those who did'nt.

For two reasons.

First, because the hunch player stands almost as much chance—in a field of 16, of picking two winners.

Second, because those who made their predictions publicly, must stick by 'em.

New fangled ideas in "picking" the winners have come into vogue. One writer of note selects a group of three teams to fight it out for the pennant in each league.

This is a good idea, except for the fact that he will look much worse if he misses on all three guesses than he would on the one guess, had he named one choice. And naming three of a possible eight as possible pennant winners makes the matter of prediction a more conservative act.

Personally I would just as soon forget the annual practice, but as long as all my personal friends nad acquaintances expect me to get out on a limb—and often force me to—I feel the others are interested in seeing me go wrong as well.

Dispatches from Berlin say that German police are planning to checkmate an expected outburst of the Communists, slated for the occasion of the first appearance of Bill Tilden, tennis wizard, during his tour of Europe, which opens in Germany.

Just why the Reds should pick the day on which Tilden performs is a mystery. Tilden is the leading exponent of "direct action on the tennis courts today. Ask the myriad of tennis stars who tried to halt him during six years—the six he held the national title and carried the Davis Cup team.

As a matter of fact, Tilden's presence has nothing to do with the proposed demonstration. It so happens that the Reds plan the uprising to neutralize the effect of a "holiday" to be staged by the Nationalists.

"KOSHER KITTY KELLY" IS HIT

Humor and Plenty of Action in Ceramic Offering.

Atmosphere is an essential of the modern photoplay. Humor is another, and a good story, involving plenty of action, forms the third requisite. These elements have been delightfully blended in the newest F. B. O. Gold Bond release, "Kosher Kitty Kelly," which opened a three-day showing here yesterday at the Ceramic theatre.

To James Horne, the director, can be given much of the credit for the success of the picture. While he already had the story and a genuinely all-star cast to work with, many of the deft, subtle little touches that can add so immensely to the value of a film's entertainment qualities are due to his comedy genius, and the result is one of the best screen attractions seen here in a long time.

The plot revolves around the vivacious personality of Kitty, the little Irish girl, who is in love with a strapping Irish policeman. When the officer is forced to shoot and latter arrest the girl's brother, her emotions change to hatred, and she turns her affections to the Jewish doctor whose skill saves the boy's life. The policeman promptly retaliates by ingratiating himself with Rosie, the doctor's former "girl friend" and the family complications that result afford some of the keenest fun ever filmed. A thrilling tenement fire provides the exciting climax.

Viola Dana gives a delicious portrayal of the title role, and Tom Forman is splendid as the policeman. Nat Carr, the well-known comedian, is at his funniest as the elderly Jewish store-keeper, and Vera Gordin, Aggie Herring, Carroll Nye, Kathleen Myers and Stanley Taylor do excellent work in the supporting cast. The original stake play by Leon De Acosta was adapted and scenarized by General Duffy.

Haskin's Letter

things about our neighbors to the south, but he also emitted a few pithy and pregnant utterances that Latin Americans have been mulling over ever since.

For example, he declared with emphasis, that the most important obligation of nations in their relations one with another is to protect aliens temporarily resident within their borders—protect them not only in their lives but in their property. The motive force of the vast exchanges in international trade, he pointed out, is the citizens of each country who must migrate to other countries for the promotion of the sale of goods which they have to offer in exchange and to produce and purchase those commodities which they require at home.

"Thus we have," said Secretary Hoover, "a great intermingling of citizens of different friendly countries. If we would keep this flow of vital materials in motion, those strangers in the midst of every country must have protection in their lives and the property which they have lawfully required. The obligation to welcome and to protect them is far higher a purpose than hospitality or merely extending them the opportunity to make money. It is a vital principle that goes to the root of modern civilization."

Mr. Hoover also called the attention of our Latin American neighbors to the fact that each of them is largely dependent upon the export of two or three predominant commodities, despite the fact that they all possess vast natural resources, and that the thing they need above all others for national development and assured prosperity is the development of those natural resources and the diversification of their production.

To effect this, he said, not so bluntly nor in so many words but none the less clearly, they had to borrow money abroad, and they would do well to bear in mind the fact that the United States is their best bet when they go a-borrowing.

What Lack of Capital Means.

Without important capital from abroad, he said, their progress must be slowed and the advancing standards of living of their peoples must be halted.

"While Europe has been struggling with its stupendous difficulties of war reconstruction and able to furnish capital to Latin America only to the extent of a total of $200,000,000 in the eight years since the great war," continued Secretary Hoover, "we have been able to respond to their requests in an undiminished supply to an extent of $1,200,000,000 or six times the amount from other sources. Thus the progress of productive enterprise in Latin America has marched without halt during the crucial years."

All of this adds up into a sum that might be regarded as a warning to certain Latin republics. Take Mexico, for instance, where a citizen of the United States was kidnapped and murdered by bandits shortly before Mr. Hoover made his speech. And where the government is so hard pressed for funds that many of its officials are working on 40 per cent pay, school teachers have not been paid for five months, and American investors have been blackmailed, or mulcted by so-called fines, or had their property rights invaded.

But Mr. Hoover was too much of a diplomat to label it a warning. Consider this, which he also said in the course of his address, as an evidence of his diplomacy:

"Our races in the Western Hemisphere with their widely differing origins, necessarily also differ widely in traditions, in laws, in customs, and in the practice of commerce. Some misunderstandings, some lack of appreciation of the high qualities and sincere purposes in each of us are inevitable despite our best intentions. But because of common purposes among us of justice and resect for right; because of our union of faith in freedom and self-government, these minor frictions should become but the experiences from which springs a better understanding of our mutual problems. It is increasing acquaintance between our people with its illumination of our mutual aspirations, our mutual desire for justice as the basis of our relations, that is the sole need for maintenance of co-operation between these republics."

And Mr. Hoover's closing words to the Latin ambassadors and ministers and through them to their governments, were:

"We are fellow travelers bound to the same destination."

EAST END URGES RETURN TO OLD FAITH

Dr. F. A. Dean Speaks at Holy Week Services.

That the present day church has become so impoverished as to kill Christianity in Europe and America was affirmed by Dr. F. A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church in an impassioned plea for a return to old paths and the faith of the fathers at the opening union service of Holy week in the Second United Presbyterian church last evening.

The meeting, largely attended, was presided over by Dr. J. O. Campbell, the pastor. Invocations were made by Rev. George C. Westlake, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church and James Mylar. The congregation sang "I Know In Whom I Have Believed."

The Scripture lesson was read by Dr. Dean, who took his text from John, he foundationing his discourse on the incident of Mary weeping at the Sepulchre.

"The great truths of Christianity no longer stir believers to heights of emotion," declared Dr. Dean "We have kiln-dried our hearts until they no longer respond to the sublime truths of the gospel.

"Two generations of scholarship have made Jesus a mere man in the eyes of a multitude of Christian professors while in the since interval of time historical criticism has killed Christianity in Europe and America.

"The World war has sent a wave of hate over the entire world.

Dr. Dean deprecated the fact that so called Christians now were not affected by spiritual truths. "Great congregations can sit under profound observations about God and are not affected thereby;" he opined. "They are absolutely unmoved. They are not like the women and the disciples who, seeing Jesus after the resurrection, ran to tell others about Him."

Dr. Dean declared the belief that the people must have a new vision of the Christ if they would not perish.

"We must get back to the first vision of the cross, that which so markedly affected the early church and the deciples," he said. "They had no doubt as to Christ's deity. They saw Him suffer the deepest and most hallowed of all the sorrows that ever originated in the human heart. This burst forth at the Cross.

"People seeing Him then believed Him to be the Son of God.

"People now to be Christians must recognize Him as the Lord of Glory. Thus only can the way be paved for a return to Him.

In the final analysis the human soul wherever it is must experience personal regeneration and the new birth in Christ, the Son of God. Then will come the new version. That attained, there will be generated a love for others and the wish that they too may know Him. Spiritual impoverishment will give way in the face of such spiritual nutriment. His way will obtain in individuals, in states, in nations and ultimately the world."

The meeting tonight will be in the Second Presbyterian church. The sermon will be by Rev. George C. Westlake, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church.

4,913 Jap Earthquakes.

TOKIO.—The year 1926 was a light year for earthquakes in Japan, according to records of the Tokio Central Meterological Observatory. There were only 4,913 which was 844 fewer than in 1925. Seismologists are gratified because the records show that the number of earthquakes has been decreasing each year since the great disaster of 1923.

FOR Acid Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

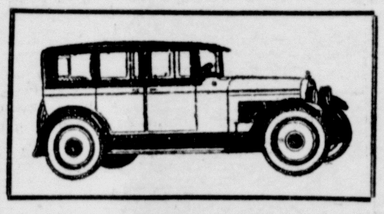

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drugstore. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.
